CHADRON NOTES

(By Herald Correspondent.)

The ladies of the Congregational church prepared and served the excellent dinner for the Junior-Senior banquet.

The last artist studied in grades five and six was Landseer. The children enjoyed his picture "Saved" as well as any that have been studied.

Mrs. Wilson attended the meeting of the Woman's Club at Alliance, and presented very acceptably the paper of Mrs. English who was unable to be there.

Miss Clark gave an address Wednesday afternoon to the association of the Woman's Club of the sixth district, held in Alliance. She also gave a very interesting talk to the high school students Friday morning.

The manual training class have begun on a new piece of work, the last they will make this year. Class A is making a plate rack and lass B a book rack. This is the second piece of wood work for class B.

The seventh and eighth grades have completed their course in picture study for this year. The observers have say their study of Anton Mauve's "Sheep" and Rosa Bonheur's "Oxen Plowing". Their review showed their familiarity with the old masters.

The members of the faculty were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Dean Stockdale, Saturday evening, at six o'clock dinner. The evening was spent in playing progressive somerset. The guests departed at a late hour, all pronouncing Mr. and Mrs. Stockdale excellent host and hostess.

Wednesday evening the "Grew Hall" girls went to the hills for a picnic. After partaking of a supper which they prepared over a campfire, they enjoyed the beautiful sunset and gathered flowers. About dusk they returned and stopped to serenade Miss Paine on the way home.

One of the good talks made during the Alliance meeting of representatives from the women's clubs of north west Nebraska, was made by Mrs. Sparks on the need of conservation of the growth of pines on Pine Ridge in this vicinity. Mrs. Sparks is state chairman of the conservation committee of the Woman's club and expects to have some practical investigations made, the results of which may be sent out to club members for discussion and publication in their respective localities.

The junior-senior banquet was given at the Congregational church, on April 25th. The walls of the room were beautifully decorated with pennants, and the ceiling with the colors of the two classes. On the tables were large bouquets of roses and tulips, and the favors were of pansies, the junior class flower. Very pretty and appropriate place cards were painted by Miss Driscoll for the occasion. After a sumptuous banquet the following toasts were responded to:

Home Run—Mr. Keith Lenington.

"Out on First"—Mr. Walter Bowman.

"Side Lines"—Miss Steckelberg.

"Short Stop"—Miss Jennie Vaughn.

"A Safe Hit"—Miss Edna Coffee.

"Umpire"—President Sparks.

Miss Elma Scott, president of the junior class, deserves credit for the happy manner in which presided as toastmaster. The toasts were all responded to in a creditable manner. The seniors and faculty were delighted with the hospitality of the juniors and expressed their pleasure at so royal entertainment.

HELP YOUR EASTERN FRIEND

LEAVE HIS RENTED FARM

Write your friends back East telling them about the money they can make in dairy farming on low-priced or homestead lands in the West. Give us their names and addresses that we also may inform them how they can prosper in this industry if they are the right kind of farmers. We all know that every new farmer is a source of wealth in your county, and his cream, poultry and hogs helps business about you.

We are ready to co-operate with your commercial club or county publicity bureau towards the settlement of your county. Let us get together and settle it. There is a large area in the West whose value and use was not known until the silo made dairy farming possible.

A new settler who is a dairy farmer is bound to make a good living and the increased value of his land is certain to follow. County co-operation during the next few years is what is going to hold new settlers. We are ready to help you find them and I will be glad to get in touch with those interested in this joint endeavor.

ANXIOUS TO SEE FIRE TRUCKS

Dean M. Gillespie, the representative for the White Company, who recently sold a White roadster to Wm. King of Alliance, was in the city today. In an interview with a Herald reporter he said, "I am very anxious to see a White fire truck purchased by the city for the Alliance Fire Department. The White Company makes more trucks than any other company in the United States. The U. S. government has 100 trucks in use by the war and other departments. The Standard Oil Company uses 119 White trucks; the war department of the Russian government uses 11 and the war departments of many other European powers use White trucks, and it is a well known fact that the great powers of the world never spare time or expense when choosing equipment for their war departments. "The main object in a fire truck," Mr. Gillespie continued, "is to get to the fire and do the work for which intended, that of extinguishing the fire. In a White truck you get the result of years of experience in truck building and the output of a factory which builds the trucks thruout—not just assembling them. You can get any equipment desired on a White fire truck so that in addition to getting the best of truck chassis you can also have any make of fire fighting equipment you may desire. The White Company will handle the Alliance deal direct, saving the usual agent's commission, should the city purchase a White truck. We welcome the fullest investigation and would suggest that the proposition be fully investigated by a special committee before a purchase is made by the city council. You will find White fire trucks with equipments of several kinds in use by nearly every large city fire department in the country. The smaller towns, like Alliance, find that by dealing direct with the factory they can be purchased at almost as low a price as the inferior trucks and that they are more economical to operate and can always be depended upon to get to the fire and do the required work when they get there. The best is the cheapest in the long run. Efficiency and ability to do the work should be given serious consideration. The fine roadster now being used by Mr. King is an example of the fine product of the White factory." Mr. Gillespie leaves for Montana tonight.

INSANE RANCHER TO RUSHVILLE

A. D. New, sheriff of Sheridan county, arrived this noon from Rushville, the county seat, and took back with him John A. Hunzicker, ranchman who lives about 43 miles from Ellsworth and who has been in Alliance for several days. Hunzicker will be examined by the insanity board at Rushville and probably confined in an asylum.

While in Alliance Hunzicker gave checks to all his friends in amounts varying from $25 to $150 on a nearby bank. While in Denver recently it is said that he purchased an entire trainload of cattle and was preparing to have them shipped to his ranch when it was found that he was irresponsible for his actions. He is said to have been confined in an asylum before. He has a wife and family of children, all of whom are grown.

VETERANS HOLD CAMP FIRE

A rousing Campfire of eGo. L. Geddes Camp No. 5 "United Spanish War Veterans" was held on Tuesday evening, April 28th, at the Gadsby Hall; to which all Spanish American War Veterans Sailors or Marines who saw service in Spanish American War Philippine Insurrection or Boxer uprising in China or since were invited.

About 20 responded to the call, representing nearly all branches of service.

John J. Riordan Commander of the local Camp acted as toastmaster, and gave an interesting talk in reference to his trip to the State encampment which was held in the town from which he enlisted "Lincoln." He reported an excellent time and good attendance and gave a detailed report of the good accomplished by united efforts of the "U. S. W. V." for the widows and orphans of deceased comrades. He also met many of his old comrades of Co. C. 1st. Nebr.

As toastmaster he called on each one present to give some reminiscences of their soldier days, which were responded to by every one.

An interesting occurrence was when two of the men present discovered that they were from the same regiment and had soldiered together.

Further work perfected in regard to Memorial services, which will be held Sun. May 31st, in the Amphitheatre of the Fair Grounds. Rev. Geo. G. Ware will deliver the oration, and the Choral Club will furnish the music.

Mass call was then sounded and a hearty super closed this very enjoyable occasion. Roster of those present follows.

COURT CONVENES MONDAY, MAY 4TH

Judge W. H. Westover will arrive Monday to open the spring term of district court. The docket is short this month and the nature of the cases are such that a short session is expected. There are but four criminal cases to be tried and the offenses are such that there is but little public interest taken. The following are the defendants in criminal action Central Lumber company, discriminating prices in lumber; Chas. Kroll, peace bond; Robert Rea, gambling; Chas. E. Brennan, desertion; Harry Crilley, burglary. There are fifty-four civil cases on the docket including two for divorce. There are two applications for citizenship papers.

Buys Ford Auto
The Keeler-Coursey Company, agents for the Ford automobiles, report the sale of a new car to A. A. Wright of Alliance.

Let's make this town famous

If I can interest a number of lovely women, I'll enter their photographs in Ansoo Company's national $5000 "Loveliest Women" contest. There's fame and a fine prize at stake.
