The groom, who formerly lived in Alliance and is now living at Sedalia, Mo., where they will make their home, arrived the same day from the east. He is employed as a boilermaker at Sedalia on the Missouri Pacific line.

The couple left on the midnight train for a honeymoon trip, ending up at Sedalia, which will be their future home. The bride will be missed at the telephone office in Alliance, where she was employed and where she has been a very efficient operator.

INTERESTING OPEN LETTER TO PARENTS

Superintendent Weidenhamer Gives Advice Through The Herald Parents Should Heed

CHILDREN SHOULD ALSO READ

Supt. W. M. Weidenhamer sends The Herald the following "Open Letter to Parents", which not only contains a lot of good advice, but contains a large amount of information that all our readers, whether parents or not, will find very interesting. We hope every reader of this paper will read it:

An Open Letter to Parents

I presume it is pretty well known by the public that our company is trying by every available means to lessen the number of opportunities for railroad accidents to occur. But it is not well known by the public that the persons most frequently killed on the railroad are not passengers, not railroad employes, not persons having any legitimate business on railroad premises.

I refer to the fact, published in the reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission, that about sixty per cent, or more than half, of all the people killed on the railroads of this country are trespassers—men, women and children who have no right to be on property of the railroads, but who nevertheless jump on our cars, walk and not infrequently sleep on our tracks and use our bridges as thoroughfares.

Every day about 14 of these people are being killed somewhere on the railroads of the United States, 5,000 or more are being killed this year. 50,000 have been killed in the last 10 years. This is comparable to the slaughter of war; it is truly appalling. But let me point out again that these people had no right to be on the railroads; they were trespassers, whose presence on the property was unlawful, and for whose safety the railroads can not possibly be responsible.

And who are these trespassers who are being killed with such incredible frequency? Are they just hobos and bums? Not all, by any means. Only ten per cent of the trespassers killed are of the tramp class. Seventy per cent are reputable people, many of them workmen going to or from work—well-to-do, respected useful citizens. TWENTY PERCENT ARE CHILDREN UNDER 14 YEARS OLD.

Today, somewhere in this country, two or three little children have been killed playing around tracks and cars. So it was yesterday, so it will be tomorrow, and so it averages day in and day out all the year round. The railroads and their employes are not careless to the sorrow caused in this way; on the contrary, they are doing all they can to avoid these the saddest of all accidents. There is not a switchman in our yards who has not time and again admonished children against the danger of jumping cars, not one who does not dread the ever present possibility of having to lift some broken little body from under the car wheels. All that we railroad men can do about it, however, is very little. Children continue to come every day to our yards to play on the tracks, to hop on the cars, and all too often to meet with disaster because it is impossible for us to keep them all away or to keep an eye on every one of them. Now, it is bad enough to run over grown-up trespassers, but cannot SOME-

THING be done to stop killing and crippling children?

It seems to me something CAN be done. I feel that the parents of this city should be frankly told about the situation and their interest appealed to in the matter of keeping children away from the company's grounds, except when they are legitimately called there.

I regret that now and then some get an erroneous understanding that children are driven away from the tracks because they might pick up a little scattered coal or a few bits of kindling; but I do not think that idea is general. We want to save our coal, but much more do we want to SAVE THE BOYS (and the girls too) from MUTILATION and DEATH and to SAVE THE PARENTS FROM SORROW. For this purpose I hope we may obtain the co-operation of the officers, the citizens and of EVERY PARENT in this city. Unless we get this, and especially unless parents do their duty in this important matter, eventually some one's boy or girl will pay the penalty with broken limbs or possibly the loss of life.

This is not an appeal on the mere fact that the laws should be enforced. It is true that the law against trespassing, especially trespassing by children, stronger than any law. Are the legs and arms, and even the lives of little children too high a price to be paid for what fun there may be in playing on the tracks or jumping on and off moving cars? Mothers and fathers, if YOU think so, that will be law enough; for the remedy is in your hands, and you can prevent the maiming and killing of these little ones—NO one else can do it—by forbidding them from coming on the railroad tracks and especially from jumping on and off the cars.

W. M. WEIDENHAMER, Superintendent, C. B. & Q.

POPULAR ALLIANCE TRAVELING MAN WILL MARRY

Invitations have been received by a number of Alliance friends of Arthur E. Brown, an Alliance traveling man, for his marriage on December 11th to Miss Winifred E. Kibbe, of Henry, Nebraska. Miss Kibbe is a former school teacher of Morrill, Nebraska, and the daughter of A. P. Kibbe, a wealthy Henry merchant and owner of several western Nebraska farms and ranches.

The invitations read as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Kibbe invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter, Winifred E., to Mr. Arthur E. Brown, on Wednesday evening, December 11th, at eight o'clock, 1912, at Henry, Nebraska. At home after January 1st, 1913, Alliance, Nebraska."

Mr. Brown is employed by Raymond Brothers & Clarke, the wholesale grocery of Lincoln.

Mrs. Dr. Churchill recently received a letter from her mother, Mrs. E. C. Eastgate, who had gone from New York to Nashville, Tenn., to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. G. A. Clark. Mrs. Eastgate enjoys spending her winters in Tennessee, but does not forget Alliance and Box Butte county, Nebraska, where she has many friends.

Mrs. Wood E. Milliken of McGrew, Neb., made a very pleasant visit at the home of her mother, Mrs. C. D. Hall, in Alliance, from Wednesday of last week until Tuesday of this week. She was accompanied by her little son, Eugene.
