Events in the Social Realm

Mrs. T. S. Fielding entertained the Baptist Aid yesterday afternoon, and the ladies enjoyed a thimble party and a few hours of social converse.

Mrs. Fred Harris is to be hostess to the P. E. O. society next Monday afternoon, and beside the regular business session and discussion of plans for the coming convention, the ladies will enjoy the hours socially.

The O. E. S. are making arrangements to hold a "parcel post sale" on Tuesday, February 29, and the members are contributing willingly to the affair as they always go in to "win". More details will be given later.

The members of the G. I. A. are looking forward to a pleasant evening when they will be the hosts of the B. of L. E. at a chicken pie "feed" in the I. O. O. F. hall. Undoubtedly the participants will fully enjoy the occasion and its "benefits".

The Misses Lena Bays, Ethel Catron, and Della Rhodes went to Hyannis Friday in order to be present at a ball given there in the evening. The young ladies report a most enjoyable time, and favorably comment on the hospitality received at the neighboring town.

Mrs. George Deitlen was hostess at five hundred last Friday evening, entertaining in honor of her mother, Mrs. S. C. Reck. She had as her guests Messdames H. J. Ellis, Jack Boyer, A. E. Sturgeon, John Burke, H. F. Thiele, Cora Lewis and T. M. Waller. After the diversion of the evening, a delicious luncheon was served.

The Choral Club met Monday evening, with a splendid number of its members present, as is usually the case, as they are taking great interest in the work. The first appearance of the club, under the able directorship of Miss Eunice Burnett, will be at the next number of the lecture course, which date is set for February 22.

On last Thursday evening, when the Girls' Club of the Baptist church spent such a delightful time with their mothers, a short business session was also enjoyed, at which time officers were elected for the club. Miss Grace Spacht was elected president; Miss Dora Coker vice president; Miss Nellie Wright, secretary-treasurer. The "matron" guests for the event report the young ladies gracious and entertaining hostesses, and the lunch served during the evening was of the best quality.

The Leap Year dance party given at the Reddish hall last Thursday evening was much enjoyed by the ones in attendance. The gentlemen entertained were as follows: Messrs. Everett O'Keefe, Morris Nelson, Ralph McKenzie, Leo Mahoney, Dewey Donovan, Joe Williams, Orville Davenport, Darrell Mahoney, Aubrey Young and Vivian Hall. The young ladies entertaining were the Misses Clara Osborne, Rose Carlson, Thelma Fitzpatrick, Grace Carlson, Helen Rice, Margaret Harris, Dorothy Bicknell, Margaret Carey, Regena Cramer, Mabel Young and Edith Reddish.

Mrs. Ida Johnson will entertain the Woman's Club Friday afternoon, and the subject for the afternoon will be

"Art". Roll call will be descriptions of famous pictures. Some information will be gleaned about the following artists by different members: "John Trumbull," Mrs. Hampton; "Washington Allston," Mrs. Brown; "Benjamin West," Mrs. Nelson; "John Singleton Copley," Mrs. Reed; "Charles Wilson Peale," Mrs. Slagle; "James Abbot Whistler," Mrs. Myrtle Wilson. Miss Laura Mounts will render a vocal selection.

Mrs. Martha Patmore entertained the Eastern Star Kensington Tuesday afternoon of this week, and the hours were much enjoyed. About twenty-six were in attendance, and the hostess served a delicious lunch near the close of the pleasant hour.

Mrs. E. C. Young spent a few pleasant hours with her Sunday school class of the M. E. Sunday school last Friday afternoon, when she had them as her guests at her home at an afternoon party. The young folks fully enjoyed the whole affair, and their teacher very tastefully served a lunch of "goodies" which delighted them.

What promises to be a very social event in the country adjoining Alliance is the box social which is planned to be held at the Fairview church about ten miles from town. February 14 is the date set, and Valentines are to be furnished with each box, which enable the persons to find partners for the evening lunch. George Darling has promised to be present with one of his Edison machines and entertain for the delight of the guests. The proceeds are to go for the benefit and support of the church in that neighborhood and hearty cooperation should be extended. The friends of the church and anyone who can attend are invited and assured a hearty welcome and reception.

The Teachers' Club met at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rehder last Saturday evening and enjoyed a happy diversion known as a "kid party". The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. James Walker, the Misses Crocker, Gifford and Hledick. The guests were summoned by "kid" terms to appear in juvenile costume, and a good number of the members responded, and fully enjoyed the treat. Games commonly played by those of younger years were enjoyed and the lunch also followed out the idea of the evening, and included the many delicacies much cherished by some people further along in years, as well as the "kids".

The O. E. S. have finished plans for a very elaborate banquet to be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, and beside the members of the chapter, they will have as guests Judge N. Dwight Ford of Broken Bow, Grand Marshal, and Mrs. Josephine Swibert of Gordon, Associate Grand Matron, and visitors from seven chapters of nearby towns. Immediately after the repast and recognition, the company will adjourn to the lodge hall and conduct a session of a chapter, which will prove instructive to all. The local chapter will be favored with the unusual opportunity to entertain three Grand officers, as the local secretary, Mrs. Davis, is also an officer of the Grand lodge.
