

ANOTHER BIG WAR SAVINGS DRIVE

School House Meetings June 28—Nebraska Will Place Thirty-Second Place.

President Wilson has named June 28th as the day on or before which every person, young or old, shall be given a final opportunity to show loyalty to the stars and stripes by joining a War Savings Society and pledging full co-operation in the government's efforts to inculcate into the lives of every American, man, woman and child, habits of thrift and economy.

America must awaken to the fact that the purchasing of non-essentials in time of war is little better than treason and possibly at this time a most serious injury to the country.

Societies.
In order to educate the people to this need of conserving labor and material, War-Savings societies are to be organized in large numbers throughout the United States. Through these societies, which will be directly affiliated with the Treasury Department at Washington, the government may quickly reach every individual with the propaganda which it desires shall be given general circulation.

Purpose.
The chief purpose will be to bring everyone into realization of personal responsibility and of personal service for the nation's welfare. This relationship and co-operation is even more vital than the selling of War-Savings Stamps, important as that is. We are apt to get the impression that because we have responded so well to previous calls, we can now stop. This erroneous impression must be eradicated from our minds. The war is not over by any means. The enemy is not yet exhausted. Uncle Sam has not yet ceased his preparations and we as individuals must not cease in our endeavors to aid the government in every way possible. The boys over there and over here have not relaxed in their work and we must not relax. We must be prepared to have and save more, in order to meet the demands. This saving must necessarily be the result of avoiding the purchase of unnecessary articles.

After the drive always comes the "carry-on" spirit. We have reached this "carry-on" period of the War-Savings campaign in Nebraska, and that means—brass tacks; the organization of War-Savings Societies. One soldier wouldn't get very far in a drive "over the top" alone. It is organization that counts—everybody going along together, shoulder to shoulder. Therefore, the government has thought it best to organize immense numbers of these War-Savings Societies immediately. Any group of men, women and children may organize themselves into a War-Savings Society, elect their own officers, usually a president and secretary; choose an appropriate name for the society, notify their County Director of War-Savings Societies, or other representative and ask him for a charter of affiliation with the National Committee. Full supplies and instructions immediately follow from the office of State Director Ward M. Burgess.

In accordance with proclamation of the president, as referred to, and of the governor of this state, meetings will be held in every school house at 8 p. m. on Friday, June 28th, for the purpose of organizing one or more War-Savings Societies in each school district. Every taxpayer or property owner and members of their households are called to these meetings. A record of those present and joining a society will be forwarded to the County Director of War-Savings Societies. Those absent will also be listed. In addition to these school-house meetings, soliciting committees on June 28th will visit and organize War-Savings Societies in business houses and factories. Churches, Sunday schools, lodges and other social institutions are also to have societies.

All states of the union are making this special campaign culminating June 28th. Nebraska is now in thirty-second place in the number of established War-Savings Societies. Other states will endeavor to increase their lead, but we know it can be accomplished in this section of the country, and Nebraska is going "over the top" as usual.

President's Message.
President Wilson in his proclamation, setting aside June 28th as National War-Savings Day, and urging the necessity of thoroughly organizing the people of this great nation into War-Savings Societies, said in closing:

"I earnestly appeal to every man, woman and child to pledge themselves, on or before the twenty-eighth of June, to save constantly and to buy as regularly as possible the securities of the government, and to do this as far as possible through membership in War-Savings Societies. The twenty-eighth of June ends this special period of enlistment in the great volunteer army of production and saving here at home. May there be none unenlisted on that day."

Ours is a patriotic state and I need only give publicity to this call of the government with full assurance that every citizen will do his full duty on June 28th.

WARD M. BURGESS,
Nebraska War-Savings Director.

Bingham News

Mrs. Jamie Burton and children spent the week with her mother on the ranch, returning home Monday.

Howard Shelledy came from Bayard Friday for a short stay with the home folks before leaving for the training camp.

Emerson McCarty is the proud possessor of a new eight-cylinder Jackson car since our last writing.

Fred Willey, who is employed on the De France ranch, near Lakeside, was at home over Sunday.

R. R. Kincaid is on the sick list. This is a new turn of affairs for him and it is hoped he will be able to wear it out soon.

Among the boys from this vicinity who were summoned to Oshkosh on Monday were Jim Cranmore, Ralph Dailey, Ray Hutchinson, Ora Bennett, Harry Mason, Howard Shelledy and Hubert Bartlett.

Albert Williams and Clarence Fosdick went east Saturday for an over Sunday visit with friends. Clarence unloaded at Mullen and Albert at Halsey, both returning the first of the week.

Ralph Letspeich is now located in Boston, where he has entered a training school preparatory to a flight to Berlin. He has entered the aviation corps.

The neighbors and friends of the G. A. Anderson family were greatly shocked when they learned that their youngest child, a boy about 8 years of age, whom they had taken to Alliance for medical aid a few days previous, had died on Thursday at that place of diphtheria. The body was buried the same day at Alliance and the sorrowing parents returned on the night train, having done all that human skill could do at such times. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of their baby boy.

The Hyannis chautauqua has proven a big drawing card for the people of Bingham and surrounding country. Many have attended almost every session but Monday night, when no less than fifteen auto loads attended from here. Hyannis could well say that Bingham certainly was well represented. Everyone was well pleased with the courteous treatment accorded them and the speech by Captain Kelly, of the French army, was a rare treat worth going many miles to hear.

Today may be dark and forbidding. Our hearts may be full of despair. But tomorrow the hope that was winning. Will prompt us to do and to dare.

MORE ECONOMICAL DISHES.

A small amount of meat may season a large amount of other food if carefully cooked and well seasoned, thus making both a wholesome and attractive dish.

Hungarian Goulash.—This will provide a good main dish for seven persons. Take one pound of lean veal, half a pound of lean beef, three tablespoonfuls of sweet bacon fat, in which an onion is browned after chopping, three cupfuls of boiling water, one teaspoonful of paprika, twelve potato balls or small new potatoes, six small onions, six carrot balls, six turnip balls, one bay leaf, one clove, four tablespoonfuls of flour, half a pint of cold water, one chopped chili pepper. Remove the browned onion from the fat and add the veal and beef, cut in small pieces; brown these and remove them to a casserole; add paprika and boiling water, cover the dish and place it in the oven. Fry the other vegetable balls in the smoking hot fat and add them to the meat after it has simmered for an hour and a half. Add the seasoning and flour, mixed with the cold water; stir until partly cooked, then add the red pepper and the boiling water. Cover and simmer for another hour and a half. Serve from the casserole.

Dried Peas and Rice.—If one dries their own peas this year they will have many good dishes to serve this winter. Pick them when young and tender, scald two minutes in boiling water, pour off the water and chill with cold water, drain and put to dry at once. The quicker they are dried the sweeter they will be when dry.

Wash a cupful of dried peas and let them soak over night, put to cook in three pints of water, add a teaspoonful of salt, one chopped onion and simmer until the peas are tender. Drain and mix with a cupful of boiled rice. Add four tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of strained tomato sauce and salt and pepper to taste. Bake ten minutes. Garnish with hard-cooked eggs and fried onions.
