Best Thing for a Bilious Attack

"On account of my confinement in the printing office I have for years been a chronic sufferer from indigestion and liver trouble. A few weeks ago I had an attack that was so severe that I was not able to go to the case for two days. Falling to get any relief from any other treatment, I took three of Chamberlain's Tablets and the next day I felt like a new man," writes H. C. Bailey, Editor Carolina News, Chaplin, S. C. GEL FACTS ON RESERVOIR

Committee That Visited Lincoln Is Ready to Make Report to City Council

E. T. Kibble and George Davis, who were appointed by Mayor Romig to investigate the city reservoir at Lincoln and get facts pertaining thereto regarding the amount of ground, money, and material necessary, returned home from that city the latter part of last week. When they departed, they also intended to visit Grand Island, but the one at Lincoln was so satisfactory that they decided it was not necessary to go further.

It is estimated that it will cost between $7,000 and $8,000. This will provide for a reservoir of 500,000 gallon capacity, and in addition will pay for a concrete roof six inches in thickness, thus making it entirely enclosed.

The Lincoln reservoirs are 140x30 feet, there being three of them, and they extend about three feet above the surface. A nice parkage has been built from the ground to the top of the walls on the outside, and is planted to alfalfa, and it is almost impossible to see the reservoirs until nearly on top of them.

The space for reservoir purposes in Alliance is 100x40 feet, which will necessitate the building of the walls higher above the surface, to offset the difference in lengths. It is thought by the investigating committee that here it will be necessary to build at least four feet and possibly five feet, above the surface. Mr. Kibble expressed himself as being favorable to going as far as the solid ground extends, and making up the difference by building all that is necessary on the top of the wall.

If the project goes through at the next council meeting, active construction work will probably start by June 15 of July 1, and it will require 30 days in which to finish, and it will be ready for use when the hottest weather arrives.

THE AUTOMOBILE CITY

Local Chalmers Dealer Gives Interview Regarding Detroit and Its Great Industry

"It has been truly said that the automobile industry has showered on Detroit a veritable cloudburst of dollars, but very little has been said and less written about the material prosperity that Detroit's automobile factories have brought to many other cities and thousands of people that live in them. The automobile business is so tremendous in this one city," said Ward B. Norton, the local Chalmers dealer, "that most of us are apt to think of the large output, so many thousands of automobiles made in one year, so many thousands more in another year—figures that suggest tremendous turnover, but this alone is not the big vital thing about Detroit and its big industry."

In other cities, some nearby, some far away, the wheels in thousands of factories are turning, making finished products of a vast array of raw materials. The factories in other cities are sending us each year hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of steel, iron, aluminum, brass, rubber, top material, paints, linoleum, batteries and scores of products too numerous to mention. Detroit is the hub of a great wheel, a great industrial wheel, the spokes of which may be represented by the railroad lines centering here or passing thru the city. Scores of freight trains are made up every day and depart for Detroit laden with freight worth thousands, all consigned to some great automobile factories here. The automobile industry of this city is not only of great local significance, but it means much to scores of cities and towns and to thousands of people outside of it.

"One need only look at the trade reports in the prominent financial papers to discover that what I have said here is true. The automobile industry has played a large part in the revival of the steel trade this year. It has played a large part in the revival of the leather business, in the revival of the machinery business, in the tool-making industry and scores of other industries. The whole country owes a debt to Detroit, the automobile city. No other city in this country and no one line of manufacture has done as much to bring about the revival of general prosperity as Detroit and the automobile."

Whooping Cough

"When my daughter had whooping cough she coughed so hard at one time that she had hemorrhage of the lungs. I was terribly alarmed about her condition. Seeing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy so highly recommended, I got her a bottle and it relieved the cough at once. Before she had finished two bottles of this remedy she was entirely well," writes Mrs. S. F. Grimes, Crooksville, Ohio. Obtainable everywhere.

Mrs. S. A. Smith

Sarah Alice Taylor was born in Lee county, Iowa, January 6, 1851, and died at her home at 424 Big Horn in Alliance May 3, 1915, at the age of 64 years, 3 months and 27 days.

On August 2, 1877, she was united in marriage to S. Amos Smith, whose death preceded hers 15 years, the husband dying in Alliance September 15, 1900. In the year 1866 they moved to this country from Iowa and took up a homestead near the present city of Alliance.

There were no children born to the union, and but one sister survives the deceased, the sister living in Prague, Oklahoma.
