NOTICE OF HEARING ON PETITION TO DETERMINE HEIRS AND THE RIGHT OF SUCCESSION OF REAL ESTATE.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF BOX BUTTE COUNTY, NEBRASKA. IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF JESSE KENNEDY, DECEASED.

To all persons interested in said estate, both creditors and heirs, take notice that a petition has been filed herein setting forth that one Jesse Kennedy, then a resident of Box Butte County, Nebraska, died intestate in Richardson County, Nebraska, on the 9th day of December, 1893, and that at the time of his death he was owner in fee simple of the following described land in Box Butte County, Nebraska, to-wit:

The Southeast Quarter (SW¹/₄) of Section numbered thirty-four (34), in Township numbered twenty-eight (28), North of Range fifty (50), west of the 6th principal meridian, containing about one hundred and sixty acres (160).

That he was seized of an estate of inheritance in said lands and that he left as his sole and only heirs at law the following named persons, to-wit: his widow, Minerva E. Kennedy, of Box Butte County, Neb.; James Peter Kennedy, a son, whose address is unknown; Ebenezer Kennedy, a son, of Richardson County, Nebraska; Ursula Tuttle, a daughter, of Box Butte County, Nebraska; William W. Kennedy, a son, of Box Butte County, Nebraska; Edith Wells, a daughter, of Richardson County, Nebraska; John Albert Kennedy, a son of Richardson County, Nebraska; Cora Bolejack, a daughter of Richardson County, Nebraska; Mary Ellen Stover, a daughter of Richardson County, Nebraska; Jesse Warner Kennedy, a son, of Box Butte County, Nebraska; Pearl Viola Ellison, a daughter, of Box Butte County, Nebraska, all of whom are more than twenty-one years of age, and that the above named persons were the sole and only heirs of the said Jesse Kennedy, deceased, and that your petitioner herein is a son of the said Jesse Kennedy, deceased, and is the owner in fee simple of a part of the above described lands and derives his title to the same through the said Jesse Kennedy, deceased.

The petitioner prays for a finding and decree of the said Court of the said County that the said Jesse Kennedy died intestate, a resident of Box Butte County, Nebraska, on the 9th day of December, 1893; that no application for administration upon his estate has been made and no probate proceedings have been had and that the sole and only heirs at law of the said deceased, at the time of his death were his widow, Minerva E. Kennedy, of Box Butte County, Nebraska; James Peter Kennedy, a son, address unknown; Ebenezer Kennedy a son; Edith Wells, a daughter; John Albert Kennedy, a son; Cora Bolejack, a daughter; Mary Ellen Stover, a daughter; all of Richardson County, Nebraska; and Ursula Tuttle, a daughter, William W. Kennedy, a son; Jesse Warren Kennedy, a son; and Pearl Viola Ellison, a daughter; all of Box Butte County, Nebraska, all of whom are more than twenty-one years of age, and that the widow was entitled to a dower interest in said lands, and that each of the above named children was entitled to an undivided one-tenth share or interest, in fee simple, subject to the dower interest of the widow, in the estate of the said Jesse Kennedy, deceased.

You are further notified that the time and place fixed for hearing on said petition has been set for the 15th day of April, 1918, at the hour of 9 o'clock a. m. at the County Court room, in the city of Alliance, Box Butte County, Nebraska.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

MR. SIMPKINS PAYS HIS INCOME TAX
By ROBERT McBLAIR.

Mr. Simpkins gazed at the portrait on the wall till his eyes filled with tears. It was a portrait of his father, Colonel Simpkins, who had four times been promoted for valor during the Civil War and had died bravely on the field of action. Mr. Simpkins' throat ached now for two reasons: First, he revered and adored the memory of his father; secondly, his age and his eyes and his game leg wouldn't let him go to war himself. And as he observed the martial bearing and uncompromising gaze of Colonel Simpkins he saw, in imagination, the khaki-clad lads of the new generation marching forth and crossing three thousand miles of sea to fight, maybe die, for liberty.

Mr. Simpkins peered around to make sure that neither Bess nor John (who were at the teasing ages of sixteen and seventeen) were where they could see him, then he straightened and threw his right arm up for a salute. But his gouty shoulder twinged, and he groaned. He couldn't even salute.

"Damn!" said Mr. Simpkins, and with his other hand fiercely twisted his white mustachios.

He turned and limped into the library and sat down creakily before the mahogany desk on which were lying the blanks for his income tax statement, blanks which he had rather grumpily got from the Internal Revenue officer only that day after luncheon on his way home from the club.

Mr. Simpkins' income for 1917 had amounted to just about $15,000, and he had been rather snappy on the subject of taxes ever since he had discovered that the more income a man has the greater the percentage of it he pays in taxes. He could think of several men who, like himself, were married and had two children, and yet, although their incomes were nearly half of his, they would pay only a small fraction of the amount he paid. He gloomily drew the blank nearer and began filling in the information that it asked for.

As Mr. Simpkins' income was $15,000 he had to figure out the amounts payable on each of the successive smaller classes of incomes in order to arrive at the total due from himself. He passed over the first class who must pay taxes, that is, single men making over 1,000. His calculation for married men then showed up as follows:

First, they pay 2 per cent, (under the 1916 law) on all income over $4,000, deducting $200 for each of their children under eighteen years. In Mr. Simpkins' case this was $212, which he put down in the "payable" column.

He saw next that, under the 1917 law, married men pay an additional 2 per cent, on all over $2,000—with the same allowance for children. This added $252 to his "payable" column.

He then observed that for every $2,500 jump in his income over $5,000 he had to pay a Surtax, the percentage growing larger with each jump. This was $250 more added to his burden. And on top of all this came an "Excess Profits" tax of 8 per cent, on all "occupation" income over $6,000, making $720 more.

The total, then, he must pay was fourteen hundred and thirty-four dollars.

"Whew!" exclaimed Mr. Simpkins angrily. "There's young Henry Wilkins, who married Jake Johnson's girl, he makes $2,000 and he doesn't pay a cent of taxes. I guess this is his war as well as mine!"

Thinking of young Henry Wilkins, he remembered that Mrs. Wilkins went every afternoon to make bandages for the Red Cross and that Henry, who was a lawyer, was aiding the Local Draft Board with its questionnaires.

"Well," he admitted to himself, "that makes a difference."

He thought next of Judge Willoughby, whose income was about $3,000.

"He only pays $20," commented Mr. Simpkins, not quite so angrily this time; and then a thought struck him and he sat up rigidly in his chair.

Judge Willoughby's son had been drowned on the Tuscanya when it was submarine with the loss of two hundred soldiers.

"Judge Willoughby gave his son to America," muttered Mr. Simpkins.

He leaned forward suddenly and put his face in his hands.

For a long time Mr. Simpkins sat very still in that position. There was no sound in the library except the ticking of the tall clock and an occasional trill of laughter from the children skylarking upstairs. The square of light on the carpet gradually withdrew itself through the window, and first twilight and then darkness settled in about the quiet, white haired, sometimes irascible old man.

Mr. Simpkins was thinking things which he would never afterward speak of, he was thinking things that were too sacred ever to be put into words. But some inkling of his thoughts may be found in his rejoinder to Mrs. Simpkins when that placid lady came in and turned on the lights, and asked him whether he was ready for dinner.

"Judge Willoughby's only son was worth as much as fourteen hundred and thirty-four dollars, wasn't he?" Mr. Simpkins demanded of her.

As his wife, who was not unused to his superficial irritations, watched him in mild astonishment, Mr. Simpkins limped out to the hall and took his old felt hat and silver-headed cane from the hat rack. Letting himself out into the foggy evening, he tapped his way down to the corner, and mailed his income tax statement and check with his own hands.

"Now, God be thanked," said Mr. Simpkins as the lid clanked shut over his missive, "I can do this much for my country, anyhow."
