It Will Only Be a Burden to You When You Attend Alliance's Labor Day Celebration

Alliance is going to prove herself a host de luxe to the people in the town and surrounding country on Monday, September 6, for that's when that Labor Day celebration is going to be held. Even at this early date nearly all the arrangements are completed for the amusements, and judging from the list you'll say after it is over that you never paid an admission price of fifty cents for better or more varied entertainment, no matter where it was held.

Every number on the program is a headline attraction, and even with the program one-half the size it is, everyone would feel well repaid for coming many miles to attend. One of the big events will be the balloon ascensions. Then there is the wrestling match, two ball games, the two-mile relay race, grey pig, fat man's race, cowboy and cowgirl races. A greasy pig has been a headliner at attractions for years, yet it holds the same fascination and produces as much mirth for the onlookers as it always did. In view of the fact that they have never pulled off that promised boat race, it is expected that Cy Laing and Cal Cox will enter the greasy pig contest. This alone assures the success of this number.

An event of importance will be the two-mile relay race between the three fast teams of the Alliance volunteer fire department. The boys are practicing already. The rivalry is going to be keen and some fast work is assured. There will be plenty of good music during the day.

While this Labor Day celebration is for everyone, the farmers and their families are especially invited. Put some extra braces on the wagon or automobile if necessary, but at any rate, bring the entire family and enjoy Alliance's hospitality for a full day. As is printed on the big bills, the admission price is one big smile, and surely there is no one in or around Alliance that can't produce that one requisite.

While the program thus far includes only the numbers mentioned in a foregoing paragraph, there will be many others added before the 6th, and these will probably include a ba-

Mrs. C. E. Hershman went to Bridgeport Monday for a few days' visit with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Mann, and friends.

Mrs. F. M. Peoples came in Sunday from Lincoln for a few days' visit with Mrs. R. E. McKenzie.

Internal Revenue Collector Orange returned home Sunday from a week's trip to Chadron, Long Pine and other points on the Northwestern.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rice went to Antioch Sunday for a few days' visit with friends.

Miss Myrtle Mann, of Crawford, was the guest of Alliance friends between trains Sunday, on her way home from Scottsbluff where she had attended the Sunday school convention.

Miss Hazel Bowman spent Sunday with friends at Mitchell.

Harry Claytor, Burlington relief operator, was here between trains Monday on his way to Ellsworth where he had been transferred.

Miss Julia Cooley returned to her home at Cleveland, Ohio, Monday after a visit here with her brother-in-law, Jack Lister, and family.

S. L. Clements departed Saturday for Elmwood, Neb., where he will visit for a few weeks with his parents, after which he will proceed to Lincoln to take up the work in the University for the coming year. Mr. Clements has proven himself a very competent and popular instructor during his connection with the Alliance public schools, and will be greatly missed, not only in the schools but socially as well. He has had charge of the agricultural and manual training departments, and both departments have made rapid strides under his tutelage.

Miss Ella Mohr came up from Lincoln Friday for a few days' visit with friends.

Miss Lillian Crejcie was taken to St. Joseph's hospital Sunday night to be operated on for appendicitis. The attack came very suddenly, as she had felt in the best of health until late in the afternoon. She is 14 years old.

Mrs. H. E. Thurston returned to her home at Ashby Monday after a few days here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hunsaker.

Rev. Titus Lang departed Monday for Deshler, Neb., to attend the synodical meeting of the Lutheran church, which will be held there from the 18th to the 24th.

Fred Weiser and wife, of Cedar Bluffs, Neb., have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tully. They are on their honeymoon trip. Mr. Weiser is an old friend of Percy Rolfson and F. W. Hicks.

Miss Lucy O'Brien returned home Saturday from Omaha where she had been for the past three weeks visiting with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Kate Painter returned to her home at Broken Bow last Friday after an extended visit here with her daughters, Mrs. Fred Vaughn and Mrs. J. Carr.

Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Young and family departed Friday for Hot Springs to enjoy his vacation with friends, and picnicing. They expect to be away about ten days.

Thomas Morrow and wife, father and mother of J. C. Morrow of Alliance, who have been visiting their son and family here for about two weeks, returned to their home Monday. They live at Scottsbluff.

Bruce Wilcox turned over the office of the News-Blade at Bridgeport last Saturday to his son Max and Al Snediker, and came up to visit with Mrs. Wilcox and friends until Monday. Mr. Wilcox, while in the Herald office a few minutes, said that the newspaper business was rushing and that they had all the work they could possibly attend to. This sounds good, as August and September are considered the dulllest business months in the newspaper business, and the Herald is pleased to know that Mr. Wilcox is getting what he deserves.

Miss Ruth Moore went to Lakeside Saturday for a few days' visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rice came over from Gordon Saturday for a few days' visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hobbs.

Miss Oza Johnson, who had been here visiting with her sister, Mrs. Bruce McGrowell, returned to her home near Canton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hobbs and son Myers on Monday went to Wheatland, Wyoming, near which place Myers will take a homestead. His parents accompanied him to assist him in making a selection. Myers expects to return this fall and will teach at the same school as last year, near Moffitt.

Mrs. G. N. Butler came in Saturday from Deadwood, S. D., for a short visit with her aunt, Mrs. B. T. Hedges.

Mrs. L. E. Mark went to Seneca Saturday for a visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Manning, of Seward, who had been here for the past three weeks visiting with Mrs. Chas. Brown and Mrs. F. G. Blaine and families, returned to their home Saturday.

William Doenges, a typewriter expert, who makes his headquarters at Chicago, stopped in Alliance last week and spent some time going over the local typewriter repair situation.

Mr. Donald, with the government reclamation service, was in Alliance last week. Mrs. Donald was ill and they were compelled to stay here a short time until she recovered sufficiently to travel. They went from Alliance to Scottsbluff.

John A. Easton, of Tecumseh, Nebraska, who owns a valuable farm west of Alliance, stopped over last week with his daughter, on their way home from Dawson county, Montana, where each one of them fled on a homestead. They spent some time looking over the county while here and were well pleased with the excellent crops.

Rev. and Mrs. Frank Woten, of Scottsbluff, were here a short time Saturday visiting and attending to business matters.

Mrs. Sarah Gilleran received a telegram last Thursday afternoon announcing the death of her niece at Omaha, the child being a daughter of her sister, Mrs. Margaret Mallan. Mrs. Gilleran departed Thursday night for Omaha to attend the funeral. Her daughter, Marie Gilleran, was at Norwalk, Ia., visiting at the time, and she also went to Omaha in response to a telegram.

Mrs. J. C. Ray and three children came in the latter part of last week from Omaha for a few days' visit with her cousin, E. W. Ray, and family.

Mrs. W. E. Baker came in last week from Henry to receive medical attention at the hospital. Mrs. Baker is a sister of E. W. Ray.

Mrs. H. O. Eastman came in last Thursday from Crawford for a few days' visit with Miss Margaret Carmichael.

A bridal party from Bayard received a serious setback on their journey last Thursday when they missed their train out of Alliance. We did not learn where they were going, but it was some point east of here. It is not surprising that the bride and groom did not hear the train called, but it is surprising that the remainder of the party were so engrossed. All remained here until 42 arrived when they continued their journey.

C. L. Klempke was here between trains Tuesday on his way to his home at Hemingford from Omaha where he had taken a bunch of cattle to market.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hobbs and son Myers went to Wheatland, Wyo., Tuesday to attend to business matters.

The convention of the Box Butte county W. C. T. U. is being held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Reed at 422 Sweetwater, today, and there is a good attendance. The program appears in another part of this week's issue.

Philip Nohe pulled this one Tuesday: "Did you know they were giving away birds with each glass of soda water at Brennan's today?" Of course anyone would ask what kind of birds, to which Mr. Nohe replied, "swallows".

E. B. Ogde and family, who had been here for the past week visiting with the Wm. Bignell family, departed Tuesday for their home at Belleville, Ill. The Ogdes had stopped off here on their way home from a visit at the San Francisco exposition.

Mrs. Ellen Prouty and daughter Bessie, of Alvo, Neb., and Mrs. Sara Perry, of Greenwood, Neb., who had been here for a short visit with their niece, Mrs. J. S. Rhein, and family, returned to their homes Tuesday.

Miss Tina Chevront came in the first of last week for a visit with her cousin, Mrs. J. S. Rhein.

Mrs. John McDonald went to Lincoln Tuesday for a short visit with relatives and friends. She expects to return home Friday.

Misses Stella and Blanche Hickey, who had been here visiting with P. H. Dillon and family, returned to their home at Manila, Iowa, Tuesday.

Dr. C. E. Slagle returned last Thursday from Omaha where he had accompanied Wm. Hill, who went there to be placed under the care of a specialist. The last reports regarding Mr. Hill's condition were not at all encouraging, his condition being extremely critical.

Madames James T. Martin and J. G. Ficklin were up from Bingham the first of this week, visiting and shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Colerick departed Tuesday for Nemaha, Neb., for a few weeks' visit with old friends and to attend the Old Settlers' Reunion which is to be held in that city next week.

J. L. Williams, irrigated land dealer, went to Wheatland, Wyo., Tuesday with a party of five interested men from this and other sections.

Mrs. R. E. McCool and children went to Ellsworth Tuesday for a few days' visit with Mr. McCool's parents, who live at that place.

A letter to Alliance friends a few days ago from John Workman, Sr., stated that they intended to soon return to Alliance to make their home. Mr. Workman traded his Alliance property recently for a farm near Springfield, Mo., but said that the climate there was very detrimental to Mrs. Workman's health and that they would come to Alliance as soon as they could dispose of the farm.

Mrs. Ward Norton went to Ellsworth Tuesday accompanied by her little sister, Bessie Jones, who had been visiting here for the past ten days, and will visit there until the latter part of this week with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kish departed Tuesday for Kearney, Neb., for a visit with her parents, who live near that town. They expect to be away about two weeks, and before returning will visit at Lincoln, Omaha, St. Joe and other points.

LAI'D TO REST

John A. Mallery Buried in Greenwood Cemetery Last Friday—Ceremony by B. P. O. E.

The remains of J. A. Mallery were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery last Friday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted from the house by Rev. Olin S. Baker, and the burial services were in charge of the Alliance B. P. O. Elks.

The body, in charge of the sons, Earl and Bruce, came in on No. 303 Friday noon. As the casket bearing the deceased was removed to the hearse, nearly fifty members of the Alliance order of Elks lined in double file in front and acted as a cortege from the depot to the residence. All members of that order attended the funeral in a body, and from 1:30 to 3 o'clock Friday afternoon every place of business in town was closed that all might pay tribute to the memory of this honorable, upright man. The pallbearers were Jerry Rowan, R. M. Hampton, C. A. Newberry, H. E. Marvin, J. N. Andrews and W. W. Norton.

Rev. Baker in the course of his eulogy paid many tributes to the memory of the one who had met such an untimely death in the mountains, when the world seemed so bright, and gave solace to the surviving relatives by assuring them that the separation was only a temporary one. The Elks ritual was observed at the cemetery. Esteemed Knight T. S. Fielding officiating. Dozens of beautiful floral tributes were presented by friends who accompanied the body to its last resting place.

Hundreds of sincere condolences were offered to the son Bruce, who was the only relative present when death came. When Bruce started on what promised to be a most enjoyable trip, he was gay and light hearted, and those who saw him on his return were startled at the transformation. From a young man, he had changed in appearance to only a shadow of his former self, and with lagging step caused by sleepless nights and grief, he walked up the station platform into the midst of friends.

A few more details of the father's death were added Thursday afternoon. Bruce and his father had made camp at noon, prepared dinner, and were resting from their arduous trip. As the day was rather warm they decided to continue their journey so they might enjoy the breeze which would be created by riding in the automobile. A short time after starting Mr. Mallery complained that it was hard for him to breathe, and that he would have to loosen his belt. Bruce was of the opinion that the tenseness of the air would soon abate, but a few minutes afterward felt his father's head on his shoulder. A brief examination convinced him that death had arrived, but he drove a short distance further to a farm house where physicians were summoned, who stated that life was extinct. An undertaker was secured at Burley, thirty-five miles distant, by phone, and the body was taken into that town the same evening, and the return home was started Wednesday evening of last week.

NO OFFICIAL MEETING

Council Held Informal Meeting and Considered Several Matters Now of Interest

Because of the fact that it was impossible to obtain a quorum at the adjourned meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, an informal meeting was held. Councilmen Snyder, Rowan, Welch, Davis and Fleming were present.

A delegation of ladies were present with the police matron. They asked that the curfew ordinance be enforced. This ordinance was looked up and was found to be ordinance No. 84, passed September 2, 1903. It provides that the fire bell shall be rung at 8 o'clock p. m. from April 1 to October 1, and at 7 o'clock p. m. from October 1 to April 1. All children under sixteen are forbidden to loaf or loiter on the streets after the ringing of the curfew under penalty of a fine of not more than $25 or thirty days in jail. The city attorney held that this ordinance could not be enforced with the penalties provided. He was instructed to look up the legal phases of the matter, and it will be taken up at the next meeting. The committee on ordinances will consider the matter and be prepared to present or draft an ordinance in accordance with the state laws.

The ladies also called attention to the sale of tobacco to boys under eighteen years of age. Inasmuch as a state law prohibits this they were asked to take the matter up with the county authorities.

Glen Miller called attention to the condition of the street crossings on Box Butte avenue near Central school. These crossings were ordered put in good condition. Moses Wright stated that a crossing be installed at Seventh and Missouri. This will be attended to.

Now that the cemetery has been turned over to the city plans are being made to get it in presentable shape. The question of hiring a man to spend all of his time there

Carried the Advertising

The Herald is very gratified at the constant increase in display advertising. Local merchants find that Herald advertising brings them results, with the result that they increase the amount of space used. The amount of advertising in The Herald, as compared with other Alliance papers, in the regular issue of August 5th, was as follows:

Alliance Herald, one issue, week of August 5th	905 inches
Alliance Semi-Weekly Times, two issues, week of August 3rd and 6th	745 inches
Alliance News, one issue, week of August 5th, not including readyprint ads, for which the publisher gets nothing	212 inches

The Herald's circulation, for the first six months of the year 1915, averaged more than 2520 copies per issue, a total of more than 63,000 copies for that period of time.
