TELEPHONE IMPROVEMENTS

Nebraska Telephone Co. Will Spend $10,000 in Improving the Alliance Exchange

This morning the Nebraska Telephone Company started work on improvements in the Alliance exchange that will cost at least $10,000, the principal part of which will be spent in stringing a new cable.

There will be ten thousand feet of new cable, it being of 200-pair capacity from the office to the alley. From the alley one hundred pairs will go north and one hundred pairs south, and from these will be run branches to all parts of town.

These improvements are necessitated on account of the ever increasing business. There are now 1100 subscribers to this exchange, and more are being added as fast as phones can be installed. In fact the demand is so great that new phones can hardly be secured in large enough quantities to meet the demand. Now that these improvements are being added, this delay will be for the most part eliminated.

The Nebraska Telephone Company surely has faith in the future of Alliance, else they would not spend this large sum of money in one lump. From a little one-operator exchange, the Alliance office has grown until it is the best in the state outside of the large cities. By the first of next year, according to Manager Gleason, it is estimated that there will be 1300 phones in operation.

People as a rule do not stop and consider the greatness of the telephone, nor the amount a telephone company has invested. At a small cost each month they are enabled to talk over a system that represents thousands of dollars.

The extension work here will be rushed to completion.

Miss Lillian Cole Married

The marriage of Miss Lillian May Cole to J. W. Murphy was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Cole, at Kansas City, Monday evening, June 28, Rev. Frank G. Smith of the First Congregational church of Kansas City officiating. The Coles lived in Alliance several years ago, at which time Miss Lillian was a small girl, and she is remembered by many people here as a beautiful, talented young lady. Mr. Murphy is not known by Alliance people, but he is said to be one of Kansas City's substantial young men. They will make their home for the present in Kansas City.

He Isn't Dead—Yet

A rumor was circulated the fore part of this week to the effect that Charles Pryor, who worked in the Alliance Cafe up to the time of the stockmen's convention, had dropped dead from heart failure at his home in Montana, to which place he went from here two weeks ago. The rumor was entirely unfounded, according to Mr. Pryor himself, who was able to write to Alliance friends this week and the letters do not bear any resemblance to a dead man's. No one seems to know where the news started.

NOTICE

All dogs must be provided with a 1915 license within the next thirty days and they must be securely fastened to the collar and worn at all times to afford protection. Otherwise, the dogs will be taken up and if not claimed within twenty-four hours they will be killed.

PENROSE E. ROMIG.

Chadron Will Celebrate

On Saturday, the 3rd, Chadron will hold their Fourth of July celebration, and it promises to be an event worth while. The feature of the day will be Hankinson's auto polo team, the same hat played here during the stockmen's convention, and there will be numerous other events for the entertainment of the public.

Chadron came to the stockmen's convention eighteen auto loads strong, and there will probably be that many go to Chadron from here, as their date does not conflict with most of the other celebrations in this part of the country.

Rebekah Picnic

The Alliance lodges of Rebekahs and Odd Fellows will hold a picnic at the Purinton grove, 5 miles north of Alliance next Sunday, the Fourth. Ice cream and pop will be served on the grounds at cost, and a general good time will be enjoyed. All Odd Fellows and families are invited to come with well-filled baskets, as the feature of the day will be an old fashioned basket dinner at noon.

Starvation.

What is it? What occurs? What part of the human mechanism fails first or last, when a person is deprived of food for a certain period of time? This is what takes place: During starvation the body loses weight, the various functions (walking, sitting up, etc.) become weaker, the body temperature first rises, then falls, and death supervenes after the loss of about 40 per cent of the body weight. The loss is not equally distributed among the various tissues, as the muscles and fat lose the most, then the bones, skin and liver, and (least of all) the heart, brain and spinal cord. Some persons starve without actually being denied food. Certain constitutional diseases bring on conditions which cause loss of weight and great weakness of every portion of the organism: the food eaten does not feed the disease ridden tissues and a state of starvation follows. Thus a person may starve even in the midst of plenty. Marked loss of weight, while in seeming good health, is a positive indication of some serious systemic disorder, which if treated in time will prevent further loss of weight and avert starvation and death.

Printing a Coin on Linen.

The print of a silver coin or medal may be made on silk or linen by dipping the fabric in a solution of nitrate of silver and stretching it over the face of the coin until the image is imprinted. The linen is sensitized by dipping it into a solution of nitrate of silver, made by dissolving sixty or eighty grains of nitrate of silver in one ounce of water. Wet the portion of the cloth which is to receive the impression in the solution, and when nearly dry draw it over the face of the coin and tie it at the back. Expose to a weak light, and in a few minutes the raised design of the coin will appear on the linen. As soon as the print is dark enough remove and wash in clear water. When nearly dry iron it smooth with a warm iron, placing a piece of tissue paper over the print. In printing from the coin or medal it is advisable to paste a piece of paper on the reverse side, so that the silver will not come in contact with the sensitized fabric.

An Irreverent Goat.

The Welsh fusiliers were presented by Queen Victoria with a goat, which, after several years of exemplary conduct, fell into bad ways. Its culminating act of insubordination occurred when the regiment was quartered at Wrexham, and one fine summer evening after mess the officers were strolling about smoking and enjoying the fresh air. The colonel stooped down to push in the end of his trousers strap, and the goat, which happened to be close by, found the temptation irresistible. He charged fiercely and butted his commanding officer against an adjacent wall with such force that both his eyes were blacked and his face was otherwise damaged. By this escapade the goat earned the title of "the Rebel," and only the good record of his early years of service saved him from being drummed out.—London Express.

No matter how insignificant a man may be, he is finally convinced that his superiority will some day be recognized.
