

FARMERS' CLUB MEETING

Profitable and Enjoyable Day Spent at the Home of L. J. Schill

The Farmers' Club met Tuesday at the L. J. Schill ranch, where a very profitable and enjoyable day was spent by both old and young. It is a pleasure to anyone interested in farm work to visit Mr. Schill's place, where can be found the new modern equipped barn, with silo, milking machine and all other conveniences that give forth an air of up-to-dateness and prosperity. Mr. and Mrs. Schill proved themselves host and hostess of unusual ability. Seventy-three were present to partake of a dinner that could not be criticized, as nothing that is good to eat was missing from the table, and everything was served in the proper style so that no one went away hungry.

A business meeting was held in the afternoon, and the program was carried out. Mrs. Laing was given a hearty encore after her reading and it was necessary for her to return. Mrs. Beal recited some poetry of her own composition; Jack Miller rendered a vocal solo. Mr. Workman gave a talk that was only too short, entitled, "Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself." Mr. Seidell talked on the good roads question, and last but not least E. G. Laing treated the crowd to watermelon.

It was decided that next month's meeting will be held at the home of Wm. Rust, Jr., on August 17.

Traveling Man's Experience
"In the summer of 1888 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from 4 a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At 5 o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W. Ireland, of Louisville, Ky. Obtainable everywhere.

MOTORCYCLE RACES

Will Be Held at the Fair Grounds Next Sunday, the 25th—Good Program Is Assured

The fair grounds next Sunday, the 25th, will be the scene of some of the best motorcycle races ever held in this section of the country. There are seven entrants already, and it is probable that there will be two or three more before the race start. Among those who will ride are several that entered the races at the stockmen's convention. The entrants thus far are Chas. Schafer, of Alliance, G. D. Langston, L. D. Bowman, Ralph Dull, and P. H. Palmer, of Grand Island, J. A. Emery, of Scottsbluff, and Geo. Perkins, of Mitchell, all of whom are in the semi-professional class.

The track is now in good shape, and the boys are going to make some speed Sunday afternoon. Among others, there will be a 30-mile and a 20-mile race.

FARM RECORD WORK

County Agent Seidell is Ahead of Other Agents

County Agent Seidell this week received a copy of the semi-annual report of the farm management survey work of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, University of Nebraska, and it is shown that Mr. Seidell leads in the survey work. His record since May 31, 1915, when the work

A wants to sell something. B wants to buy it. X is the advertisement that brings them together.

X costs money. It's the bring together price.

A makes more money by selling to many B's and can therefore pay for X. A benefits. B benefits.

That's advertising in a nutshell.

It has been tried out in every conceivable way, and it works.

It works especially well in this home newspaper, as many of our merchants and all of our readers know.

was started here, is 2.6 farms a week, or 13 farms. There is a total of 26, but part of these were taken through other sources than the county agent. The closest to Mr. Seidell, in the counties that have demonstration agents, is about 1.6, giving him a nice lead.

He has lately received a sample of a farm record book that is meeting with the approval of all the farmers. The book is neatly ruled, compact, and contains pages for all kinds of records. These can be obtained for 10 cents each while the supply lasts.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Attorney Burton was in Scottsbluff the first of this week on legal business.

Walter Jones, of Grand Island, district traffic chief for the Nebraska Telephone Company, is in the city.

Mrs. Ida M. Ross left Wednesday night for a visit with relatives in Washington. She expects to be gone about two months.

Pepe Sights, who recently visited Hot Springs, where he stopped at the Evans hotel, is in the city.

William King, the old time referee, is scheduled to referee the boxing contest to be pulled off at Bridgeport on Tuesday, July 27, between Jess Verbeck of Bridgeport and Fred Parks of Sidney. These boxers weigh the same and are matched for fifteen rounds with eight ounce gloves. A number of the local fans are planning to attend.

Miss Laura Morrison, daughter of Engineer and Mrs. E. R. Morrison, of Crawford, was married on July 4 to Jack Potts of Hot Springs, the marriage taking place in Hot Springs. The Morrison's formerly lived in Alliance, where the bride is well known. They will make their home at Hot Springs, where Mr. Potts has a good position.

Thirty-six for 25 Cents

Dr. King's New Life Pills are now supplied in well-corked glass bottles, containing 36 sugar coated white pills, for 25c. One pill with a glass of water before retiring is an average dose. Easy and pleasant to take. Effective and positive in results. Cheap and economical to use. Get a bottle today, take a dose to-night—your constipation will be relieved in the morning. 36 for 25c, at all druggists.

BELIEVES IN SILOS

Alliance Lumberman a Strong Booster for Farmer's "Bank Account"

Among the silo boosters in Box Butte county is Geo. A. Hellman, manager of the Forest Lumber Company. Not because he is interested in silos because he sells them, but because he knows what they will do for the farmer. Mr. Hellman has made a careful study of silos and ensilage, and can readily answer almost any question in that regard that is asked of him.

A Herald reporter recently visited the Forest office to investigate the plans of the "Common Sense" silo, which they handle. The plan is a rather unique one, the walls being constructed of two-by-fours laid flat with interlocking ends, making the silo octagonal shape. One of the claims made for the Common Sense is that it cannot possibly blow down in anything less than a disastrous tornado, and it needs no anchoring, and this claim has been borne out on several occasions. The great feature of this type silo is that the height is not fixed—it can be extended from year to year as is needed. A small model on display in the office shows the construction. This silo can be lined with roofing, and will last a natural life time.

While Manager Hellman believes the "Common Sense" to be the best silo plan, at the same time he is not radical on the subject. He wants to see silos in Box Butte county—and lots of them—whether they are "Common Sense" or not.

Too Horrible to Contemplate.

"No, Mr. Upp," Phyllis said, with a sigh. "I cannot marry you. I confess that I have much more than a friendly feeling for you, but suppose we were to marry and you should die and leave me in straitened circumstances and I should take in boarders and they should make a pun of my name as landlady, calling me Phyllis Upp?"—London Stray Stories.

Trying For the Cheerful.

A Boston doctor says that one should always be cheerful at the breakfast table. But what is a chap going to do when some selfish, self centered member of the family hustles down early to cop the morning newspaper and then hangs onto it like grim death throughout the course of the meal?—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Freak of the Sea.

Like the ribs of a long dead giant so stand the rusty ribs of the U. S. S. Waterer, two miles inland, at the foot of the Andes, where the ship was deposited in 1808 by a monster tidal wave. The ship, with practically its entire crew aboard, was swept from its anchorage off Irica and carried inland, where it was left on an even keel, almost uninjured.

OUR LIFE.

Our life is like the life of a tree—again and again stripped of every sign of life that it has put forth and yet which still has gathered all those apparent failures into the success of one long, continuous growth.—Phillips Brooks.

Beautiful Brass Bedsteads

Reasonably Priced

You spend more than one-third of your life in bed, so why not live that time in comfort? We have a line of brass bedsteads that are models of elegance, yet they cost you no more than the common kind. Quality radiates from every pillar and filler, and when you buy one of them you are assured that you are getting the very best.

One of these bedsteads would be as beautiful ornament as you could put into any room, and they are all new models and exclusive patterns. Light weight, and the quality is high for the price. Guaranteed to give satisfaction.

We have them with the two and three inch round or square pillars, and with five and seven one-inch fillers in the head and foot. Brass bedsteads are increasing in value all the time, and if you are figuring on buying one in the near future, it will pay you to look at our line. Of course brass bedsteads cost more than the other kind, but they will last a lifetime.
