LAMENT AND RESENT

Harry Alexander, a resident of Great Neck, L. I., and a veteran of the Spanish-American war, returned to his home recently in an automobile decorated with American flags and posters calling upon young men to enlist. This innocent and inspiring spectacle was found displeasing by two of his servants, Gertrude Steffenhagen and Emma Hept, who proceeded to throw dishes on the floor while describing the Stars and Stripes as a "dirty rag" and characterizing President Wilson as "a common loafer." Mr. Alexander ordered the vociferous and establishing persons to leave the place and they noisily did so, but promptly brought against him a charge of assault. Mr. Alexander explained that there was no assault, but that there would have been "plenty of it" if the story runs—if the irate Germans had been instead of women. Berlin newspapers lament that the Germans in America have had so little influence on the government at Washington. Evidently there are Germans on this side of the ocean who not only lament it but resent it.

Bowel Complaints in India

In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Iowa, churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv-June

LITERARY IMPOSTURES

Miss Jeannette Rankin, M. C., is not the only celebrated "lady from Montana." There is another, Miss Mary MacLane, of Butte, whose startling "confessions" of a young girl of 19 achieved much notoriety about fifteen years ago. The same writer has now come forward with more self-revelations, but the new book is little more than a repetition of the old, showing no advance in thought or other change likely to come about during so long and critical a period in a woman's life, and confirms the old suspicion that Mary was never a real girl in skirts out in Montana but a mere fabrication of Chicago manufacture. Indeed, it is thought to be quite possible that she is no less masculine than the man who, as the garrulous "Marquise de Fontenoy" has for so long told American newspaper readers an endless story of the European nobility. Literary fabrications and disguises are almost as old as the history of letters, some authors being more successful in their impostures or anonymous efforts than in their acknowledged works. This was especially true of the so-called "forgeries" of the poet Chatterton and is times is still frequent, the usual object being greater freedom. But sometimes an author highly distinguished in another line does not care to be known as a writer of stories, as was the case when Secretary of State John Hay wrote his readable novel, "The Broadwinners."

Again it is a matter of "boiling the pot" with work which the author does not care to own. Edgar Fawcett, for example, was known only as a writer of society stories of a high-class but made his living by prolific production of much cheaper stuff for sensational story papers. Serious publicists have been known to do the like, signing their magazine articles only while contributing less important but more profitable matter under another name. Ray Stannard Baker, writer of vigorous articles, is also said privately to produce much work in the sentimental story line. Of course this sort of thing is perfectly legitimate, belonging in a separate class from impostures of the "Mary MacLane" type.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and laggard. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water soaks and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

HOUSEHOLD CANNING

The New York Sun suggests three ways in at least one of which every American can help his country at the present time—raising something to eat, buying some of the war loan, and preparing for military service. To the first in the list of these three important undertakings should be added the preservation of perishable food which is almost as important as the production of such food. In this connection it is worthy of note that household canning pays in cash as well as in food for winter use at home. In Georgia, for example, agents of the federal government have announced their readiness to buy food supplies direct from the farmers. Major Powers, army depot quartermaster in Atlanta, referring especially to food and fruit canned by farmers' wives and the girls' canning clubs, has suggested the pooling of their supplies by small producers, explaining:

"When we need ten or twenty thousand cans of tomatoes, for instance, we could hardly afford to consider the several hundred cans that some individual farmer's wife might have on hand, but if this housewife should combine with half a dozen others, we could talk business. The quality of such home-canned goods, I am sure, would be very wholesome and appetizing. The same sort of system might be employed by your girls' canning clubs."

With the government itself in the market there can be no question that industrious private canning and neighborhood pooling will pay as well as increase the country's food supply.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

NOT A NATION BUT AN ARMY. Rene-Viviani, former premier of France, has described President Wilson's war address as "the world's greatest charter of liberty. Evident-among the Germans. We read, for example, that recently French troops crawled on their stomachs in the night to the barbed wire in front of the German trenches and there hung hundreds of copies of the address printed in German, succeeding in doing this without rattling the "tin can warnings which both sides place on the stakes and wires" to give notice of the approach of a foe. At day-break the Germans saw and began firing at the leaflets, but the French hoisted the signal, "We won't fire while you collect them," and, trusting to the temporary truce, the Germans, interested and curious, quickly gathered in the copies of the address.

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder troubles you.

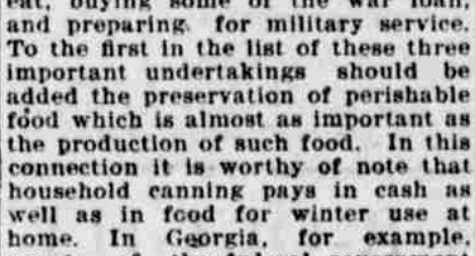

Worms drain the strength and vitality of children, making them dull and listless. Their power to resist more serious diseases is reduced and energy and interest in play is lacking. Kickapoo Worm Killer is a mildly laxative remedy in candy tablet form that children like to take. It kills and removes the worms and lets your child grow strong and healthy like other children. Don't let your child be dragged down by

These facts have been certified to by the American Automobile Association through H. A. Tarantous, who, as observer, rode in the car at all times.

To the Public

"I have been using Chamberlain's Tablets for indigestion for the past six months, and it affords me pleasure to say I have never used a remedy that did me so much good." Mrs. C. E. Riley, Hilon, N. Y. Chamberlain's Tablets are obtainable everywhere.—Adv-June

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach. Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

How it looks when illustrated "Oh, I'll get his scalp, some of these days, — see if I don't."
