

LEGISLATURE PASSES SEVERAL BIG BILLS

...of the fact that Chief Clerk George W. Potts had become a grandfather. On motion of Representative Thomas the following resolution was passed and the accompanying poem, "Grandpa Potts," by George W. Jackson, speaker of the House, spread on the records:

RESOLUTION

Whereas, it has come to the knowledge of the House of Representatives that there was born to Mr. and Mrs. Pelton, of Dubois, Nebr., at 5:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, January 20, 1917, a bouncing baby boy;

Whereas, one George W. Potts, chief clerk of the House of Representatives, is the father of Mrs. Pelton, he thereby becoming a grandfather for the first time; and

Whereas, the suspicions of friends in this House was aroused by the smiling countenance of said George W. Potts, thereby causing the secret to become common knowledge in this House, therefore be it

Resolved, that we extend to our chief clerk, George W. Potts, our heartiest congratulations and good wishes on this joyful occasion, and be it

Resolved, that we add to the title of our chief clerk that of "Grandpa" and that his name be placed on the honor roll with that veteran grandpa of the 1915 session, the honorable representative from Wayne county—"Grandpa" Mears—and that we wish them many happy returns of the day.

GRANDPA POTTS

(By George Jackson)
George Potts arrived in the chamber much excited, so they all said, All because a phone call had said A grandson had come down his way.

His moustache was curled from ear to ear.
His orders were final, they say, stenographers, clerks and all stepped aside with a bow

When George said, "Get out of my way."
He stepped on the table and split all the ink,
All the members he had on the run;

One of the pages asked, "What do you think?"
George said, "Get busy, you son-of-a-gun."
Pal Barrows was here on the ground at daybreak;

It was out in the hall that he saw George Potts a'holtering at the top of his voice,
"GRANDPA, OH, GRANDPA."

Sheridan county farmers are in favor of a new capitol building. Before leaving for their homes last week they passed a resolution endorsing House Roll No. 1, introduced by Richmond and providing for the eventual erection of a new building. In conclusion they added the following paragraph: "Should the members of your honorable body feel reluctant to pass a mill levy for this purpose, we most respectfully urge you to proceed with the construction of a new building and charge the same to Sheridan county."

Representative Stearns of Scottsbluff has been a busy man. His previous legislative experience, gained in former sessions, has fitted him well to properly represent his constituents. A resolution introduced in the House by him urging congress to enact legislation cutting off the granting of federal liquor licenses in dry states, in order to cut off bootlegging, passed the House by a vote of 82 to 10 and the senate by a vote of 19 to 13.

Herbert Quick of the federal farm loan board and former U. S. Senator W. V. Allen were speakers before the House Friday afternoon.

House Roll No. 30, introduced by Representative Ollis, which would legalize the investment of state school funds in bonds of the federal land banks, passed third reading Tuesday afternoon and is now in a fair way to become a law. Irrigation bonds are also recognized.

The first open meeting for the purpose of ascertaining the legislation necessary to enforce the prohibition amendment was held by the joint committee of the house and senate Monday evening. The five members of the House committee—Norton, Thomas, Waite, Flansburg and Hostetler—and the Senate committee—Beal, Chappell, Sawyer, Sandall, Neal, Albert, Moriarty, Howell, Maties and Kohl—were there and listened to the arguments presented by people from over the state.

The state druggists were represented by a delegation from Omaha, Lincoln, and other cities. They maintained that the druggists should not be allowed to sell liquor for beverage purposes, for their own protection, and that they should only be allowed to use alcohol in preparations which could be used for medicinal purposes but which could not be used as a beverage. The government will thus aid in enforcing the law, as it requires a federal license when liquor is sold in such shape that it can be used as a beverage. Other speakers represented the Nebraska Dry Federation, the W. C. T. U. Another meeting is to be held tonight.

The dry committee will draw up their own bill but are getting suggestions and endeavoring to get the sentiment of all interested. The bill drafted (not the bone-dry bill, but the second one) is meeting with much support.

WILL SPEND $100,000.00

Tolls Not Heavy
The fact that Alliance from a telephone toll standpoint is not a good business point is reasoned two ways. In the first place all telephone tolls must be for a great distance in most instances except calls to Hemingford and possibly other nearby points. All business is done with firms east of here. Practically all the business in Alliance is local business. The firms are dependent on the trade of the people of Alliance, Box Butte county and surrounding territory. It is local in its nature to a great extent. Except for dealing with wholesale houses in the larger cities the average Alliance business man has no need to use the long-distance telephone. The second reason is that owing to the fact that it is impossible to communicate with many of the towns in this section by long-distance telephone, a patron can not now use the telephone for "short hauls" if he had reason to do so.

Produce More Business
It is believed that the toll line from Alliance to Broken Bow will be the means not only of producing a considerable increase in the toll business for the company by reason of the fact that twenty-four towns are connected and given the opportunities of the long-distance telephone, but will result in a noticeable increase in the toll business for the Alliance exchange, affording, as it does, an opportunity for local people to communicate with other towns not far distant.

Standard in Every Respect
The new line will be built completely of copper and will be standard in every respect. When the "Bell" system builds toll lines it builds them for permanency, thus eliminating a certain overhead expense that would be caused by cheaper lines, while at the same time affording a greater service to the patron.

POETRY FROM A READER
A reader of The Herald at Hecla, Nebr., in sending check in payment of subscription, encloses the following verse expressive of what the paper is doing for this part of Nebraska:
The Alliance Herald I have hailed as a sage,
I have commenced at the first and read to the last page.
Its contents I have pondered, then read it some more,
And think to boom Alliance and Box Butte county it is just news galore.

The Society
There will be a recital by students at the Reddish hall on the evening of January 27. Voice, piano and the children's story telling classes will be represented.
Mrs. A. A. Layton was hostess to the Boys' Bible class of the church at her home Friday evening. The regular Bible study was held first after which a social evening was enjoyed. There are about twelve boys in the class.
Miss Charlotte Mollring was hostess on the evening of January 17 to twelve guests, the affair being in compliment to Miss Julia Frankie, who left Sunday for Denver to attend the university. A delightful luncheon was served late in the evening. Dancing and cards were the entertainment of the evening.
The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church met with Mrs. E. T. Kibbie yesterday afternoon. It was "Home Missionary" day with Mrs. Carns as superintendent. Mrs. C. C. Smith read a paper on "Deaconess Work." There was a fine musical program and a pleasant and profitable afternoon was enjoyed.
The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. R. Beans for their regular missionary meeting. A pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by all in attendance. Mrs. C. H. Fuller pleased all with a vocal solo, and Mrs. Ray Dean Stansbury favored those present with a reading.
