The WEEK'S DOINGS

Mrs. L. S. Adams, Mrs. S. C. Lammon and Mrs. C. Reid left Tuesday for Scottsbluff to attend a convention held there yesterday.

Saturday afternoon the fire department responded to a call from 229 Big Horn avenue. The barn and some sheds on the J. D. Pyle place in some way caught fire. The loss is estimated at about $650. Had it not been for the quick reply of the department to the call and the efficient work of the men after they got on the job, the fire would easily have taken a number of nearby buildings. One reason that the fire loss in Alliance is so small is because the department is always on the job and gets the fire under control before it has time to do much damage.

D. E. Markham succeeds J. S. Corp as janitor at the court house. Mr. Corp has taken a position at the potash works at Hoffman as a pipe fitter.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their families held a picnic on the court house grounds Thursday afternoon. The picnic supper was spread on the lawn. A program was given at the Odd Fellows hall later in the evening.

William Morrow of Scottsbluff was an Alliance visitor last week, a guest at the home of his brother, J. C. Morrow.

Mrs. Peckinpaugh and son of Larzule were guests the past week at the William Mitchell home.

A material improvement has been made in the interior appearance of the Alliance shoe store. The ceiling has been refinished in a light buff color, while the entire interior has been re-decorated and the stock rearranged.

Frank Rumer of Sidney has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rumer, the past week. He is in charge of the Rumer Motor Company's salesrooms at Sidney.

M. N. Sinteff, inspector for the United States Bureau of Explosives, gave a lecture Thursday night at the Phelan opera house to railroad men and others, dealing with the handling and transportation of explosives and inflammable materials. Stereopticon slides were shown along with the lecture. Among those from out of town who were here for the lecture were W. H. Prettyman, agent at Hyannis, and Jack Kennedy, agent at Ellsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith L. Pierce of Hemingford left Sunday for Chicago. Mrs. Pierce is taking a course of training for Red Cross work. Their little son will attend summer school in Chicago.

J. S. Davis of North Platte western agent for the Buick automobile, was in the city last week calling on the local agents for the Buick, the Keeler-Coursey Co.

Mrs. Elliott Strand left Sunday for her home at Arvada, Wyo. She had been visiting at the home of her mother.

Joseph Sabatka who in 1886 homesteaded ten miles west of Hemingford, was in the city yesterday. He had been at Edgemoor and stopped over here on his way to his home at Atwood, Kansas. He enjoyed calling on the few remaining '86 settlers Mr. Sabatka left this country after the drouth of 1890. He could hardly believe his eyes when he saw the great prosperity everywhere visible.

SOCIETY

On Wednesday morning Miss Mary Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, and W. E. Conners were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father Manning at Holy Rosary church in Alliance. The bride was dressed in a beautiful white charmuse gown trimmed in gold lace. Miss Marie Nolan, bride's maid was gowned in a pretty dress of blue tulle. Frank Conners was best man. Mrs. J. T. Wiker played the wedding march and Miss Kate Kniest sang "I love You Truly" and "Perfect Day."

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the brides parents, the following being in attendance besides the bride and the groom: Mrs. Donahue of Omana, aunt to the bride; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Conners; Miss Marie Nolan; Mr. Frank Conners; Mr. and Mrs. John Hill; Mrs. J. T. Wiker; Miss Kate Kniest; Mr. Fay; and Rev. Manning.

The groom is a mechanic in the employ of the Burlington. The happy couple left yesterday on 44 for Chicago, Milwaukee, Des Moines, St. Louis and other points. On their return they will make their home in the residence on Big Horn recently purchased from Mrs. Cramer.

Mr. Oliver R. Schumann, manager of the Hemingford Mills, and Miss Margaret Randus of Tecumseh, were married in this city Thursday by Judge Ira E. Tash. The bride arrived from her home and was met here by the groom. The couple will make their home at Hemingford. Mr. Schumann came to Hemingford from Tecumseh.

Mesdames W. F. and F. M. Seidell at their home, 1026 Laramie avenue, at a delightful Kensington given in compliment to their guest, Mrs. Earle D. Gilmore of Grand Island.

Mrs. J. Rowan and the Misses Charlotte Mollring and Edna Bowman were hostesses Thursday evening at a dinner party given for Miss Dorothy Smith, whose engagement to Mr. William Osterberg, Jr., of Omaha and Hoffman, was but recently announced. The dinner was served in five courses. The color scheme was in pink and white. Pink streamers ran from the chandelier to the place of each guest at the table. The guest list included the Misses Cynthia Davenport, Hannah eKane, Ruth Morris, Kate Hannah eKane, G'Donnell, Eunice Eldred, Irene Rice, Dorothy Smith and the Mesdames C. C. Smith and Morris, the latter of Pasadena, California.

Those in attendance at the community concert at the Phelan opera house Sunday afternoon were treated to a rare musical treat. Three acts from Il Trovatore, that well-known and always enjoyable grand opera, were presented by local talent in a manner surprisingly delightful as it was successful. A presentation of this character is not often attempted by others than professional singers. The arranging and producing of the opera was a huge task and was carried out in a way that charmed all who are familiar with the work and who could realize the tremendous effort that was put forth. Miss Burnett, Miss Mabel Sward and Mr. Rex Truman took the leads. All parts were well rendered and those who took part have just reason to feel proud of the results attained.

Married at the M. E. parsonage in Alliance on Monday, June 18, by Dr. J. B. Carns—Catherine M. Davis to Albert N. Gehrt, both of Rushville. The trip to Alliance was made via auto. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left in their auto on a honeymoon trip to Denver and other points in Colorado. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Gehrt will be at home to their friends on the farm south of Rushville.

Mrs. Frank aGrett was delightfully surprised Friday evening by a company of her friends, the party being held in honor of her birthday
