PEOPLE TAKE OUTING

More Than 50 Auto Loads Go to Chadron Creek in Pine Ridge for Day's Outing—Returns via Hay Springs

ANOTHER TOUR ON

"All Aboard," sang out Link Lowry, general picnic manager, at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Over 50 autos, loaded with I. O. O. F. members, their families and friends, started for Chadron Creek, in Pine Ridge, twelve miles this side of Chadron. Lowry & Henry furnished half-dozen Ford cars, a Studebaker, a Mitchell and an Oakland. The rest of the cars were driven by owners.

ball over the brow of a neighboring hill, bringing in two runs and making a home run. They were still searching for the ball when the call of "all aboard for Chadron" stopped the game. A few of the cars returned to Alliance from the picnic grounds and from Chadron, on account of being required to get in earlier, but thirty-six of them decided to make the run home via Chadron and Hay Springs.

Three Hours of Enjoyment On arriving at the picnic grounds, which were shaded by plenty of big trees, the different parties spread out and prepared for the picnic dinners. The big Mitchell Six followed in shortly after the arrival, loaded to the fenders with the boxes, bags and baskets, containing lunches for all. Fifty pounds of ice and a monster stone jar were brought along, together with a sack of sugar and a crate of lemons.

John Snyder Makes Fine Lemonade John Snyder got busy with the lemonade fixings and soon the thirsty ones were criticising John's ability as a lemonade mixer, according to their taste. Suffice to say that there was none left when it came time to leave.

No Fish in Sight Although one or two eager fishermen had brought along poles and lines, in the hope that there would be good fishing, they were disappointed, for the fishing spots were a couple of miles down stream, where a mill dam was located.

Many Pictures Taken A large number of photographs were taken by those who took cameras along. The Herald photographer got sixteen. A picture taken on the main street of Hay Springs is shown herewith.

Kewer Only One to Catch Fish W. S. Kewer, proprietor of The Bee Hive, was the only one who caught any fish. He pulled off shoes and stockings and wading out into the creek with a bucket, caught a large number of minnows. We presume that there will now be a fish sale at The Bee Hive.

Two Inning Ball Game "Doc" Copeland was the hero of the two inning base ball game, which was played on top of the hill adjoining the picnic grounds. "Jolly" Harper and "Mayor" McCormick "chose up" for sides. In the second inning "Doc" cracked the bat and drove the

AND THE MEN, TOO?

The governor of Wisconsin has signed a bill providing a penalty of a heavy fine or imprisonment for gossipers. What will the women of that state now do for enjoyable pastime?—Sidney Telegraph.

And the men, too, what will they do? Down this way gossiping isn't confined to the women. Possibly it is the same way in the Badger state.

Office boy—There are two men out there sir, who want to see you. One is a poet and the other a deaf man.

Editor—Well, go out and tell the poet that deaf man is the editor, and let them fight it out between them.—Tit-Bits.

Close of a Successful Sale

On July 3rd the big Orkin Brothers club piano sale will close, after several months of unprecedented business. At that time the club of 150 members will be full. That means that 150 different families in this section of the state have purchased an equal number of pianos and played pianos on the club plan, which has been found to be the most successful plan yet devised, both for the purchaser and the piano dealer. It enables the dealer to handle much larger quantities and no larger selling expense and it enables the piano purchaser to get a high grade piano for what a low grade one usually costs. Those who are in the piano market and who have not joined should get in before the 3rd.

CITY HALL NOTES

O. H. Finney was fined $5 and costs on the 14th for being drunk.

Bert Shield was fined $5 and costs on the 14th for being drunk.

E. L. Williams was fined $10 and costs on the 16th for beating his wife. He was later arrested on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Bell.

Frank Smith was fined $5 and costs on the 14th for being drunk.

Fred Sanbury was fined $5 and costs for being drunk.

I. P. Kurtz was fined $5 and costs for being drunk.

Katie Bell and E. L. Williams were arrested Wednesday morning on warrants sworn out by each other for each other charging disturbing the peace and disorderly conduct. Both parties are colored. The woman is the wife of Charley Bell. The trouble happened near the section house at nine o'clock Tuesday evening and from the rumpus which was caused it was thought that someone had been killed. The testimony given, according to the woman, was that Williams had gone to Bell's house and looked in the window, that she had started to a neighbor's home to call the police, that he caught her and pounded her up, knocking her down and kicking her, that she went back into the house, got a revolver, and took a couple of shots at him, missing him both times. In police court Wednesday morning there was a big crowd, mostly colored people, to witness the trial. Williams, who told a different version of the story, and who is said to have had a penitentiary record, was fined $100 and costs, after pleading guilty. He will have 53 days in jail or working on the streets. Mrs. Bell pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

An hour after the encounter between Mr. Beal and Mr. Pederson, a soldier and another man became engaged in an altercation at about the same spot. After a short encounter they separated, before the police arrived. They have not yet been arrested.

A glance at your dictionary will remind you that "Nomad" signifies "A rover, one of a wandering race." The original nomads were herdsmen and wandered in search of pasture, often returning at a regular season to graze at those spots where they had been accustomed to find rich and abundant herbage. This is now the third year that the writer has been privileged to feast in these fields of plenty, and, with the echo of some famous lines about the rainbow lingering in mind, is moved to exclaim:

And still my heart leaps up when I Behold the Junior Normal night!

Each week we expect to enjoy a special talk from one of the faculty. Friday next Principal Cline will speak; the week following Mr. Marrs, followed by Mr. Reimund the week after.

Our first chapel hour period, on Tuesday, was devoted as usual to short speeches by the faculty, enlivened by the latter credited a certain member with arriving in Alliance a week before anyone else, for the purpose of getting a chance to "talk to his heart's content." He was persuaded to talk a little on this occasion, too, the quality of the oratory it is to be supposed that "Heart's Content" did not count the time wasted listening.

On Wednesday we listened to a talk from an old friend, in the person of Dr. Beattie of Cotner University. Dr. Beattie emphasized the need of teachers studying their pupils sufficiently to be intelligently sympathetic, and so as to be able not merely to "make the punishment fit the crime" but to suit the treatment to the needs of the one "treated." Teachers in the future who do not esteem this study well worth their while will be likely to have opportunities to administer only that kind of treatment known in Christian Science phraseology as "absent."

BISHOP IS BANQUETED

Dignitary Visits Alliance Officially for First Time—Confirms Class of 39 Adults and Delivers Address at Academy Graduation

CITY GUEST OF HONOR

Seldom has Alliance shown so much interest in the visit of a notable man as in the visit of Rt. Rev. Bishop Duffy to Alliance Wednesday. A large crowd of Alliance business and professional men, with their wives, attended the five o'clock banquet given at Gadsby hall Wednesday evening.

Large Class Confirmed

At the Catholic church at nine o'clock Wednesday morning a class of thirty-nine adults was confirmed by the Bishop. There were twenty men and nineteen women. J. B. Gray was sponsor for the men and Mrs. Ellen Kent for the women.

Eighth Grade Welcomes Bishop

At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon the eighth grade graduates and their friends, together with the boarders at the academy, assembled in the auditorium to welcome the Bishop. A short program was rendered, diplomas conferred upon the graduates from this grade, gold medals, pins and other rewards of merit were conferred, etc.

The Banquet at Gadsby Hall

At five o'clock the banquet was served. Plates were laid for 150 people and the tables were well filled. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Jones on piano and saxophone and J. P. Hall on drums. The banquet was served by the Daughters of Isabella and it was par excellence. Following is the menu:

- Strawberries in Sugar
Pressed Chicken
Wine Jelly
New Potatoes in Cream
Olives
Hot Rolls
Tomatoes and Cucumber Salad
Special Brick Ice Cream
Cake

The Speechmaking

F. M. Broome was toastmaster. The time for speeches was limited and only short, but interesting talks were made.

Attorney Wm. Mitchell made the address of welcome. In behalf of the people of Alliance he invited the Bishop to make Alliance his home and the seat of the diocese. He told of Alliance's great growth and its many advantages. He used a large number of arguments, told how this diocese is almost as large as the new England states, closing his speech with the following words, "In behalf of the people of Alliance, regardless of their religion, I ask you to locate here."

R. M. Hampton responded to the toast, "Alliance as a Banking City." Mr. Hampton stated that going into statistics alone would be rather dry and that anyway a bishop would not care so much about the wealth of the community in which he was asked to locate, but that he would consider the religious needs of the people at that point. Mr. Hampton told how the combined banking capital of Alliance's banks is $200,000, with assets of $800,000, and how that the total amount of capital used by the banks totals approximately $1,500,000. He stated that the banks consider the character of the borrower in making loans and that the fact that this amount of capital was here for the use of the people of this community was ample evidence that the character of the people was of sterling value, and how that he would consider the coming of Bishop Duffy to Alliance an asset to the city.

General Supt. E. E. Young, of the Burlington, was to have responded to the toast, "Alliance as a Railroad Center" but was unexpectedly called out of town. Toastmaster Broome read some figures which had been left by Mr. Young. They are as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Value. Includes: Number of trains in 1912, Average per day, Number of tons handled, Miles of track in Alliance yds., No. cars in Alliance yds., Cost, Messages handled daily in office, Per year, No. cars repaired in shop, No. engines rebuilt, No. cars of stock to market, fed in Alliance yds.

Postmaster I. E. Tash responded to the toast, "Alliance as a General Business Center". He told of the revenues derived from the sale of stamps, stating that in the year ending March 1, 1904, the total revenue was $7,624.40 and in the year ending March 1, 1913, it was $14,514.19, doubled in 10 years. He told of the good mail facilities of Alliance, of the seven mail trains which arrive and leave every day, of the night force at the postoffice and the city delivery system, of the money which has been appropriated for federal site and building, of the money which was voted for building a new court house, and told of the high class of business men who make up our town and community.

J. W. Guthrie responded to the toast, "Alliance as an Educational Center." He told of the two good newspapers which do a great deal of educating. Stated that the school statistics for the year 1912 showed a total of 1146 pupils of school age and 26 teachers, all of them holding life certificates. How that Alliance pays the highest salaries for teachers in the state, outside of Omaha and Lincoln. He told of the early struggles of St. Agnes Academy, how that it started with seven or eight boarders and now had about one hundred, with a total of over 250 pupils and 16 teachers, with an investment of $100,000. He told of the need of a boys school here, the nearest one being Denver or Spaulding. He told how that the Alliance Junior Normal graduates are recognized by every university in the country.

Bishop Duffy responded. He said in part, "I am susceptible. I am afraid that the good people of Alliance doubt my susceptibility. I have been very deeply affected by the talks of the different gentlemen this evening. I have always marveled at the enterprise of the people of Alliance. I want to beg you to be patient and to consider this meeting worth while. It will give the purpose of getting us acquainted and make us happy for knowing one another. There are a number of reasons that must be considered in the selection of a see. Because of its proximity to Grand Island Kearney was selected for the present. I believe it is impracticable for me to come out here for the present and must ask you to be patient. I appreciate the good will of the people of Alliance and appreciate your great kindness."

Graduation Exercises at Holy Rosary Church

Graduation exercises were held at Holy Rosary church last evening, beginning at eight o'clock. There were seven graduates from the high school department. A fine musical program was rendered and a stirring talk by Bishop Duffy was the chief part of the program. Diplomas, teacher's certificates and gold medals were conferred upon the graduates.

The people of Alliance have proven themselves hosts worthy of recognition in the fine manner in which they showed Bishop Duffy that he has their friendship and good will. It is sincerely hoped that it may not be very long until it will be possible for him to move here.
