

EASTERN MARKETS SHOW
BETTER ON SPUDS

ing into the yards showed the effects of the cold. States and Michigans up to last Saturday were down to $4.00 per 180 pounds in the yards, but by Thursday of this week prices had gradually advanced to $4.50 to $4.65 per 180 pounds bulk.

Larger Wisconsin Yields
Prentice, Wis.—The acreage in potatoes this season was the largest ever grown here, as this is a new district for commercial potato growing. Each year, however, more land is being cleared. The yield was much better than in 1916, and the average per acre being about 140 bushels to the acre. The tubers are of good size and are considered clean stock as very little scab is in evidence. Most of the acreage of potatoes has been harvested, although cold weather the last two weeks of October damaged fully two-thirds of the potatoes remaining in the ground.

Antigo, Wis.—This year the crop of potatoes here shows a good increase over last and some very good yields have been produced. The average yield will be about 150 bushels to the acre. The size and quality of the stock is good and should store well. There was about 10 per cent of the acreage still undug when the first freeze occurred, causing some loss. Somewhat better than 5 per cent of the crop was still undug when the first freeze occurred, causing some loss. Somewhat better than 5 per cent of the crop was still in the ground as late as the close of the previous week and this was severely damaged.

Ladysmith, Wis.—Large yields of potatoes have been produced here on the better soils where the crop was planted early. The average yield will be about 150 bushels to the acre. Some acreage suffered severely from the freezing weather during the latter half of October. About half of the crop in this section is now out of the farmers' hands.

Must Buy and Sell by Pound
Washington, D. C.—Thursday the Food Administration announced that inasmuch as Rule 3 in the regulations applying to license handlers of perishable food products provides that "The licensee shall quote, buy and sell potatoes only by the pound," and that as all commission men and wholesale dealers are required to be licensed, this means that it is illegal to quote, buy or sell potatoes on any other basis than by weight. Hereafter transactions contracted on the basis of a hundredweight will be interpreted as transactions on a pound basis by the Food Administration. The statement further says that the transaction of potato sales on a hundredweight basis over the entire United States will eliminate confusion and give an intelligent basis for comparison between all markets. Dealers are cautioned against failure to comply with this rule. Retailers who do a gross business of less than $100,000 a year are not under license but they are urged by the Food Administration officials to sell on the same basis.

ADAM LIAR'S COLUMN

What under the sun is a fellow who can't eat fish and corn bread to do these days?

(We admit this to be a woody woody joke.)

A lady who is apparently fond of the family cognomen is guilty of the following:

Dear General Wood:
As Mrs. Wood, mother of the Wood boys, in the Wood brigade, I write to find out when the said Wood boys in the said Wood brigade would be permitted to come to the Wood home to camp in the wood on the Wood estate at a Wood family reunion.

Thanking you, dear General Wood, I am,
Mrs. W. Wood.

"SOLDIERS THREE"
(To the first of the American boys who died in France)

To help unchain the slaves of monarch's power
And raise on high the flag of liberty—
To make the claims of despotism lower
And find for freedom the lost key.

Three brave young souls went forth
Through battle's din to eternity's deep sea
(Nor reckoned they their moral worth
For the example they will be.)

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they agghly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, when you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act normally. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Undaunted, fearless, brave of heart These soldiers gave their all. They gladly took the hardest part And answered the Master's call.

For them it is all passed, the doubt, the dread, the ache. (Through which the world to good is brought And history helped make.)

And to loving soldiers they have taught. The beauty of unselfish giving That makes even dying a martyr's death

A more lovely thing than living. And as Time rolls by on winged feet By God's good grace we may In a new glad world these three souls meet

And emblazoned on their crowns will be Christ's own words to us here "No greater love is shown than by he Who dies for some one dear."

As a precautionary measure we advise all renters of furnished rooms to install "built-in" furniture. Not only built-in, but nailed down tight.

We have made arrangements to get our Sunday paper next Sunday anyway.

Jack's voice was heard this morning, as usual, reading from the Denver Post the latest news of the day.

If the fact of the young ladies of the country kissing the soldier boys makes better fighting men of them, why wouldn't the same thing apply to anything else? Now, any of you (good looking) girls who want to make this column better, you know what to do.

Some consolation is derived, at any rate, from the fact that when we arrive home each evening from work there is some one who is pleased to greet us—not matter what weapon she is carrying at that particular time.

Sometimes, you know, we arrive home early. On such occasions we are usually greeted with a flow of language that is dazing. We find consolation here in the fact that it is just at that time of the clock when all the neighbors are too busy to hear it, and we are permitted to sit through a curtain lecture that would be worth a million dollars if it could be properly screened—and it doesn't cost us a cent.

Chickens are prone to "peep," whether they be male or female. But as far as we can learn people generally pay very little attention to them.

Dear reader, it is safe to peruse this column. I don't try to convince myself, either, than everyone does. But you know there could be absolutely no comparison between this and the great old story about the kid that tried to sell the newspaper to the blind man.

It is said that in Australia the busy man or the idle one can sit at his table and partake of his meals without any qualms of conscience about being extravagant in view of the war and the meatless, wheatless and other "less" days. This item proves very interesting to me. I have no qualms of conscience myself in these matters as all my days are meatless and wheatless. What would be the good of living in Australia, anyhow?

I have just permitted my optics to rest for a moment upon a placard announcing that last Friday was to be "Good Roads Day" and it recalled to me the fact that there was some sort of a celebration of that kind held down the road here. But the celebration was participated in by far too few of those who should really be the most interested. Buck up next time, men buck up. Oh yes, I was there.

SAVE SCRAP METAL
Help your country and yourself at the same time by disposing of scrap metal, says the agricultural engineering department of the University of Nebraska. Every farmer has from two to a half dozen pieces of old machinery which have long since served their period of usefulness. Every pound of metal will be needed by the government for the manufacture of war materials and by disposing of his scrap metal, the farmer not only will be helping his government but himself also. If one is close to even a small city, the problem of selling the metal can be easily solved. If one lives some distance away, community shipments can often be arranged.

A Safe Oil to Use
An engine with caked carbon on the piston head, fouled spark plugs and unseated valves is like a person with a cold in the head—all stuffed up. Most of this comes from using an oil that doesn't burn up clean.
Polarine burns up clean—reduces carbon to a minimum—makes a smooth running, powerful and economical motor.
Some motor oils pit the cylinders and eat away the valves and piston rings. That's due to acids. There's not a trace of acid in Polarine. It simply cannot eat away the metal and destroy the efficiency of the engine.
Play safe. Use Polarine always. Free from acid, grit and other injurious foreign matter. At our Service Stations or any good garage—wherever you see the sign.

PASTURE FOR BROOD SOWS
Wheat or rye pasture is one of the best feeds for brood sows, according to the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture. Where the wheat is well grown the sows may be pastured on the wheat field and thus save a great deal of grain. Young sows should be fed more grain than old sows, as they need to make good growth during the winter.
Every farmer who can arrange the necessary shelter and provide the feed for the winter and pasture next summer should increase his breeding herd 15 to 25 per cent and try to meet the demand of the Food Administration for pork in 1918.
