COLONEL HAYWARD DIES

Founder of Nebraska Military Academy, at Lincoln, Died Monday After a Brief Illness

Colonel B. D. Hayward, founder of the Nebraska military academy, succumbed to a week's illness at St. Elizabeth's hospital at Lincoln at 4:15 p. m. Monday. He was taken ill while returning from an eastern trip and last Wednesday night was taken to the hospital. An operation was performed Thursday in the hope of saving his life. Colonel Hayward formerly was superintendent of the state industrial school at Kearney. Eight years ago he founded the military academy in Lincoln. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Benjamin Dover Hayward was born at Letart Falls, O., September 19, 1861, and graduated from the Letart public schools. He was also a graduate of Carlton college at Syracuse, O., the teachers' training normal school at Leavenworth, O., and of the law department of the University of Nebraska, 1894. He was married April 25, 1886, to Mary Scanlin of Syracuse, O.

In Ohio he was made superintendent of the Letart Falls schools at the age of twenty-one and became principal of the Pomeroy schools when only twenty-three. In August, 1888, he came to St. Paul, Nebr., and was superintendent of the St. Paul school for five years. Following he was county superintendent of public schools of Howard county for two years. Later he engaged in the practice of law and handled real estate. Under Governor Mickey's administration he was appointed superintendent of the boys' industrial school at Kearney where he served for nearly five years.

After leaving the industrial school he frequently said he would never be happy until he could have a home for the betterment of boys, physically, mentally and morally. This interested him to come to Lincoln in October, 1907, to found the Nebraska military academy, which he opened in the fall of 1908.

Being a man of fine physique, of magnetic personality, firm in decision, fair in judgment and unselfish, his work with boys was very successful. Many a boy who could not otherwise have received an education was helped by Colonel Hayward to a better life.

Writes Dry Workers
Frank A. Harrison of Lincoln, well known publicity and newspaper man, has addressed teh following communication to the dry workers of the state:

Lincoln, August 14, 1916.
To Nebraska Dry Workers:
I believe that the campaign for the amendment must be pushed forward at once by the people of the counties, without waiting on committees. It is everybody's job.

One effective way is to get display space in your local newspapers, and answer therein every argument advanced by the so-called "Prosperity League." Do this at once. The expense will be light, and you can raise the amount in five minutes in any community.

This plan has been adopted in Platte, Boone and some other counties already. Do not complain about paying local newspapers for space. It will be money well expended, and they will do their full share of the work of the campaign, aside from this, anyway.

Push the fight in the papers. Push it out into your local towns and country districts by means of auto parties, music and speakers. Don't wait on anybody. It is less than three months until election.

FRANK A. HARRISON,

Nothing like a chew of first-class plug tobacco to put an edge on your appetite and give you all the rich, juicy satisfaction that nature puts into the tobacco leaf.

Old Kentucky has the fruity-sweet flavor of the choicest selected Burley leaf.

When you're reveling in the rich, sweet, flavor of Old Kentucky, you're chewing the luscious result of the most modern methods of high-grade plug tobacco making.

Is it any wonder that Old Kentucky is the most delicious chew on earth? Try a 10c plug to-day. You're bound to like it.

Prohibition is a Success!

A startling array of testimony of public men, giving conclusive evidence of the practicability of a prohibitory law. These statements are based upon actual experience, not theory; and are worthy of careful study on the part of voters.

Mayor H. C. Gill, of Seattle—"Under license I had at least a half dozen appeals every day from men and women—chiefly women—who were in distress of some kind because of booze. I have had only one such case since the first of the year."

Spokane Chronicle—"There are no applications for county charity now from any family which has an able-bodied man at its head. It cost the county 20 percent less to take care of the needy this month than during April of last year. Fuel orders were fewer, and there was a marked decrease in the number of requests for groceries."

Governor Rye, of Tennessee—"While we cannot save a man who is already a sot, we can save his children from becoming acquainted with the stuff that ruined their father, and that we propose to do, by the enforcement of the present liquor laws."

Governor Carlson, of Colorado—"A laundry manager of Denver reported that his firm secured 401 new customers in January alone, a fact which meant several hundred women removed from work at the washtub in their homes. So far as I have been able to learn, the pawnshops and jails are the only institutions which have suffered a falling off of patronage since the advent of the State's prohibitory law."

Governor Capper, of Kansas—"Every Kansas governor for twenty-two years has said over his signature that prohibition is a success; every supreme court member and every official of our state now says so; 700 of 780 Kansas editors in convention unanimously endorsed it; every political party favors the law; the mothers, ministers, teachers and president of the Kansas Retailers' association have declared faith in prohibition."
