The dance given by the Royal Highlanders at Gadsby hall Wednesday evening with the special music, was a decided success. The floor was crowded during the evening.

While returning from the ball game at Chadron Monday afternoon, a Ford auto belonging to John Lohr, driven by Albert Lohr, loaded with ball players, struck a concrete water tank midway between Chadron and Alliance. The boys were all thrown out and severely stunned, although no one was badly injured. The car was nearly demolished. They were compelled to stay in an abandoned sod house during the night, before help reached them.

H. J. Miller, who was sent to the penitentiary at Lincoln about two years ago for passing a forged check on E. G. Laing, with the name of H. H. Brandt signed thereon, has appealed for a pardon, the hearing to be given this week. Both Mr. Brandt and Mr. Laing believe that the man has been punished enough for his misdeed and have recommended that he be given his pardon.

Five more hoboies were taken into custody Wednesday morning. They were assessed $5 and costs, which they are paying with road work.

Leslie Garrison, who gave as his residence a town in Montana, was picked up Sunday evening and lodged in the city bastille, charged with carrying concealed weapons. In making his usual search of the railroad yards, Officer Lester came across Garrison, with a bunch of "bos, and a search revealed a large calibre Colt's upon his person. Garrison is a cripple, and when brought before Judge Roberts he claimed that he was on his way from Montana to Omaha where he was to undergo an operation, and as he had $90 on his person he brought along the arsenal to protect himself from bold, bad men. Garrison asked that Attorney Baker, of Harrison, be communicated with. This was done, and the lawyer established his identity, being a former acquaintance of the prisoner. It was thought that Garrison was not using the best judgment in the selection of his traveling companions, so the officers escorted him to the station and saw that he rode the cushions the remainder of the distance to Omaha.
