

HORSE THIEF APPREHENDED

Charles Greshner Caught While Employed on a Ranch near Torrington, Wyoming

Sheriff Cal Cox went to Torrington, Wyoming, last Thursday in answer to a message from the sheriff at that place announcing that Charles Greshner, who had left the Phelan ranch near Alliance a few days ago with one of Mr. Phelan's best horses, had been captured and landed in jail.

The sheriff and prisoner returned to Alliance Friday and Greshner was lodged in the county jail. He was arraigned before Judge Berry for his preliminary hearing Monday morning, and plead guilty to stealing the horse. His bond was fixed at $1,000, but as there were no takers the young man was returned to the jail, where he will rest until the next term of the district court, at which time it is probable he will be sentenced to a term in the penitentiary. He also stole a saddle and bridle from one of the ranch hands.

It would seem from Greshner's testimony that he has a desire to become a "regular bad man". When the sheriff at Torrington made the arrest, he went to the ranch where his man was working, and informed the owner of the circumstances. The owner told him that Greshner was a "mean one" and that if the sheriff entered the house and tried to arrest him there was likely to be some gun play. It was then decided that Greshner should be called from the house on some pretext, so the ranch owner went in and informed him that there was something serious about the matter with his horse. Greshner lost no time in grabbing his hat and rushing out, but as he stepped out of the door he was confronted with a large calibre Colt in the hands of the sheriff. At the first command of "hands up", he did not immediately obey, but the sheriff took careful aim and said in a tone not to be mistaken, "Either put your hands up or I will put your 'light' out." That ended the argument and the officer took his man into town. In relating the incident to the court, Greshner remarked that he "did not have a fair chance as he had no gun on him at the time."

It is reported that he broke into a ranch house while on his way west and took a Winchester rifle and some other articles. Later he was thrown from the horse, and the gun stock was broken in the fall, but Greshner fixed that by cutting a new one from a fence post. Sheriff Cox has the gun in his possession.

Greshner further testified that his eleven-year-old brother threw a knife at him upon an occasion of a quarrel and that he "carried a gun" for him for two years afterward. Another fact brought out was that his eleven-year-old brother threw a knife at him upon an occasion of a quarrel and that he "carried a gun" for him for two years afterward. Another fact brought out was that his intention at the time of stealing the horse from Mr. Phelan was to go to Montana and work until he "knew the ropes" and then steal a bunch of cattle, take them over the Canadian border and sell them.

There is some doubt as to Greshner's age. He testified that he was eighteen, but those who have seen him claim that he looks and acts like a man in his twenties. The age question will have considerable bearing on the outcome of the case, as there is some speculation as to whether he will land in the penitentiary or in the reformatory. He appears to have an almost insane desire to kill somebody, and it is thought he should be given a stiff enough sentence so that he will be kept out of temptation for some time to come.

Some Forms of Rheumatism Curable

Rheumatism is a disease characterized by pains in the joints and in the muscles. The most common forms are: Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, Rheumatic Headaches, Sciatic Rheumatism and Lumbago. All of these types can be helped absolutely by applying some good liniment that penetrates. An application of Sloan's Liniment two or three times a day to the affected part will give instant relief. Sloan's Liniment is good for pain, and especially Rheumatic Pain, because it penetrates to the seat of the trouble, soothes the afflicted part and draws the pain. "Sloan's Liniment is all medicine." A NEW INDUSTRY

Potash Beds Short Distance from Alliance Estimated as Worth $15,000 an Acre

An industry which may mean much to the future of Alliance and surrounding country in a financial way is the opening of what is estimated to be one of the richest potash fields in the west, the field being located about eleven miles east of Alliance, near the little town of Antioch. 1100 feet of track will be built by the Burlington on the north side of the main line, 3 3/4 miles west of Antioch for the use of the potash fields which line three miles north. The grading for this piece of road will be done by May 12, two days being required in which to do the track laying.

It seems that a young man named Carl Modisett made a mineral filing several years ago on a piece of land which had been homesteaded. He got a small part included in the mineral filing, but failed to keep possession of it owing to some slight technicality being overlooked. It was found that this small tract, and a large acreage around it, was rich in potash deposits, and another effort is now being made to regain this land, together with several surrounding tracts. A short time ago a government expert came here to investigate and declared that the deposit was of commercial importance.

To those who are unfamiliar with the uses of potash, we will state that it is used profusely in the manufacture of soaps and the different washing powders, so when you figure what amount is put into a cake of soap or a package of washing powder, and what is paid for it, it is readily seen that the new field is worth many thousands of dollars.

Omaha capitalists and soap manufacturers have become interested in the project, and several buildings will be erected on the field and near the railroad spur to facilitate the transportation of the product to the refineries.

The work is being pushed as fast as possible, and it is probable that the mineral will start to Omaha in train loads on or about June 1.

The construction work and superintending is in charge of Mr. Modisett and J. H. Snow, who is also interested in the project. The promoters have not yet been able to determine the value of the land to their own satisfaction, but they are of the opinion that it will yield enough to make it a paying proposition. They now have eight claims and several leased tracts on which to operate.

GREAT CLEAN UP WEEK

Citizens Turned Out and Co-Operated—Results Are Highly Satisfactory

To state that Cleanup and Paint-up Week was a success is putting it mildly, even if the weather man did step in at the last chapter and dampen everything considerably.

It seemed as though everybody turned out during the week—lawyers, merchants, boys and girls, and women—all endeavoring to do their share to assist in making the affair one long to be remembered. Wagon load after wagon load of trash was hauled out of town, and, by the way, it took several wagon loads before any appreciable difference could be noted. Residences and business houses all "suffered" alike, by being cleaned from top to bottom and front to back, and the amount of rubbish found was simply a "sight".

The people didn't stop at cleaning their yards—they went right ahead and removed old fences, painted old buildings, and new ones, too, for that matter. Furthermore, they set out trees, shrubbery, flowers, and replanted their lawns where they needed it. The dead trees and shrubbery were removed to make place for the new ones.

In the down-town alleys the improvement is perhaps most noticeable, owing to their former bad condition. Most of these have been cleaned.

A small number of property owners did not observe the occasion, and these are dealt with according to the ordinance. Several of the business houses were repainted, but not as many as there should have been.

The city jumped right in with the others by cleaning the city property, and by repainting the cluster light poles and garbage cans.

The rain of the latter part of the week put a stop to the cleaning and painting work for a short time, but as soon as the rain ceased, the work started again, and continued over until the middle of this week.

A number of bad places over town have been fixed in good shape, which will cause a decrease in the usual number of insects found here in the summer time.

For Neuralgia, nothing is better than Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. Used by thousands for a generation.

Those who have suffered from neuralgic pains need not be told how necessary it is to secure relief. The easiest way out of neuralgia is to use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They have relieved sufferers for so many years that they have become a household necessity.

"I have taken Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for five years and they are the only thing that does me any good. They have relieved neuralgia in my head in fifteen minutes. I have also taken them for rheumatism, headache, pains in the breast, toothache, earache and pains in the bowels and limbs. I have found nothing to equal them and they are all that is claimed for them."

PASSING OF A NOBLE LIFE

Ambrose Patterson Bell Nearly Eighty Years Old When Called to the Great Beyond

Ambrose Patterson Bell was born in Blount county, East Tennessee, July 23, 1835; died at Denver, Colo., April 28, 1915, at the age of 79 years, 9 months, 5 days.

At the age of 9 years with his parents he moved to near Columbus City, Iowa, where he lived until March, 1888, when he located four miles east of Alliance, later going to a ranch near Bingham, where he lived until 1901, at which time he moved to Colorado, living one year at Loveland, moving from there to Denver, where he resided until his death.

At an early age he united with the United Presbyterian church at Columbus City, Iowa. At one time he was a member of the United Presbyterian church of Alliance, Nebr., and at his death was a member of the Second United Presbyterian church at Denver, Colo.

A widow, Mrs. Mary Stephens Bell, and three children by a former marriage, George C. Bell of Greeley, Colo.; Mrs. W. S. Acheson of Alliance, Nebr.; and Mrs. John T. Burton of Bingham, Nebr., survive him.

The remains were brought to Alliance and interred in Greenwood cemetery. The funeral service was held in the M. E. church, Saturday afternoon, May 1, and conducted by the pastor, Rev. O. S. Baker. Notwithstanding the rain that was falling at the time, quite a number of friends as well as relatives attended the funeral. Six old acquaintances acted as pall bearers: T. H. Barnes, J. N. Johnston, S. S. Soules, W. B. Young, W. H. Swan and M. G. Wambaugh.

The world is better because of the life of A. P. Bell. He will be greatly missed, but his influence remains to bless mankind. The memory of him is "as incense poured forth."

County Agent Has Assistant

Miss Emma James has accepted the position of assistant in the office of F. M. Seidell, county agent, and began her new duties Monday morning. The necessity of having some one in the office has been seen for some time, and now that a p time is on its way, there is more work than at other times of the year. Mr. Seidell will now spend most of his time with the farmers, and at the same time all telephone and personal calls can be answered, and it will not be necessary for him to spend most of his time in answering correspondence.

Miss James has been employed part of the time for the past year in the Harper department store, and is a very proficient young lady, and one who will no doubt handle the affairs of the agent's office to the satisfaction of all.

Gets Judgment for Threshing Bill

A case was tried before Judge Berry Tuesday of last week wherein William Sulzbach was plaintiff and C. E. Wiltsey was defendant, in which Sulzbach was suing Wiltsey for a threshing bill of $78, for the year of 1913. Wiltsey brought in a counter claim of a like amount at the trial, claiming that Sulzbach refused to thresh for him in 1914. However, the judge could not blame the plaintiff for refusing to do any work after he had been refused payment for the previous year's labor.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

A Correction

In last week's issue, the advertisement of L. A. McIlhenny and Hugh Boyd was made to read that they were located in the basement of the First National Bank building. It should have been the Alliance National Bank building, where they are now located and doing a rushing business. Mr. Boyd recently sold his shop in the Atlas hotel building, and is manager of the new concern. They have a fine line of spring and summer samples and are receiving many orders for suits this month.

LOCAL DRUGGIST

MAKES MANY FRIENDS

H. Thiele, druggist, reports they are making many friends through the QUICK benefit which Alliance people receive from the simple mixture, known as Adler-I-ka. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and it is the most thorough bowel cleanser known, acting on BOTH the lower and upper bowel. JUST ONE DOSE of Adler-I-ka relieves constipation and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Grandma's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur darkens so naturally that nobody can tell.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.
