GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Look years younger! Try Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur and nobody will know.
Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

FROM "HUTT THE MUTT"

Young Man Who Enlisted in English Army Writes E. G. Laing about His Experiences in France
"Hutt the Mutt" who appeared at the Stockmen's Convention in Alliance a few years ago, has written to E. G. Laing of Alliance telling of his experiences with the British army on the battle front in France. While living in Alliance he was a fireman on the Burlington railroad. Last November a number of the Alliance boys, upon learning that Hutt was serving with the British army, sent him a Christmas present of a fine pair of slippers. They reached him at the battle front in the trenches. One of the slippers had Laing's business card in the toe, and the letter follows in reply. Hutt said in his letter: "Here I write a few lines in answer to your card. I was more than surprised to receive it in my welcome Xmas present. I must say with all my best wishes that I am pleased to take the pleasure of writing to my old friends after being away so long from Alliance. Say, George (he calls Burt "George"), I am what you call a "boomer", but not so bad after all. I have been over to France and got mine, and now they are talking about giving me my discharge. You bet I am not sorry for it. In the army they just treat you like a d—n dog. They say, "Your king and country need you." I say now, "To h—l with them." Thank God, I have both my arms and legs so I can make my living any where I travel. "You know, George, Fred Hicks writes to me quite often and I tell you I sure do like to get all the news while I am so far away. I don't go anywhere in this country but what they tell me about their sons and husbands at the front. It's heart breaking, all right, especially at this time of the year. You are not even safe here in London or any other place when the Zeppelins come over. A Zep killed sixteen men and fifty horses where I was stationed a short time ago. "They have been making up for the past year here this Christmas. My friends here have done all they could to show me a good time. I can hardly write now, for they are dancing in the next room and having a good time."

Rev. Montgomery in Pennsylvania
Rev. D. W. Montgomery of Grand Junction, Colo., Sunday school missionary of the Presbyterian church, well known in Alliance and northwestern Nebraska, has been making one of his occasional lecture trips thru the east this winter. Bulletin of the Pine Street Presbyterian church of Harrisburg, Pa., recently received by The Herald, give information that Rev. Montgomery preached at the morning service, Sunday, January 30, and gave an address at the fifty-eighth anniversary of the Sunday school of that church, held on the afternoon of that day.
War upon Pain!
Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.
Mervin H. Soister, Berkeley, Calif., writes: "Last Saturday after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new." March, 1915.
