Destructive Grasshopper.

The average grasshopper weighs one-thirty-second part of an ounce and is capable each day of consuming its own weight of corn or wheat or forage crops. Thus it would appear that the number of these insects eaten by nesting birds daily would be able to destroy 174,397 tons of crops worth, at an average of $10 a ton, $1,743,970.

Daily Thought.

We reap what we sow; but nature has love over and above that justice, and gives us shadow and blossom and fruit that spring from no planting of ours.—George Eliot.

ARE AT CAMP DODGE

Herald Will Give Readers Weekly
News From the Iowa Cantonment
Where Our Boys Are Training.

Beginning with this issue of The Herald, a weekly news letter from Camp Dodge, Iowa, will be published in The Herald. Many Box Butte and other western Nebraska boys are in training at Camp Dodge and their relatives and friends will be glad to have the opportunity to read regularly the latest news from there.

J. W. Jarnigan is The Herald's correspondent and his letter is as follows:

Hundreds Sheltered in Tents.

Camp Dodge, Iowa, July 31.—With the arrival of 12,000 men from Montana, South Dakota and Nebraska, the 88th division of the national army is full to overflowing. More than 1,300 tents have been pitched on the drill grounds west of the arsenal and these are occupied by the new men. Every barrack is occupied and for the first time the full capacity of the great cantonment has been reached and then some. The new men are to remain in their tents and the grounds surrounding until the quarantine, lasting two weeks, is lifted. All activities completing the preliminaries will be carried on in the meantime so the men will not be idle. No visitors are allowed to that section until quarantine restrictions have been removed. All indications point to an early departure of the 88th division for France. Several thousand men from Camp Funston, Kans., have joined the forces here and men to complete the enrollment of the different units have come from all over the country. The greatest activity is shown in all departments and the men are waiting with enthusiastic patience the call for service in France. Signs have been posted warning the men not to express an opinion as to the probable time of departure. Having in mind the earnestness of their stay last Sunday saw more visitors at camp than at any time since the men were gathered here. The home folks came by thousands. Hotels in Des Moines were unable to handle the throng. Thousands came across the country in automobiles, some from Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska and as far as North Dakota. It is understood that as soon as the men leave, another increment will fill up the barracks. The enlargement of the cantonment is indicated upon the labor market. Efforts are being made to enroll 5,000 workmen. The new men will come largely from the states assigned to this division—Minnesota, North Dakota, a portion of Illinois and Iowa. The men now here from Montana, South Dakota, Nebraska and Missouri are to be the nucleus of the newly formed division. Several thousand negroes have filled the vacancy made by the departure of 5,000 negroes for France some weeks ago. These negro troops are now in the thickest of the fight in France.

Accept Smaller Men.

Men only sixty inches in height and weighing a minimum of 110 lbs. are again eligible to military service according to a ruling just issued by the war department. The former regulations called for at least 63 inches in height. The reason for the new regulation is said to be that so large a number failed to come up to the requirements, it was barring many men who, in the opinion of the authorities would make good soldiers.

Soldiers Admitted Free to State Fair.
All soldiers in uniform will be admitted free to the Iowa state fair this year. The ruling applies only to admission at the outside gate into the grounds and does not cover the amphitheater or any of the attractions on the grounds where admission fees are charged.

Miss Seyle to Make Tour of Middle West.
Miss Adele Seyle, for the past six months general secretary of the Hostess House here, has been called away to spend the next four months traveling and speaking in Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and the Dakotas in the interests of the war work of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Frances Cushing will temporarily have charge.

Patching Up the Defectives.
More than 800 soldiers at Camp Dodge, who have been examined and designated as "physically unfit for overseas service," are to be re-examined and as many as possible placed in division units for service in France.

Among the so-called "unfits" are many men who have but slight defects and it is probable a considerable number will be found who will eventually be transferred back to the division proper. Special attention will be given them in an effort to remedy ailments to as great degree as possible. The order for re-examination does not mean that men physically incapable of standing the long strain of continued fighting will be taken.

It is against the policy of the department to burden the overseas forces with such men, but those who it is considered will be able to do valuable work of a lighter nature will be accepted.

An Appeal to the Soldiers.

Brig. General Bash, acting commander of this division, has made a direct appeal to the men as individual units in a great army. In his address, posted in each of the barracks, he says:

"There remains now but a short time to finish off the rough edges of the training of our division. Let us, in passing the first phase, hesitate sufficiently to appreciate fully our shortcomings. Each man can profitably take stock and decide for himself his own shortcomings. When he realizes that his life at any moment may depend on the thoroughness and completeness of his training here, the character of his work will be of a higher degree. If he is always conscious that excellence and aggressiveness with the bayonet may save his life, the quality of his work in training will certainly improve. When he recognizes adequately the value to himself of being fully versed in the gas situation, he will see to it that he is prepared in every respect to meet it. Each man must be a unit, fit and capable of caring for himself. Moreover, there must be a certain correlation of parts that will build a correct and efficient organization. With a limited time left, the energy of each individual must be concentrated in the 88th division to make it a finished whole and one of the best to go overseas."

Fifty Tuberculosis Sufferers to New York.

Fifty tuberculosis patients from the base hospital, accompanied by several attendants, left this week for U. S. general hospital No. 8, at Otisville, New York, where the tubercular soldiers will be given special treatment. Otisville is located in Catskill mountains and the air is especially favorable for tubercular sufferers.

any Transfers to This Camp.

Nearly 200 men from the training detachment at the University of Colorado have been assigned to the proper units here. One hundred and twenty-one privates, who reported at division headquarters for duty, after having completed the course of training for mechanics at the Kansas state agricultural college and Dunwoody institute, were assigned to the 337th and 339th field artillery regiments. With the transfer of many of the medical officers who have been on duty at the base hospital for some time to other camps, an equal number of new officers have arrived to fill the depleted ranks.

Many Men to Prison.

Your correspondent desires to call attention to the seriousness of army life. Matters that in civil life would Private Carl E. Zimmerman, Minn., company C, 313th engineers, Camp Dodge, has been tried by a general court martial on a charge of willfully disobeying his superior officer and sentenced to five years at hard labor in the United States disciplinary barracks at Leavenworth, Kans. Private Hubert P. Surber, 350th field hospital, was sentenced to one and one-half years at hard labor in the United States disciplinary barracks, Fort Leavenworth, Kans., and dishonorably discharged from the service. The charge against Private Surber was of leaving the barracks when under confinement without getting the permission of his commanding officer. Albert Steiner, 163rd depot brigade, was found guilty of desertion in trial by court martial and sentenced to serve fifteen years at hard labor at the United States disciplinary barracks, Fort Leavenworth, Kans. Recruit William A. Robinson, Des Moines, tried by court martial at Camp Dodge on the charge of being absent without leave, was found guilty and sentenced to serve two years in the United States disciplinary barracks, Fort Leavenworth, Kans. Failure to appear at the time his organization sails for overseas duty is a serious offense, and any enlisted man absent without leave at the time of embarkation will be tried by court martial when he reports. This is the substance of advices received at Camp Dodge from Washington.
