MILK ORDINANCE WAS REPEALED

City Council Decides to Draw New Ordinance Eliminating Objectionable Features

LARGE CROWD AT MEETING

The city council chamber was packed to overflowing Tuesday evening at the regular council meeting for this month. There were a number of the local dairymen and several farmers present, they being there at the invitation of Mayor Romig to discuss ordinance number 214, which passed first, second and third reading at the October meeting and which was published in The Herald following.

L. H. Highland, president of the Retail Merchants Association, was present and presented a remonstrance against the ordinance, signed by local business men and citizens. Mr. Highland stated that he had had conversations with consumers who were of the opinion that the ordinance would increase the price of dairy products, as they were of the opinion that the producers would have to increase the price to the consumer. He stated that no two persons seemed to understand the ordinance in the same light and that a number seemed to think that it was class legislation in favor of the Alliance Creamery—an erroneous idea. He believed that it would be wise to not adopt the present ordinance.

Enoch Boyer, dairyman, stated that he had not paid much attention to the ordinance but that he was of the opinion that the state laws covered the matter.

L. M. Beal, dairyman, stated that he thought it the duty of the state to look after the inspection of cattle and dairies. He stated that his dairy had never been inspected, that a state officer had stopped there last summer but that he did not inspect the cattle, and that he did not know that the state had ever inspected the cattle in the county. He believed the license to be out of place and that it was the main objection against the ordinance.

The clerk read the ordinance section by section and it was discussed in this way.

W. E. Spencer, manager of the Alliance Creamery, stated that the creamery had approximately 1,000 patrons and that if the ordinance was allowed to go into effect in its present form, it would require the patrons to have all cows inspected and take out licenses. He thought that certain things about the ordinance were very good and that the state law covered things very well.

Mrs. Ole Davig asked regarding the butter proposition and stated that she had read in the Alliance Times that butter could not be sold in town unless a license was secured. Mr. Salows, editor of the Times, stated that he had been misinformed and that the article was incorrect.

The mayor stated that Lincoln and Omaha have butter ordinances but the ordinance under discussion did not effect butter. He read from the state laws, showing that the inspection proposition is optional with the state officials. The mayor further stated that it was not intended that a hardship should be worked on anyone but that the proposition of proper sanitary conditions was in view. Before the present ordinance was drawn up he had secured copies of the ordinances covering the proposition from Chadron, North Platte, Norfolk, Hastings, Nebraska City and Lincoln, and that the Alliance ordinance was mild compared with some of them. While the Box Butte county cattle were not liable to tuberculosis there was danger of cattle which were shipped in having it, and an ordinance requiring inspection should be in effect for the protection of infants. He stated that he had been "bothered almost to death" by people who secured a wrong idea of the ordinance, one lady calling him up from thirty miles out to let him know that she "didn't" have to sell her eggs in Alliance" and that a farmer nearly threatened to assassinate him because he "couldn't sell his spuds" in this city.

L. S. Campbell, well known veterinarian, stated that he wanted to see the ordinance passed, that tubercular cows have been sold here and are still here, that manure has been taken from Alliance, fed to cows and the milk sold here, that in the past cows had been watered from the sewer overflow. Mr. Campbell stated that he had lived in Alliance for eleven years and had no protection, and that the town people want protection against unhealthy cows, that the tuberculin test was ninety-five per cent accurate and that tuberculosis can be communicated from cattle to human beings.

Jack Riordan, well known saloon man, stated that he had signed the remonstrance because he was told that the ordinance prohibited the selling of "butter, eggs, potatoes and grain," that he knew there were tubercular cows and that he believed they should be compelled to undergo an inspection.

Councilman Was stated that the intended purpose of the council was to see that the cows were put to the test for tuberculosis and to prevent the spread of contagious diseases, that the license proposition was not given serious consideration, that the dairy business was an important one to Box Butte county and that it should be given every encouragement. He moved that the proposed ordinance be not given final approval, that a new ordinance be drawn up requiring all cows to be given the tuberculin test and that all milk receptacles be under the supervision of the city health department. The motion was carried.

Councilman Davis stated that he wanted a new ordinance that would be fair to all and that would require inspection. E. G. Laing stated that inspection was necessary and that he was in favor of it. Former Mayor Rodgers stated that he believed all of the business men to be in favor of inspection but that the new ordinance should be modified.

Before the new ordinance is passed by the council it will be given by the mayor to the newspapers so that all concerned may have an opportunity to see it and enter their objections, if any.

Dusty's Dabblings

There are 2,754 languages in existence, but there are some people that can't even talk one of them intelligently.

Last Saturday 250 chickens were shipped from Lincoln to San Francisco for the exposition. These were supposed to be the pick of the state of Nebraska, and will probably succeed in taking many prizes. What? No—it wasn't that kind of chickens. We mean hens and roosters.

You can always find plenty of men bragging about their honesty, but it has been our observation that the banker demands first-class security from them, as well as from other folks.

The trouble with those fellows who claim they can take a drink or leave it alone is that they take a drink to prove it.

There are times when a reporter gets a cold stare from people when he asks them where they are going, and interpreted that said stare means "Is it any of your business?" However, most of these kind of people don't know a reporter from a physician, and they probably think he is some "strange man" trying to pry into their secrets.

Another Pet Idea Smashed!

By MOSS.

Of course you know our dear old friend, the ichthyosaurus, is as dead as a doornail.

He's about as out of date as the idea that newspaper advertising doesn't pay.

Newspaper advertising absolutely pays under two conditions: When the newspaper is a good medium and when the advertising is properly displayed and truthful.

It pays the merchant and it pays the buyer. Experience has proved this a million times.

This paper is a good medium.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
