NEGRO SHOTS MITCHELL MAN

Quarrel Over Poker Game Results in Murder at Midnight Sunday — Murderer Caught at Morrill

(By Long Distance Telephone)

Mitchell, Nebr., Nov. 17 — Walsh Whitworth, a white man 25 years of age, was shot and instantly killed at midnight Saturday night by John Thompson, a negro, in a quarrel over a poker game.

Whitworth and Thompson were playing poker together in a room upstairs in the Richardson building. One other man, Frank Harris, saw the murder, being in the room at the time.

The two men were playing for small stakes. Whitworth was sitting on the bed and Thompson was sitting on a chair, with a table between them. Thompson made a bluff which was called by Whitworth. The men laid down their cards and Whitworth took the money. Thompson reached over the table, grabbed Whitworth by the neck, pulled a revolver from his hip pocket and said, "Damn you, you dirty nigger. You'll never beat me again." At that he fired several shots into Whitworth's body, killing him instantly. Both men had been drinking.

The negro ran from the building and out of town. It was believed he went north. Hundreds of Mitchell citizens searched the surrounding country Saturday night and all day Sunday, without trace of the fugitive. Dozens of automobiles scoured the surrounding country and the North Platte valley for miles. Every train is being watched and the negro will have a hard time getting out of the valley without being caught. Feeling ran very high in Mitchell all day Sunday and if the murderer had been caught he would have been lynched without delay.

Excitement had died down somewhat this morning and it is believed that he will be spared for a trial.

Morrill, Nebr., Nov. 17 — John Thompson, the negro who shot and killed Walsh Whitworth at Mitchell Saturday night, gave himself up to the Morrill constable this morning. The constable and a party were seven miles northwest of Morrill in an automobile when they were approached by the negro with his hands above his head. He was taken into custody and brought here.

Thompson confesses that he shot Whitworth without provocation but says that he had been drinking and was mad because Whitworth won in the poker game. He begged for protection from the crowds and seems to fear lynching. He will be taken to Mitchell by auto at once. There will probably be a preliminary hearing at Mitchell and from there Thompson will be taken to the county jail at Gering.

Thompson, the negro who shot Whitworth, was a porter in a Mitchell barber shop. Whitworth was the son of a wealthy farmer living near Mitchell. His parents are prostrated with grief.

ALLIANCE HAS CITY PLUMBER

Because of the large amount of plumbing being done by the city water, power and sewer department, an experienced plumber has been hired. Earl Hulme, who has worked here for several years, starts in this morning.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE CLUB OF CHADRON GIVE BALL

Enterprising Woman Suffrage Club at Chadron Give Dance and Supper—Movement Gaining in Chadron

If all woman suffragists in Nebraska were as energetic and enterprising as they are in Chadron there would be no doubt about the equal suffrage amendment carrying at the election next fall. The Chadron Woman Suffrage Club recently gave a dance in the Loomer opera house of that city, which was well attended and netted the ladies a neat sum of money with which to push the movement.

There was a large and orderly crowd of people in attendance and the dancers enjoyed themselves greatly. The Gregory six-piece orchestra furnished the music. During the evening supper was served on the stage of the opera house, the tables being waited on by young ladies.

According to the Chadron Chronicle the woman suffrage movement is gaining very rapidly in Chadron, and aside from the club work itself the ladies have seen opportunities to do much other good work. Their meetings are not for the purpose of discussing frivolous questions but those on educational lines such as will better fit all to cast an intelligent vote, should they be given the right of franchise.

WHITE HOUSE BRIDE, NOV. 25TH

Miss Jessie Wilson, Daughter of the President, to Be Married to Francis B. Sayre, on November 25

Washington, Nov. 14 — Happiness is surely in store for Jessie Wilson, the fifteenth White House bride, as such is the unbroken tradition of the matches which have graced the Presidential mansion. When the chief executive's youngest daughter becomes Mrs. Francis B. Sayre in the East Room on November 25, the softly wafted strains of the famous Marine band should call to her mind the vision of a long line of blushing predecessors, whose lives have been blessed by their union within these historic walls.

Indeed the White House breathes an air of romance and love-making of sweethearts' sighs, and the whispering of sweet and precious vows. Only one president of the long line has shown the hardihood to resist this seductive atmosphere—James Buchanan, who entered a bachelor and came out at the end of his term unscathed. But two other presidents, Cleveland and Tyler, fell willing victims to the benedict-creating influence.

Of the fourteen previous White House brides, four have been married elsewhere, but these are included because they came immediately to the mansion on their honeymoon and because they are linked in the minds of the American people with the home of presidents.

The White House was born with the mark of Dan Cupid upon it, for its predecessor, the old first White House of hewn stone which was burned by the British during the War of 1812, itself saw a marriage amid its yellow satin upholstery and damask hangings. Mrs. Madison, permeated with the White House romance, persuaded Miss Todd of Philadelphia, a demure but beautiful Quakeress, who was her near relative, to be married in the presidendial mansion. Then the first lady of the land set out to show what a presidential wedding setting should be. Her lavishness almost shocked the Quaker bride, it is related. But Mrs. Madison had her way and with great splendor Miss Todd became Mrs. John G. Jackson. Her husband was a member of Congress from Virginia, and the great uncle of "Stonewall" Jackson.

ALLIANCE WINS FROM MITCHELL

Large Crowd Witnesses First Game of Basketball of Season—Alliance Wins Easily from Valley Team

The Alliance High School team won the first basketball game of the season when they defeated the Mitchell aggregation at the High School gymnasium Saturday night, score being 39-13. Every man on this year's local team has played before, thus insuring a very good team this year. It is predicted that the Alliance boys will win every game played this season. This is Mitchell's first year, and, taking into consideration the experience of the two teams, put up a good showing. Their team work at the beginning of the game was superior to that of the Alliance boys, but the visitors were unable to locate the basket. The fact that a large and enthusiastic crowd was in attendance at the first game of the season is proof that there will be unusual interest displayed in the contests this year. The High School students had their usual amount of yells for the game.

The game started by a Mitchell man, Cass, fouling. The free throw for Alliance was missed by Schafer, who soon afterward threw the first field goal of the evening. Several good passes were made by the Alliance boys which resulted in scores for the local team. One long pass was made by Spaecht, while on his knees, passing across the field to Beach, who tossed the ball into the basket. A pretty goal was also made by Darnell, who slipped under his guard and made a clear throw.

Although out of the hospital only a short time, following an operation for appendicitis, Beach played an excellent game. He lead in the scoring by making six field goals. "I am feeling all right, and could play another half," remarked Beach after the game. All of the boys seemed to lack "wind" but one or two hard games will remedy this.

The next game will probably be played Thanksgiving Day. Announcement will be given in a later issue of The Herald.

PROMOTION FOR T. H. BEESON

Manager of Alliance Telephone Exchange Goes to Norfolk December First—To Hold Responsible Position

T. H. Beeson, who has been manager of the Alliance telephone exchange for four years, will leave on December 1st for Norfolk, Nebraska, where he will be assistant district commercial manager for the Norfolk district.

The Norfolk district of the Nebraska Telephone Company includes 45 exchanges in northwestern Nebraska, covering as far west as Valentine. The position is a responsible one and is made in recognition of the fine work done here by Mr. Beeson in organizing the local exchange.

Mr. Beeson came to Alliance on March 7, 1903, from Creston, Iowa. He worked for the Burlington railroad two years, installing their first electric light plant. He then worked for the city electric light plant which was owned at that time by private parties. He left the city plant to enter the employ of the Auburn Telephone Construction Company, which owned the local exchange. They sold out to the Alliance Telephone Company, who were in turn purchased by the Nebraska Telephone Company. Mr. Beeson continued with the plant and gradually rose to the position of manager. When he first entered the employ of the telephone company there were only 500 phones on the local exchange. There are today 1050.

Mr. Beeson has many friends in Alliance and will be greatly missed. He and his family are well liked by all. He will be succeeded by C. A. Currie, who is the present manager of the Broken Bow exchange and who comes highly recommended.

DAVIDSON HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Alliance Man Accidentally Shot by Boy with Rifle Saturday; Bullet is Removed by Dr. Slagle

Wm. Davidson, a well known Alliance man, was accidentally shot at 11 o'clock Saturday by a boy by the name of Marsh. Mr. Davidson narrowly escaped death, the bullet striking him squarely in the middle of the forehead and plowing around the skull for a distance of four inches. The bullet was flattened by the force of the impact. It was a miracle that it did not enter the skull.

Mr. Davidson was at the barn at his home on Emerson Avenue, doing some work. The Marsh boy was at the railroad track, nearly eighty rods distant, with other boys, shooting with a 32 calibre rifle. Mr. Davidson was knocked down by the force of the bullet and severely stunned. He was taken to the house and Dr. Slagle was called. Dr. Slagle removed the bullet and stated that the wound would probably not result seriously.

NEGRO GETS THIRTY DAYS

James Haynes, Colored Barber, is Arrested for Stealing Trainman's Grip from the Burlington Station

James Haynes, a colored barber, was arrested at the Burlington station by Sheriff Cox Monday evening, upon complaint of C. H. Duke, a trainman. Mr. Duke had placed his grip in the waiting room of the station, and Haynes, who said he was going to Lincoln, took the grip and went out on the streets and scattered its contents promiscuously around. He was taken before Judge Zurn, and County Attorney Burton presented the case to the court. Haynes was given 30 days in the county jail. He asked for a new trial but upon failure to give the required bond he was remanded to jail.

Huerta is perfectly willing to hold an election any time provided he can keep a tight enough grip on it.

PURCHASE FINE WYOMING LAND

Several Alliance People Are Taking Financial Interest in an Irrigation Project Located Near Casper

Several local parties are purchasing an interest in an irrigation project which is located fourteen miles southeast of Casper, Wyoming. The men who are organizing the project are B. S. Ringsby, L. W. Ringsby and A. B. Carnine. They are all well known western Nebraska men.

The reservoir and project will handle over 3,000 acres of fine land between Casper and Big Muddy, Wyoming, near the famous oil district. The cost of the water right is only $13.75 per acre, which is very cheap, $40 or $50 being a common price. The name of the reservoir is which the water will be stored is Spring Lake Reservoir. It lies near the mountains which are south of Casper. The promoters of the project agree to have the canals, flumes and headgates necessary to deliver water to the land, constructed on or before the first day of January, 1915.

Only 1200 acres of the land is being placed on the market. It is understood that practically all of this will be taken up by local capital.
