JOHN THE BELOVED DISCIPLE
 TEXT: 1 John 1:9, If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

If there is a power in this world that can strengthen character and purify human life, it is worth more than all the gold and silver of the earth. Why make this conditional statement? The Gospel has that very power. John makes use of these words. "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. The truth of this was demonstrated in his life.

John was a fisherman. This was an honorable way to make a living for his own. It was a humble profession. As he was engaged in his work, Jesus called him and said, "I will make you to become fishers of men". What could Jesus make out of this rough uncouth man? At this time John's exterior was so pronounced, that Jesus called him "Son of Thunder". We shall see what a change came into his life. True works slowly, but does its work well. It can not make progress within men unless he permits and assists it.

For about two years, John was a personal companion of Jesus. During this time he was learning from the Master Teacher. We note the change that came into his life. From the worldly ambitious John who desired to sit on the right hand of the earthly king, he becomes the "disciple that Jesus loved."

After the resurrection and ascension of Jesus, John with the other Apostles preached the glad tidings of redemption through the crucified and resurrected Redeemer. This was a very unpopular doctrine, yet it mattered not with the Apostles. It is truth and should be proclaimed to the people. John was with Peter when the leaders of the Jews imprisoned and threatened them for preaching the resurrection. When they were charged not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. These brave men answered, "we can not but speak the things which we saw and heard". Again when John and the other Apostles had been cast into prison and beaten, they rejoiced that they were counted worthy to suffer dishonor for the Name."

Besides being a fearless and eloquent preacher, John became a Gospel writer to whom we are indebted for five of the New Testament books. In the Gospel of John, he teaches the Deity of Jesus and declares that "these things are written that ye

Mr. Knowles is not only an eloquent preacher but is intensely Scriptural in his presentation of sermons. Remember the date come to the church with a message and a welcome.

Stephen J. Epler, Minister Church of Christ.

It is said that when he was too feeble to walk to the services of the church in the city of Ephesus, friends would carry him and his message was "Little children love one another." John long ago went to his reward. He was cleansed from all unrighteousness.

The future will reveal many who were brought to Christ through John's preaching and teaching. Many will be there who learned through John that "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

Effectual
 "I have taken a great many bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and every time it has cured me. I have found it most effectual for a backing cough and for colds. After taking it a cough always disappears," writes J. R. Moore, Lost Valley, Ga. Obtainable everywhere.

Man No Bigger Than His Ideal.
 You will realize the Vision (not the idle wish) of your heart, be it base or beautiful, or a mixture of both, for you will always gravitate toward that which you, secretly, most love. Into your hands will be placed the exact results of your own thoughts; you will receive that which you earn; no more, no less. Whatever your present environment may be, you will fall, remain or rise with your thoughts, your Vision, your Ideal. You will become as small as your controlling desire; as great as your dominant aspiration.—James Allen.

Canned food will be needed next winter as it has never been needed before. Let your slogan be, therefore, can all you can and dry the succulent foods which will keep without canning.

SANDWICHES FOR OCCASIONS.

A slice of nice firm ripe tomato dipped in olive oil and lemon juice, seasoned with scraped onion, salt and red pepper, makes a most tasty sandwich. Sliced cucumbers, cut very thin and prepared just before using as above, is another refreshing and wholesome sandwich.

Chicken and Ham Sandwiches.—Cut cold chicken and cold ham in very thin slices. Prepare thin slices of bread, spread with butter, add a slice of ham, then a layer of chicken, sprinkle lightly with salt, add another slice of bread and butter and press together, trim and cut into triangles or any desired shape.

A bit of crisp lettuce dipped in a highly seasoned French dressing and served at once before the dressing wilts the lettuce, is a very good sandwich filling and easy to prepare.

Cheese Sandwiches.—Mix together two heaping tablespoonfuls of cheese, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, a teaspoonful of made mustard and spread buttered bread with this mixture, then lay on thin slices of corned beef, cover with another slice of bread, press together and cut in any desired shape.

Mayonnaise and Ham Sandwiches.—Chop a quarter of a pound of cooked ham, then add one teaspoonful of French mustard, one teaspoonful of paprika, the strained juice of half a lemon and four tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing. Mix well and spread lightly on thin buttered toast.

Egg and Sardine Sandwiches.—Work the yolks of six hard-cooked eggs into a paste with three tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise, add five sardines from which the skin and bones have been removed, and when a smooth paste is formed, spread on buttered toast, sprinkle with the finely minced egg whites and garnish with minced parsley.

Water Cress Sandwiches.—Take well-washed and dried water cress and mix after chopping with butter, cream it well and spread on thin slices of bread. Use four bunches of chopped cress and four tablespoonfuls of butter.
