OLD HICKOR YCHIPS

Race suicide has again taken possession of the Balkans.

If anyone can meet the Colonel and hold his own, it's Alfonso.

Why not dub Colorado the Mutinous state and let it go at that.

An English writer says that "sin and cigarettes are good enough for me". But Tom Edison apparently prefers his straight.

We will probably get plenty of rain from now on. The picnic season is at hand.

We wonder if it is true that the moving pictures in Phila. are run at only half the speed of those in other cities.

Congress abolished free passes on the railroads years ago, but some politicians are still riding the railroads into office.

The governor of Colorado does not raise the question of state rights when it comes to maintaining peace in his commonwealth.

Two Kentucky youths were killed the other day in a duel over a widow. Respectfully referred to Mr. Kipling, who taught us "that the female of the species is more deadly than the male."

The world do move. Nobody is excited over the appearance of a comet this year.

There may not be much difference between Huerta and Villa but Villa has the best press agent.

This suggestion that the Colonel be made ruler of Mexico savors of an administration scheme to kill two birds with one stone.

The full conference held by the mediators seems to imply strong Huertian leanings.

Pancho Villa is rapidly increasing the list of prominent federalists who won't succeed Huerta.

Becker convicted by psychology—that's one gangster the gunmen never heard of.

Mr. Mellen says he left the New Haven poorer than when he went in; well he hasn't anything on the stock holder.

The Nicaraguan Congress is about to establish a precedent in Central American politics by having an extra session instead of an extra president.

The American missionary who refuses to leave her Mexican school probably gloats over the fact that she got some of the pupils through A B C first.

It now remains to bind up Mexico's wounds.

Colorado is also looking for the right poultice.

Being in the oil business in Mexico is dreadfully complicated just now.

Watchful waiting has advantages, even when compared with the big stick policy.

Doubtless the best place to begin that crusade against wearing collar is in politics.

Lincoln Beachey ought to sell a liniment for stiff necks. He carries his market with him.

Making a wide sweep of the horizon the international spotlight prepares to rest on Niagara Falls.

That small boy who fell into the lake while watching Lincoln Beachey loop the loop got an extra thrill.

It is all very well for the constitutionalists to make hay while the sun shines, but Huerta strenuously objects to becoming the hay.

On the theory that misery loves company, discreet people are refusing the invitations of their early swimming friends to come in.

We learn from an article in the daily news that "women are to adorn Lincoln highway." Naturally. Do not the dears adorn any spot they occupy?

Well it really does begin to look as if Huerta's last legs wouldn't last much longer.

Mexico may stave off the clean up day that is due her, but it is coming.

It may be Senator Root's private opinion that active campaigning in New York politics is no occupation for a man who sincerely loves peace.

T. R.'s lecture on geography was a mild expression compared to some of the lectures he used to deliver.

It must occur to Huerta that a minority can eventually become too small even to filibuster.

A New York gunman never goes quite so far as to put in a "didn't know it was loaded" plea.

If the mediators can unite the Mexican factions there should be a supplementary fund raised for the purpose of awarding the Nobel peace prize in triplicate.

Those who expected Harry Thaw to embrace the earliest opportunity to run amuck continue to be agreeably disappointed.

Perhaps if reconciliation didn't involve a round of kisses, Huerta and Villa might adjust their differences easily.

With a dry battleship in the rear, who can doubt the readiness of Mexico's provisional president to go to the front.

Meanwhile the meaning of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is so clear that not even the speeches of learned senators can make it ambiguous.

SWAT THE FLY

Remember the old adage: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" and swat the fly. If the insidious little insect that yearly causes a depletion in the ranks of good, healthy American citizens by its capability and capacity for carrying disease germs were swatted upon its initial appearance in the home every spring we would soon have normal health conditions once more in the days of our forefathers.

True, there are many other sources for disease to be carried besides the fly, but he is the chief one and right now is the time to wage war upon him. At this time of the year the eggs are being laid whereby millions more will be hatched out by summer. If they are killed at this stage the benefit gained is many fold greater than the same slaughter a month later.

THE CONTRACT WAS SIGNED

Deer Redpath, I will sign the contract for December of 1914, provided I can do my stunt as indicated in this sketch.
