

SILO DEMONSTRATION TRIPS

Will Be Made Today and Tomorrow —Managed by County Demonstrator Seidell

The first of the two silo demonstration trips to be made in Box Butte county this year occurs this morning, the cars starting from the courthouse at 8:30. The trips are made under the auspices of the United States Department of Agriculture, under the direction of County Agent Seidell, and the commercial clubs of Alliance and Hemingford are cooperating in the work.

Several notable agricultural men will accompany on each trip, and among these will be Prof. Frandsen, head of the dairy department of the Nebraska Agricultural College, who will give short talks on ensilage, how it is prepared and fed, and the process that takes place when it is put into the silo. Prof. Wood, of the agricultural engineering department of the College, will speak on silo construction. These men are going prepared to answer any questions that might come up in regard to silos and ensilage.

The tours are being made by automobile, and all farmers who are interested and who want to accompany on either trip should phone the county agent or W. D. Fisher, of Alliance, or K. L. Pierce or A. S.
Ehneyart, of Hemingford.

No evening meetings will be held, as they are deemed unnecessary, and those who show an interest in the project can go in the daytime as well as at night. It is asked that all who can, make the trip both days. The excuse that you "have no way to go" cannot be accepted, as transportation is furnished to all who wish to accompany. The trips are not racing tours. The schedule has been arranged so that two good talks can be given at each place, and there will be time to answer questions. Everyone should co-operate and make the trips a success. All are asked to follow the leaders, and to stay in a body.

A DOUBLE TWISTER

Two Twisters Struck Antioch and Vicinity Last Friday Night with Damage that Was Heavy

Antioch, Neb., July 12—The twisters that crossed the country last Friday night did much damage to Antioch and surrounding country.
The one from the southwest struck Antioch proper taking with it all the out buildings, so that most of the people are now hiking for the woods.
At W. G. Wilson's ranch nearly everything was destroyed but the brick house, and the roof of it was so badly blown to pieces that it let the water through so badly that the inner part of the house was utterly destroyed. All the other buildings and fences were blown down with the exception of part of the barn in which stood three stallions valued at $700 each. The fourth stallion had the roof and side walls of his stall swept away, leaving him standing without shelter to face the storm. Two other horses and about seven cows were in the barn but all escaped unhurt. The loss at Mr. Wilson's ranch is estimated at about $2,000. Morton Swaney who was stopping at the ranch spent this time holding a door shut against the storm and today he looks ten years older, caused by the fright.
At Jess Wilson's ranch the barn and all corals were carried away, leaving nothing but the house, and that was badly shattered.
The wind mill that stood by Mr.
Clough's house was torn to pieces, but no other damage was done.

The twister from the northwest struck Eugene Thompson's ranch and destroyed some of the small buildings about the ranch. Lightning having struck Mr. Thompson's house let the water through the roof in streams, which did much damage to his carpets and furniture. The plastering has mostly all fallen off the house. At Charles Herings' the wind mill was destroyed and at his father's ranch the chicken house was taken, which killed nearly all the chickens.

Mrs. Holmes is suffering with a headache, caused by being stunned by a stroke of lightning which struck the house last Friday during the wind storm.

The loss of cattle was small, as nearly as we know at present.

Men who have lived in this country thirty years say that never before has any such twister struck this part of the country.

The hail that followed the wind storm utterly destroyed the gardens and crops wherever it struck.

Tie your dog at the front gate if you don't want the insurance man to get you, after such a storm.

Mr. Wilson made a trip to Alliance this week in his car. On returning home he ran into a mud hole, at which time he kindly asked those with him to remove their shoes and stockings and get out and push. He joined the bare footed paddlers in overcoming the difficulty.

Fred Smith received his second carload of machinery today and is now well stocked to supply the ranchers for haying.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy, thick with a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandma's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the cumbrous task of gathering the sage and the musar mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle.
It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time; by morning the hair will be dark, and what defies the lace with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur hair remedy, becomes beautifully black. It is a few applications of this product that soft lustre appearance of abundance which is so valuable. It prevents dandruff, greasy and falling hair.

Profit — Profit who's got the profit?

The Cruel Banker

Mr. Edgley, of the rising young firm of Edgley & Taylor, Clothiers, calls on Banker Townley.

"Good morning, Mr. Townley.
Didn't see you at the club supper last night."

"Good morning, Edgley. Anything I can do for you?" Townley's manner registers a lack of cordiality.

"Why, yes. I want to fix up a little loan—just a thousand—want to discount some bills."

"I see—mm—possibly. First, I want to ask you a few questions."

"Certainly, Mr.
Townley. Our books are open to you."

"They may be open to me—but are they to you?"

"I don't quite get you, Mr. Townley."

"Never mind—we'll try the questions."

How Much Do You Owe?"

"Why—er—I'd have to have that figured up. I can let you know tomorrow."

"You ought to have the figures right in your inside pocket. How much is there owing you?"

"Let me see—"

"Well, never mind, I see you don't know. Does your shirt and underwear or hat department pay the best per cent net profit?"

"We couldn't very well get at anything more than an approximate estimate of that. I guess the profit on hats would lead, however."

"You guess. I don't like guess-work as a basis for loans. How much does it cost you to do business?"

"Twenty per cent is considered a safe estimate in the clothing business."

"I See—More Guess-Work

Who is your most profitable clerk?"

"I pass, Mr. Townley. I'm beginning to see the point, too."

Mr. Townley's manner warms slightly.

"Now see here, Edgley, you get the thousand all right. I know you are solvent if you don't; and moreover, I'll know when you become insolvent a long time before you do, unless you change your methods."

You will need a mechanical means of handling figures so your bookkeeper can do all his regular work and give you, besides this, vital information about your business. That means that your first move is to get a Burroughs Figuring Machine.
We use it in the Bank here—glad to show you how it works. When the Burroughs man comes to show you the machine you ought to get, you and your bookkeeper have a good talk with him.
Tell him just what your problems are.
He is up on accounting work and can be a big help in starting you right toward getting at the facts of your business. All this won't add to your running expenses. Your bookkeeper, with the help of the figuring machine, can do all the work and do it more easily. What will be the result?

You and Taylor Will Know How You Stand

Every day, you will know which lines are paying and which are losing; which salesmen are doing the best work; how this week compares in sales and profit with the same week last year; how much you owe and is owing you. All of this information, and much more that is of basic importance, you will get every day or every week in condensed reports.

"Then, when you need a temporary accommodation, I won't be able to ask a lot of embarrassing questions."

"Say, Mr. Townley, I'm sorry Taylor couldn't have heard this talk of yours.
Anyway, we'll act on your advice right away. Thanks for the loan."

The Burroughs Adding Machine Company issues a book, "A Better Day's Profits." It points the way the title suggests. It tells how simple it is to know your business. Thousands of merchants have made money by adopting the ideas in this book. It shows where profits leak away and how to stop it.
It's free. Write for it.

We'll Thank You for It

"Very well. The general plan I shall suggest will involve some extra figuring."

Carries Nail in Hip

A. M. Wilson of Lakeside, who went to a hospital in Missouri some time ago for an operation on his hip, which had been injured, has an X-ray picture showing the method which is being used to cure the trouble. The hip bone was broken and in order to bind it together the surgeons drove a four and one-half inch spike through the bone. The picture shows the spike very plainly. Mr.
Wilson walks around and has the use of the limb. He has been out of the hospital about ninety days. At Excelsior Springs they told him that the spike would probably be left in the bone for one year, until the same healed.
