Over 90 per cent of Business Men Fail

Men fail in business because they do not know the game. They lack system and a thorough knowledge of their business, The reason why so many would-be farmers fail is because they know little or nothing of the science of farming. They think anybody can farm and then are surprised to find that their crops will not grow. The farmer who is always behind, who always has bad luck with his crops, is the man who farms by guess and trusts to luck. If he were in the mercantile business he would be in the hands of a receiver within a year. He is a failure but he hangs on because the poorest farmer can get a living out of the land if he only plows and sows the seed.

An Agricultural Education

The first thing a young man who intends to go into business should do is to take a course in a business college. Here he can become familiar with the first principles of business, without which he will fail. The first thing a man who expects to farm should do is to take a course in an agricultural college, if he can, but if he has not the time or the money to spend in a two-year course, he can get the same instruction at home by taking a course in the Campbell Correspondence School of Soil Culture. Everything is furnished-books and all-at a very slight cost, and the best thing about it, he does not have to leave the farm or his work.

He can choose from the following courses:

Soil Improvement Course Horticultural Course imall Farming Course

Cereal Culture Course Dry Farming Course Farm Engineering Course Soil Tillage Course

Summer is the time to study agriculture, and the farm and garden is the laboratory in which to work out the problems. Don't wait for fall or winter to begin, but get bsuy now. You will learn more in one summer applying your instruction in the fields than in a dozen winters sitting by the fire. Send for our catalog Number 8. It will not cost you a cent.

A Modern Fable The beasts and birds once held a creat assembly and passed many laws governing the conduct of the barnyard. After much wise legislag tion had been passed, the goat, who, up to this time, had remained silent, proposed a law making it compulsory for geese and other fowl to clip their wings. At this such an outery arose from the feathered denizens of the barnyard that the goat, much abashed, sought to amend the measure by providing that all dogs and foxes be muzzled. Hereupon the dogs and foxes decried him, accusing him of being a false friend and a traitor. Well," he replied, "I proposed the law only to oblige you, as I thought you were my friends. I was too dense to see your purpose, but I understand it now. Hereafter I will

Breathes there a man with soul so dead who never to himself has said: That editor has quite a head. I'm glad I take his paper. He's got a lot of grit and sand, he prints the news to beat the band, and that's the proper caper. He soaks the grafters in the neck, he saves the ship of state from wreck, he's Johnnie on the spot. by heck, when things are in a jumble. He writes the ads that bring the dough, he chases all our gloom and woe, he tells us all we want to know-and yet he is quite humble. He never gets a bit stuck up, he's worked since Hector was a pup, to earn his daily bit and sup, and have a little over. I know we owe him many plunks, so let us shame the other skunks and furnish him with kale in chunks, wherewith to live in

An old railroad employee was converted at a meeting and was asked to lead in prayer. He hesitated a moment, and then with a trembing our clear, resounding voice, he said rev-"Oh, Lord, now that I have flagged thee, lift up my feet from the rough road of life and plant them safely on the deck of a train of salvation. Let me use the safety lamp known as prudence and make all the couplings in the train with the strong link of love. Let my hand lamp be the Bible. And, Heavenly Father, keep all the switches closed that lead off into sidings, especially those with a blind end. O Lord, if it be thy pleasure have every semaphore block along the line show the white light of hope that I may make the run of life without stopping, and Lord give me the Ten Commandments for the schedule. And when I have finished the run on schedule time and pulled into the dark station of death, may the Superintendent of the Universe "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, come and sign the pay roll and receive your check for eternal happiness.—Gillette News:
