

T. J. DONOHUE
Steer Salesman

We are Meeting Our Many Sandhill Friends at Alliance
and Are Getting Better Acquainted

Donahue-Randall & Company

LIVE SALESMEN OF LIVE STOCK

ALLEN J. RANDALL
Cow Salesman

Each Member of the Firm an Active Salesman

No shipment too large and none too small to receive our closest personal attention. Each consignment handled and sold on its merits.

References: Our Many Satisfied Sandhills Customers.

Rooms 100-102 Exchange Building

South Omaha

Everything You Need

Our stock is comprised of everything that is used in building—from a chicken coop to a twenty-room house, and we always have the stock on hand for you, so there need be no delay. Furthermore you will find nothing here but selected and tested materials—the only kind you want in your buildings. We want to figure on your bill, whether it be large or small, and we will make you a price that will please you.

Come in any time—we are always ready to serve you—and we assure you courteous treatment and prompt service.

We handle all kinds of Builders' Hardware
Dierks
Lumber & Coal Co.

F. W. HARGARTEN, Manager.

The REMINGTON ALWAYS LEADS!

Every time-tested feature has been incorporated in the Model 10—no detail of improvement has been overlooked—and we know we have done a good turn to both our conscience and the buyer when we sell him a Remington.

Among the many features will be found the new tabulator and new ribbon mechanism; improved feed roll lock on the release lever, the new single escapement, which is much better; drop forged type bars, which need no guide to keep them in alignment, and last but not least, the incomparable strength and durability of the machine.

Then there is the Remington Junior—just the thing for the busy stockman who does not want to be bothered with a heavy machine. The Junior is compact, strong, and will do any kind of ordinary correspondence or manuscript work—and the biggest feature is the price—$50.

Either of these machines will be shipped on approval for 10 days, without obligation to buy on your part. Write to Denver office at 1635 Champa Street, or see J. A. Robinson, Alliance agent, phone Black 451, and let us demonstrate.

WM. REINHEIMER, District Representative

Some Forms of Rheumatism Curable
Rheumatism is a disease characterized by pains in the joints and in the muscles. The most common forms are: Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, Rheumatic Headaches, Sciatic Rheumatism and Lumbago. All of these types can be helped absolutely by applying some good liniment that penetrates. An application of Sloan's Liniment two or three times a day to the affected part will give instant relief. Sloan's Liniment is good for pain, and especially Rheumatic Pain, because it penetrates to the seat of the trouble, soothes the afflicted part and draws the pain. "Sloan's Liniment is all medicine." Get a 25c bottle now. Keep it handy in case of emergency.

THE ALLIANCE HERALD

LLOYD C. THOMAS, Business Manager
JOHN W. THOMAS, Editor HARVEY E. RHODES, City Editor

Published every Thursday by
THE HERALD PUBLISHING COMPANY
Incorporated

Lloyd C. Thomas, President J. Carl Thomas, Vice Pres.
John W. Thomas, Secretary

Entered at the post office at Alliance, Nebraska, for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, $1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

WORK!

Work is the one universal panacea for every human ill. Service is the sole purpose of, and only rational reason for, human existence. To reflect, clearly, the design of its Creator, every human life must, in its turn, create. The Divine Spirit that animates humanity, alone, produces the vision, impulse, zest to serve, and desire for self-expression,—is the controlling factor in life,—its electricity, gas, yeast. The gauge of progress; the measure of accomplishment.

Assuming, then, that every human life is a Dual Personality; that the spirit, or Divine part, is the real dominant permanent force in existence; that the material part, seemingly so real—which we see, touch, work and play with—is the most unreal thing in the world.

"A mist, a dream, a pleasant hour,
A bit of shifting sand,
A smile, a word, a fading flower,
Then,—vanished from the land."

How tremendously important becomes the obligation to work, to serve, faithfully with our whole strength and ability, lest—when that husk we call the body, that apparently real but actually unreal part of our dual personality,—

"Shall fall, perchance, in some sad vale,
Before another moon may wane,
And friends, reluctant, tell the tale,
Of work undone, life lived in vain."

Get the mist out of your eyes; the cotton out of your ears; the laggard out of your steps. Study the ideals the soul hangs up for your inspection; hear the music of the march of progress; see the significant signboard by the way. "Work while the day lasts, for the night cometh when no man can work." Clothe your feet with Divine impulse, and run, to execute with sureness, swiftness and fidelity, those designs which the great Architect of the Universe has committed to your charge. Then, when the twilight falls upon your brief day's work and the Human Husk drops into oblivion, be assured the Soul will move onward into "Statelier Mansions" and be assigned to Service in the execution of still greater designs.—Ford Times.

A POTATO MYSTERY

Carload Shrink 100 Bushels Between Hemingford and Lincoln
Judge Berry is confronted with a mystery, which he decided is unsolvable. It is simply this: "How can a carload of potatoes shrink 100 bushels in transit between Hemingford and Lincoln?"

Last November Ed Wildy, of Hemingford, shipped a car load of spuds to Chone Mozer, a produce dealer at Lincoln. In selling the potatoes Mr. Mozer kept his sales tickets, and after they had been disposed of, he found the weights about 100 bushels short. After some argument, Mozer brought suit against Wildy for the price of the 100 bushels, but at the trial Wildy introduced his scale tickets which showed there was no shortage when the potatoes were shipped. Likewise, Mozer introduced his sale tickets which showed the shortage. That's where the mystery comes in. The case was heard before Judge Berry Monday, but owing to the evidence, he withheld his decision until Tuesday morning, when he decided there was no cause for action and dismissed the case.

Regarding the Sheriffs

It was a queer co-incidence, but the officers looked just like human beings. The reception committee, which met the trains, often made blunders, and sometimes picked out common citizens, asking them if they were "sheriffs". One man who thought some one was trying to play a joke on him got a bit "sore" when asked the question, and responded in a surly tone of voice, "No, I'm not a sheriff," and walked on through the depot in a very indignant manner.

Some of the "boys" forgot their stars, and th's accounted in some degree for the confusion. Hereafter, it is requested that all sheriffs, when attending a convention, have a star made a foot in diameter, for the benefit of the reception committee.

In addition to being an efficient sheriff, Gus Severs, of Furnas, is a crack shot with either a rifle or shotgun. He attended the state shoot at North Platte in May, and made an enviable score during the three days. It is said that he can sight an escaping prisoner a mile distant, and he can shoot such curves that from that distance he can break the buttons on the prisoner's coat one at a time. This is a distinction to which few other officers in Nebraska can lay claim.

Among the familiar faces we noticed that of E. A. Rossiter, of Cherry county, who makes frequent visits to Alliance in the performance of his duty. For that reason he felt a little more at home at the convention than did most of the other "boys". If it wasn't for his carrying an official looking countenance all the time, he would be a pretty good looking fellow. However, Rossiter's official countenance was replaced by one of extreme agony and despair Tuesday afternoon when he sat down in the electrically charged chair in front of the Reo garage, at the earnest solicitation of his friends.

It has always been thought that Cal Cox, Box Butte county's guardian, was the largest in avoirdupois in the state. But this is not the case; the honor belongs to O. D. Hedge, of Webster county, who "stepped

THE "PRUDENT
MAN" KEEPS
HIS MONEY
SAFE

IT
IS IN

Burglars have a way of finding out the house in which money is hidden. That's the burglar's business.

The man that hides his money in the house or elsewhere is always in great danger of losing both his MONEY and his LIFE.

Hide your money in our bank, behind our thick walls and strong locks, and where men of known financial RESPONSIBILITY keep it safe for you.

Make OUR bank YOUR bank.

First State Bank

ALLIANCE, NEBRASKA

ADVICE ABOUT YOUR EYES

It is necessary that you know how to buy glasses intelligently. It is equally necessary to know where and from whom to buy them. After an experience of several years, we have kept in close and active association with many people we have treated for eye defects, and have as yet to find one complaint due to inefficient work. The proper lenses, with correctly fitted mountings, are essential to proper results.

DRAKE & DRAKE

Registered Optometrists
BROKEN LENSES DUPLICATED

it on" Mr. Cox considerably. The home man is putting forth every effort to add weight, and it is thought that by the time of next year's convention he will have succeeded in putting the Webster county officer in the shade.

John Nelson is the oldest in point of service that attended the convention. He is now serving his sixth consecutive term for Nelson county. Next comes O. D. Hedge, of Webster county, with five terms. Even our own sheriff ranks up with the majority, this being his third term.

J. F. Wilson, of Custer county, was made the "goat" Wednesday evening when a number of the other visiting sheriffs decided he needed a tonic. He was kept away from the carnival grounds all day, and in the evening was taken on the "Trip to Mars". He was unacquainted with the nature of the device, and when he went down the slide and came on the "White Way" he was greatly embarrassed, and was of the opinion that some people carry a joke too far.

Are You Rheumatic?—try Sloan's

If you want quick and real relief from Rheumatism, do what so many thousand other people are doing—whenever an attack comes on, bathe the sore muscle or joint with Sloan's Liniment. No need to rub it in—just apply the Liniment to the surface. It is wonderfully penetrating. It goes right to the seat of trouble and draws the pain almost immediately. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25c of any druggist and have it in the house—against Colds, Sore and Swollen Joints, Lumbago, Sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief. No. 1—Adv 5265

OLD PAPERS for sale at The Herald Office. Five cents per bundle.