Notice to Telephone Patrons

Bert King, who was a freight conductor on the Burlington a number of years ago, and who is now a conductor on the Oregon Short Line, in Idaho, is visiting in the city with friends and relatives.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rennau are now living on their ranch near Orlando. They drove in yesterday to stay over a day. Mr. Rennau will spend a week on the ranch, going out tomorrow. Mrs. Rennau is very much pleased with the country there and likes it immensely.

JUNIOR NORMAL NOTES

Our esteemed fellow-student Mr. Bland has accepted the Bronwater school for the coming term. By the way, what a clumsy expression that is, "accepting a school". It reminds one of the old lady on the "bus" in London, who was heard to remark, "Conductor, I want the Bank of England!" The conductor turned to the driver: "Don't want much, do she, Bill?"!!!

Who will tell us the proper word to use? May we say that "Mary Jones accepted the 'teachship' of Osh-golly-gosh district," and if not, what then? Say, wouldn't you just as soon teachship as teacher-school? You are liable to have to get a board in either case, only the ship is frequently attached to a buoy, while a boy is so seldom attached to a school that he won't play hockey once in a while.

Wanted—for the writing class, someone to beguile the practice periods by singing "Every little movement has a m-an-ing". Speaking of singing, Prof. Reimund once more delighted us last week by his rendering of "The Rosary", and also obliged with an encore, N. B.—To the uninitiated: Do not confound "rosary" with "rose garden". They are different. True, creamery is a place for cream, but then you know an apiary is not a place for apes, that is unless the ape keeps very still, or has a thick hide.

On Monday of this week Miss Virginia Broome sang for us at the chapel hour and also graciously responded to an enthusiastic encore.

Tuesday, Paul Thomas, whose skill with the violin is so well known as to need no comment, obliged with a solo, followed by an encore, and was accompanied on the piano by Miss Beulah Smith.

We also had the pleasure of listening to a Mr. Hill, representing a book company, who is on his way back from the National Educational Association at Salt Lake City. Mr. Hill confesses that the Mormons interested him more than the N. E. A. He says they do not practice polygamy and have not for some time; but are very nice people and quite prosperous. They sprinkle their streets, are devoted to the national flag and have a paid up capital larger than that of the Bank of England.

Asbury Whitaker returned Tuesday evening from a visit to Lake-side, where he applied for a school. He was somewhat unfortunate in finding the director away, in Missouri, so did not get to sign a contract.

Any teacher who will study faithfully through eight weeks of hot summer weather surely deserves a vacation, and a successful school term to follow.

After any Sickness or Operation doctors prescribe SCOTT'S EMULSION—it contains the vital elements nature craves to repair waste, create pure blood and build physical strength. No Alcohol or Opium. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 12-23

You care for such as we? Our joys and sorrows, are they more than lifeless facts to thee? You say, 'He gives the weary rest', But is there rest with you? Do your words on the spirit fall Like sweet refreshing dew? 'Is your first thought to help and heal? And will you pay the price? Or do you merely love to sing Sweet songs of sacrifice?' Then answers she, 'With all the power Our Father gives to me I daily hourly strive His true Ambassador to be. For, all I have and all I am Belong to Him—and you. He feeds the hungry—though the loaves And fishes may be few.' —L. H. B.

Big Social Event

Mrs. A. J. Nelson and Mrs. J. T. Wiker entertained at 500 in honor of Mrs. A. E. Swanson, of Carrington, N. D., at the home of Mrs. Wiker at 713 Laramie Avenue, Wednesday evening.

The house was beautifully decorated with carnations and cut flowers, the colors being pink and white. The card tables were decorated in white, with pink candles on each table. A delicious five-course luncheon was served, Misses Ethel Nolan, Agnes and Kate Kniest, Marie Buchsenstein, Mae Newberry and Ruth Morris serving. Music was furnished by a large Victrola, which was a novelty and was a pleasing innovation.

Following were the guests: Mesdames Joe Westover, Norman Williams, Lloyd C. Thomas, Percy Cogswell, Charley Brazelton, W. E. Cotant, F. E. Holsten, F. M. Broome, Leon Smith, Claude Lester, Help-bringer, Wm. Mitchell, J. A. and Earl Mallory, Autrey, L. A. Suprise, Dick Waters, Al Wiker, C. A. Wetherell, Will Schlupp, F. A. Hively, T. J. O'Keefe, W. D. Rumer, John Brennan and H. J. Ellis, and Miss Puss Broome.

First prize was won by Mrs. Percy Cogswell. It was a cut glass olive dish. Free-for-all prize was won by Mrs. F. A. Hively. It was a hand painted rose jar. These were both presented to Mrs. Swanson.
