Avoid Risk Without Risk

Avoid risking what may result from a neglected cough by using Rexall Cherry Bark Cough Syrup for its relief. You risk nothing whatever when you try it, because we sell each and every bottle with the positive guarantee that it will give relief, or money back.
Can anything be more fair than this? Can you afford to experiment with other remedies—most of which are not guaranteed—in view of this honest offer?

When we say that Rexall Cherry Bark Cough Syrup is in our opinion the best on the market for all kinds of coughs, we say it because we do know that it is made of the purest ingredients obtainable, and that it contains remedial agents that in the opinion of medical experts are the most effective for the relief of coughs and the irritation and inflammation of the bronchial tubes.

Children like Rexall Cherry Bark Cough Syrup because it is pleasant to take. Remember that we guarantee it to satisfy you, or money back. Prices, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold in this community only at our store—the Rexall Store—F. E. Holsten. 18-11-9-11

HEMINGFORD

Interesting, Snappy News of Our Sister City

By Special Correspondent

A. L. Powell, of Canton, was a city visitor Thursday.

Mrs. F. W. Hucke was an Alliance visitor on Tuesday.

Miss Della M. Reed, visited Hemingford Tuesday on county school affairs.

G. C. Wright and family, of Billings, arrived Tuesday to make a visit with Harvey Keister.

Editor A. E. Clark of The Journal, was a west visitor on Monday, returning on 44 Tuesday.

The Epworth League young people of the Methodist church will give a table social on Friday, the 21st, at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Klenke were called to Snyder, Nebr., last Friday on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Klenke's mother.

John Anderson, formerly our popular druggist here, but now located at New Castle, Wyo., made a visit of several days with old friends here.

Clarence Carrell recently returned from Oklahoma and Texas points, where he disposed of several cars of the famous Box Butte studs.

B. E. Johnson has reached his destination, Palm Beach, Florida, where he expects to bask in the sunshine of magnolia and orange blossoms for awhile.

Mrs. Robert Ashford, who was until recently confined to her bed because of a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism, is now able to be around.

Well, election is over again and returns indicate a very close margin for the "ayes" and the "noes" both claim a victory.

A baby boy visitor came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wolf on Saturday, Feb. 15th. All are doing nicely and we sincerely hope he will have a long and happy existence.

A bountiful fall of the beautiful has given chase to our poetic thots of romping gambolling lambs and budding dandelions and we are back to the coal bin, as of yore.

Miss Fanny Dewob, president of the Rebekah Assembly, of Coleridge, Nebraska, was a Hemingford visitor on Monday, and participated in an initiation of the Rebekah's that evening.

"Why Jones Left Home", a popular comedy, will be given at the opera house March 17th, by the Epworth Dramatic Club. If they maintain their usual high standard of ability there certainly is an exceptional treat in store for Hemingford.

Professor Hardy W. Campbell, the soil expert, will lecture at the opera house tonight on a scientific handling of the soil. He will also endeavor to have nearby farmers of this vicinity cultivate ten acres each according to his methods, so that he can more easily prove his idea by having convenient supervision. The experiment is certainly worthy of the cause and it is hoped that experimenters will not be lacking.

Our recent fire has been the source of much animated discussion during the past week, the bulk of which has been the demonstrate success of our water system and the magnificent work of the fire boys. The conditions were ripe for a serious conflagration had not these two features been so pronounced. There is now no question that the fireboys' organization will be given the recognition it richly deserves.

Sloyd's Column

THE ARTICLE

is from The Herald's Saturday morning extra edition and reads as follows:

WONDERFUL! WONDERFUL!

The Times, having the forms of yesterday's edition still standing, are following the practice of The Herald and issuing an "extra." Trull along, boys. "We'll make a paper out of that rag yet."

THE BRICKBAT

was received through the mail Monday morning, written in lead pencil, and reads as follows:

Alliance, Nebr.

Sir:—In regard to your criticism of the Times, I think it is very unjust the Times by all means excels the "rag" of yours. Sloyd's column is nothing but exchanges as the Times says.

Your criticism in saying that the Times used Fridays forms for the Extra was a lie. I read the paper through Friday also the extra and they were entirely different. Also you instead of the Times copied the idea of putting out an Extra Saturday. Critically Yours
A CRITIC.

Too bad, too bad. Uncle J. Pierpont Morgan, sojourning in Egypt during the winter, has been taken seriously ill with indigestion. As a result the gamblers in Wall Street have themselves taken sick and the price of stocks has dropped. Please get well, dear uncle J. Pierpont, in order that the price of stocks will not drop and cause another money panic, stopping factories and mills, thereby shutting thousands of poor and honest workmen and women out of a chance to do honest labor and causing intense suffering and starvation among them and their families. It's funny, isn't it, how that one man with the stomach ache can cause so much trouble.

What America needs more than railway extension, and western irrigation, and a low tariff, and a bigger wheat crop, and a merchant marine, and a new navy, is a revival of piety, the kind father and mother used to have—piety that counted it good business to stop for daily family prayer before breakfast, right in the middle of the harvest; that quit field work a half hour early Wednesday night so as to get the chores done and go to prayer-meeting. That's just what we need now to clean this country of filth, of graft and of greed, petty and big, of worship of fine houses and big lands, and high office and grand social functions.—Wall Street Journal.

A LaOto girl writes us to know "how to prevent her feet from perspiring and giving off a noticeable odor." Try soaking them in hot water a few times, my dear, then rub with alum and garlic, put cold cream between the toes, and eat an onion, so your breath will counteract, and the results will please you.—Ex.

An Alliance man dropped into the Herald office one day last week and said to the writer, "Say, Lloyd, you people must be taking some business away from those fellows up the street, the way they are jumping all over you." Said we, "We are. The fact that we are now getting city, county and land office business seems to rub old Due Bill on a sore spot."

Put your specs on right, old top, and take another look at the buildings in Hemingford. Your eyesight seems a little prejudiced, also.

J. C. McCorkle says he was the victim of a burglar scare Monday night that will make him very careful after this. He had been working hard all day and after a little nap in his easy chair got ready for bed. Putting up the window shade for the purpose of raising the window to allow the delicious winter ozone to fan him while dreaming of the coming summer and the sales of thousands of acres of fertile Fox Butte county land, he saw, by the dim light of the silvery moon, two men standing a little to one side of the window. He watched them for a few minutes and saw that they did not move. Stepping into the living room he seized a heavy stove poker and rushing to the window again, he threw up the sash and struck at the intruders. Too late he saw, to his amazement, that the two fearless burglars were two pairs of his own trousers, hung on the line near the window.

As will be noted by the news item in another part of this issue of The Herald, the Western Nebraska Editorial Association, organized last Monday, has already succeeded in the first important thing they set out to do—knock out the Hollen bill at Lincoln. This was clearly against the interests of the country newspapers. I believe that the members of the association will feel well repaid for the effort made.

FOR SALE.—18 hole Tiger press drill, used one year. A. G. BRICE, Alliance, Neb. 18-11-11
