A Correction

"Edgar Hancock who was operated on for gunshot wound in the sanitarium at Olney a few weeks ago has so far recovered as to come home last Friday." The above item appeared in last week's Journal. Dr. J. M. Boyles, one of the attending physicians, has called our attention to what he insists is a very glaring error in the above statement. He says the wound was not in the sanitarium at all, but was in the ilio-lumbar region, about one and one-half inches to the right of the fourth lumbar vertebra. The bullet struck the crest of the ilium and was deflected slightly upward passing through the hepatic flexure, barely missing the transverse colon, following the lower end of the right lobe of the hepatic gland, and lodged in the abdominal wall about two inches to the right of the umbilical cleatrix. No other part of the viscera was injured. We are glad to make this correction and to assure our readers that the sanitarium was in no way injured.—Flora, Ill., Journal.

Use the Newspaper

If a member of your family died, would you print the obituary on a billboard? If your wife entertained, would you send an account of it to the theatre program man? If you were to enlarge your business, would you advertise in a hotel register? If you were going to have a wedding in your family would you get out a handbill? You would send such items to a newspaper, wouldn't you? Then why don't you put your advertisement in a newspaper? Every man who uses a billboard is adding to nature's fakery. The newspapers build your town.

A minister in a small town, who probably had the usual difficulty in getting his salary after he had worked hard to earn it, just before making a change to another field addressed his congregation as follows: "Dear friends, you don't love me because you don't pay my salary. You don't love one another because there are no weddings, and God doesn't want you because nobody does. Now, brethren, I have been appointed chaplain of the penitentiary in this state and this will be my last Sunday among you. I will preach from the text, 'I go to prepare a place for you,' after which the choir will sing 'Meet Me There.'"

Profane Language

Among people who really think, profanity has joined the silent majority and is resting in the tomb with all the other dead languages. Not so long ago many men, good men, decent men, thought nothing of hearing a few cuss words now and then. That is, if they thought much of the incident they said nothing. But in the last few years men, especially business men, have come to the realization that swearing is decidedly out of place at any place.

No one likes to hear anyone use profanity. It goes against the grain of most men, and women shrink from it as they would from a snake or some other vile creature. Not so long ago an employe of a big Chicago concern was heard swearing by the president of the firm. There were no women within hearing but that made no difference to the "big boss." The clerk was discharged.

Brief Card Etiquette

All calling cards should bear the name in full with the proper prefix, excepting that the oldest daughter may have her cards read as: Miss Youngworth.

A man's card should be in the same style as his wife's, and bear the prefix Mr.

Professors do not use their titles on their cards.

A physician's social card reads either: Dr. George Henry Hill, or George Henry Hill, M. D.

A clergyman's card reads: Rev. John Howard Stephens.

A widow retains her husband's Christian name for the first year, as: Mrs. Frank William Bates. After the first year, she may, if she prefers, use her maiden name, as: Mrs. Florence Fowler Bates.

The Herald will print your cards for you in the latest style, or have them engraved.

The Herald also prints up-to-date wedding announcements, invitations and home stationery.

Advice

Times are great in San Francisco, And they're fine in old "Sopkan." Rather lively, too, in Boston Where there's work for every man. Things are better out in Denver, And they're good in Baltimore, Miss Chicago's got more money Than she ever had before. Dollars rattle in Seattle As they did in days gone by And but few men must go jobless In the big burg of N. Y. Things are lively 'round Atlanta And in Houston they're not still; And the hum and whir of business Echoes over Louisville. There are jobs in Cincinnati, Things are bright in New "Orleans", Every workman in Fargo Jingles silver in his jeans. In Toledo or Milwaukee Everything is at its best, But our busy little city Puts it over all the rest.

The druggist, says one of our exchanges, was becoming wearied by a woman shopper who kept asking questions, examining goods—and buying nothing. Finally she asked: "Is this pest exterminator reliable? How is it applied?" "You take a tablespoonful every half hour, ma'am," the druggist replied. She walked out.

ENTERTAIN M. E. CHOIR MEMBERS

Rev. and Mrs. O. S. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Lunn Hosts
Tuesday Evening

The Methodist parsonage was the scene of merriment last Tuesday evening when several young people gathered in response to invitations sent out to members of the choir of the M. E. church.

A musical game occupied the first part of the evening. The following persons tied for first prize: Misses Nelle Acheson, Edna Benedict and Isabelle Gabus, and Mrs. Ponnath and Charles Spacht; the prize being awarded to Miss Edna Benedict, who came nearest guessing a given number. The consolation prize was awarded to Carl Thomas. Following the game, music was enjoyed, including piano selections by Norman McCorkle, and vocal solos by Mrs. Bennett of Omaha.

After luncheon had been served, a short talk was made by Mrs. Lunn, chairman of the music committee of the Methodist church of Alliance.

Starting Fires with Kerosene

In the first six months of the year 1914 more people were burned to death in the state of Illinois than from any other cause.

It is an exceedingly dangerous practice, warns the state fire marshal's bulletin. So many fatal accidents were reported that in some counties the coroner of the county, who was called upon to investigate these fatalities, issued warning thru the newspapers calling the attention of the people to the dangerous practice of starting fires with kerosene. In the county of Stephenson, Illinois, five deaths were reported in the period of one year.

Kerosene should never be poured from a can into a stove under any circumstances. A stove may be warm or there may be a coal of fire left in it, and in either case a serious explosion is likely to follow. Besides the liquid kerosene in the can there is always present a highly inflammable and explosive gas. If the stove is warm or a few coals life in it, this gas may ignite and a serious explosion occur, in which the person starting the fire is likely to be burned to death.

Kerosene starts a fire in a hurry. It produces about six times as much heat as does wood in burning and it can be readily lighted with a match. Consequently it is unreasonable to expect that its use in this connection will be entirely discontinued. The only reasonably safe course to follow if kerosene must be used in starting fires is to pour the kerosene on the kindling before placing it in the stove.

Remember, the less kerosene there is in the can the more room there is for the explosive gas and consequently the greater danger of an explosion. More than forty people were burned to death in Illinois last year by starting fires with kerosene. Never under any circumstances pour kerosene oil into a stove.

ANOTHER USEFUL INVENTION

Principle of Vacuum Cleaning Successfully Applied to Renovating of Wearing Apparel

"Will inventions never cease? What next?" Is the exclamation that naturally comes to one's mind in hearing for the first time of some wonderful or useful contrivance. Alliance again has the distinction of being the first city in this state to install for practical, every day work, a new and useful invention. The "Sanitex" is the name of the machine, and T. S. Fielding, proprietor of "The Wardrobe," is the man who has the honor of being the first Nebraskan to install one in his place of business.

Vacuum cleaning for carpets, rugs, couches, etc., has become very popular and is extensively used in the cities. The Sanitex is a machine that applies the same principle to the cleaning of garments. It is run by electricity. Mr. Fielding is having his machine installed this week. It will be in commission within a few days.

HORSES BY EXPRESS

When Will They Be Sent by Parcels Post?

How long will it be until horses may be sent by parcels post? It does not seem probable that it will be done soon, but some things cause one to wonder if it may not be done some time.

Recently a car load of twenty-eight head of horses was shipped by express from Broken Bow, Nebraska, to New York City. Owing to the parcels post, the express companies made such a reduction in express rates that it cost the shipper of the horses only forty-one cents per head more to send them by express than it would have cost to send them by freight, besides having the advantage of quicker transportation without stops to feed.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then set fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

Sick Headache.

Sick headache is nearly always caused by disorders of the stomach. Correct them and the periodic attacks of sick headache will disappear. Mrs. John Bishop of Roseville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I was troubled with indigestion and had sick headache that lasted for two or three days at a time. I doctored and tried a number of remedies but nothing helped me until during one of those sick spells a friend advised me to take Chamberlain's Tablets. This medicine relieved me in a short time."
