A Benefit to Farmers Artestia, N. M., July 19, 1916. Editor Alliance Herald:

It is so seldom that anything big omes the farmer's way in the west that when a really big thing for the farmers is done, the newspapers of the country should lose no time in educating them to appropriate it.

The biggest thing that has happend for the benefit of the farmers in many years is the opportunity given by the new Federal Farm Loan Bank aw, just signed by President Wilson, o get farm loans on a basis that they an afford to go to work in real earnat to develop their farms. The law could have been better and doubtless will be improved; but, as it has always been with any great movement o benefit the poorer class, we have o be satisfied to start with half of what we really need, and we have to show our appreciation of the "half oaf" before we may hope for the Very briefly summarized, the new aw provides for twelve Federal Land lianks, distributed so as to accommodate the entire United States, each with $750,000 capital. The local capital of each district will be invited to invest in the stock of these banks; but after 30 days, all the Notice is hereby given that Owen stock not taken by the public will be taken by the U. S. government.

There is also provision for the organization of Joint Stock Loan Banks These banks are run on private ion. capital much like the present trust companies. To borrow money from one of the Federal Land Banks requires the organization of ten or more farmers who desire to borrow not less than $100 nor more than $10,000, for not less than five nor more than forty years, into a National Farm Loan Association. This association selects five directors who appraise the lands on which loans are desired, and must limit the loans applied for to fifty per cent of such appraisement plus twenty per cent of the value of the insured improvements. The limit of interest that is to be charged is one per cent in excess of what the interest on the bonds issued by the Federal Land Bank and secured by the farmers' notes as collateral, bear, and provision will be made for the amortization (that is, for the installments on the principal that will pay it all back within the limit of the time the loan is to run), but the interest must not exceed six per cent. A loan for sixteen years can thus be paid out in full by paying ten per ent per annum, and, of course, the longer the loan runs the smaller the per cent to be paid annually will become. The farmer may have the option after five years of paying out as fast as he wishes on a longer time loan. The money borrowed can only be used for buying, improving or paying off indebtedness on farm lands. When ten farmers are thus organzed and ready to offer loans aggrethe pendency of said petition and the gating $20,000 or more under the conditions of the law they apply to

One of the conditions requires that ach farmer must purchase stock in the local association to the extent of five per cent of the value of his loan and must pay the actual expenses of the appraisment abstracts, etc.; but all these cash payments may be taken out of the loan, and the borrower shall be paid cash for his stock when his loan is paid in full.

JARKEN GHAY HAIR,

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it tades, turns gray, dull and life-ess, is caused by a lack of sulphur in he hair. Our grandmother made up a sixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to cen her locks dark and beautiful, and ousands of women and men who value at even color, that beautiful dark hade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulhair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyoth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

LESSON FOR AUG. 6

QREATEST THING IN THE WORLD.

(Temperance Lesson.)

True ministry is in the exercise of spiritual gifts (Eph. 4:7-15). Every believer is a member of the body of Christ, and therefore has a definite ministry. Though the gifts are diverse, all are equally honorable because they are bestowed, administered and energized by the Holy Spirit. Love alone gives value to the ministry of any gift.

1. Fill the Gift With Love (vv. 1-3). Just as the body is dead unless a living soul abides in and inspires it, so is the gift unless filled with the spirit of love. This is the "more excellent way" to which Paul makes reference at the conclusion of Chapter 12. In praising love Paul does not fall into the error of criticizing others, not even his followers, and suggests that even he may be wanting in this trait. The Corinthians were eager to attain excellence and to be prominent in wisdom and philosophy; to understand the world in which they lived; to be scholars and teachers and Improve and correct society. Paul therefore shows how vain are such things unless filled with the motive of love. (1) The gift of tongues. The saints in the church at Corinth seem to have been particularly gifted in this direction, and to have been proud of it. (Ch. 14: 2-23) and eager to outstrip the others. Paul tells them that such boasting amounts to little. The grace of love is a far more excellent way. (2) The gift of prophecy. The New Testament prophet was a forth-teller, not a teller of the future. To be a forth-teller was a thing to be coveted and admired, but not unless accompanied by love. (3) Miracle working. A man can have this in the most powerful form concelvable, and yet if he has not love, he is nothing.

II. Love is Known by its Manifestations (vv. 4-7). Having shown the absolute necessity of love Paul shows how we may recognize it. The behavlor of love can be seen and known. Paul set for us 15 manifestations. (1) Love suffereth long. Love is no passing emotion, but a fixed thought. (2) It is kind. Kindness in action, love nt work. (3) Love envieth not. It gloes not grow out of selfishness, for selfishness is the very opposite of love. (4) Love vaunteth not itself, does not climb to the housetops to proclaim its glory. (5) Is not puffed up. There is their Federal Land Bank for the no inflation, like a soap bubble, to money, and if found that all require- dazzle the eye. (6) Does not behave Alliance Herald, a weekly newspa- ments have been complied with, the itself unseemly, that is without delicacy of feeling. Unseemly conduct grows from pride and seldshness, whereas love is the foundation of true courtesy. (7) Seeketh not her own. Is not looking out for self first of all. (8) Is not easily provoked; good tempered, not irritable. To lose one's temper is a dangerous evil. The evil is not so much in the temper but in our failure to control it. (9) Thinketh no evil. Puts the best construction upon the acts of others, making all possible allowances. (10) Rejoiceth not in iniquity. (11) Rejoiceth in the truth, that is, is in sympathy with all that is true, (12) Beareth all things; endureth hardships and trials for the working out of the kingdom. (13) Believeth all things; not credulous but putting the best construction upon the words of others, and having faith in the final outcome of every good cause. (14) Hopeth all things; is not discouraged in the dark and shadowy days. (15) Endureth all things; it goes on believing and hoping to the end; no obstacle can stop it. Surely such a catalogue of the marks of love is enough to make us all pause and meditate.

> 8-13). The word "falleth" here denotes failing in the sense of cessation, and love is contrasted with three typical but passing forms of Christian expression. (1) "Prophecies;" not the things prophesied but the gift or act of prophesying (v. 3) which at best can only partially express God's word. Prophecy will pass away in the fuller vision and wider knowledge of God "Who is love." (2) "Tongues." The time will come when they will not be needed as a sign nor to enable us to express our varied emotions. The divinely inspired prophecies tell but a part of what is yet to be. (3) "Knowledge." It shall be done away in the fuller knowledge of the eternal world as the light of the stars vanish before the rising sun. When that which is, perfect is come these lights will be seen to be only like the separate stones of a quarry which can only be fully understood when the whole building stands before us in its completion. Paul gives an illustration of this truth from the familiar case of the growing child (vv. 11, 12). In conclusion (v. 13) faith, hope, love abideth, three graces, imperishable and immortal. "Hope is a fountain; faith draws the water and drinks; love distributes the water to others." Dr. J. H. Jowett. But the greatest of these is love. (a) Love closer to God, making us partakers of his nature. It is the one thing without which faith and hope are of little avail. (b) It is powerful as an influence for good and the strongest motive for the upbuilding of character.
