DELINQUENTS CARED FOR

From 80,000 to 50,000 Soldiers to Be Used in Forming Goddess of Liberty in Human Mass.

(By J. W. Jarnigan, Herald Correspondent.)

Camp Dodge, Iowa, Sept. 4.—The converting of thousands of untrained men, taken from every avenue of life, into a well drilled military unit capable of fighting by the side of veterans across the sea, is the problem presented at Camp Dodge. Two regiments of regulars are to furnish the basis of the newly formed 19th division. These trained men are distributed in such a way that their maneuvers furnish a schooling for the new men. Officers are assembling from all over the country to replace those who led the 88th division to overseas service. Another call has been issued for the assembling of thousands of other recruits in September, 8,000 of these to come from Iowa and a proportionate number from Illinois, Minnesota, the Dakotas and Nebraska. The tented city is used for new men who must undergo quarantine, the latest increment being something like 7,000 negroes. Many of these men are being sent to France as laborers and have had but little training. The newly allotted staff of officers for the 19th division are: Camp surgeon, Lieut. Col. E. W. Rich, M. C., U. S. A.; camp sanitary inspector, Major Hiram M. Read, M. R. C.; camp inspector, Major Percy Bordwell, N. A.; camp judge advocate, Capt. Adam Richmond, I. R. C.; camp signal officer, Captain Royal H. Drummond, I. R. C.; camp intelligence officer, Captain Jackson R. Day, I. R. C.; chief gas officer, Captain F. Bliss, chemical warfare service; camp police officer, Second Lieut. J. Mortenson, Q. M. C., N. A.

Col. William Newman, commander of the 163d depot brigade, is now camp commander following the departure of Brig. Gen. S. M. Foote, of the 163d field artillery brigade.

Exonerated in Shooting Case.
Mechanic Russell Earl, Three hundred and forty-ninth infantry, Camp Dodge, has been exonerated from responsibility in the accidental shooting of Private John A. Heyerhoff on June 22. Heyerhoff was shot in the hip when a gun held by Earl was discharged accidentally. An artery was severed and the man bled to death. Private Ole Egge, 163d depot brigade, died at the base hospital Saturday night from an infection of a cut on his chin, which resulted while he was shaving. Blood poison set in and he is said to have caused his death. A board of officers has been appointed to investigate the exact cause of his death.

600 New Citizens Swear Allegiance.
All men in camp who applied for citizenship Wednesday reported at the naturalization office before Judge Thos. G. Guthrie, Thursday afternoon to take the oath of allegiance as citizens of the United States. There were about 600 men in this list who became citizens of the United States thru the new ruling of the president that men in the military service may waive residence qualifications for naturalization.

Draft Evaders Take Advice to "Be Good."
From 50 to 60 draft evaders have been brot to camp this week and placed under the care of the military police until they could be drafted into the service. Some of these men who have voiced objections to serving in the army, have been convinced by the advice of Capt. Per Lee and Lieut. E. W. Crippen, commanding officer and adjutant of the provisional military police organization of the camp, that the best thing they could do would be to obey orders and join the service.

Standardize Work for Army Pastors.
Recent legislation increasing the number of army chaplains in the military forces of the United States will result in the gradual elimination of representatives of various creeds now known and authorized as army pastors, according to an announcement from division headquarters at Camp Dodge. Since the organization of the 88th division there have been from 15 to 30 men, the majority of them ordained ministers, conducting religious work among the soldiers. A letter from the war department received last week directing that these men be notified of the departments intention of relieving them of this work and placing the entire religious activities of the camp and the new 19th division in the hands of commissioned chaplains, resulted in a meeting Saturday at which official notification of the department's policy was communicated to the pastors. There are representatives of 13 different sects here, numbering between 25 and 30 pastors. The work these men have done, is said, to have been of considerable aid and benefit to the men and officers. At the meeting Saturday representatives of the following sects were present: Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist, Lutheran, Episcopal, Congregational, Swedish Evangelical, Swedish Evangelical Free church, Christian Reformed, Christian Science, Seventh Day Adventists and Catholic. In directing that the services of these army pastors be dispensed with, the department points out the provision which recently was made for placing three chaplains in every regiment, or one to every 1,200 men. A training school for army chaplains also has been established at an eastern post where men commissioned for this work are given special instruction in the work.

Objectors Placed on Farms.
More than 150 draftees at Camp Dodge claiming conscientious scruples against entering any branch of the military work either combatant or non-combatant, were being furloughed to farms in the north and central west Monday. The placing of these men on farms in accordance with instructions from the war department, temporarily at least solves one of the most trying problems with which the military authorities have had to deal. The objectors being furloughed must report each month to some disinterested person and their work must be satisfactory or the furlough will be terminated, the orders say. They will receive no pay from the government, but are to be paid at the prevailing scale of wages in the community where they are employed. Any amount in excess of a private's pay of $30 a month, except in such cases where room and board is not furnished, must be turned over by the objector to the Red Cross.

Griffith Goes to Camp Gordon.
Capt. John L. Griffith, athletic director of Camp Dodge, like Mike Gibbons, the boxing instructor, has received orders to report at Camp Gordon, Ga. Capt. Griffith does not know whether the change is permanent or whether he has been sent to the southern cantonment only temporarily.

Soldier Finds Mother.
The strange story of how a two-year-old baby boy became separated from his mother 24 years ago, was recared by foster parents and how at last his mother was located on the eve of his departure from Camp Dodge for France, is related by Red Cross nurses at the cantonment. The man is Verne Phillips, of Joplin, Mo., and the mother is Mrs. W. L. Maple, a Portland, Ore., woman. She is now racing across the continent in an effort to see her boy before his departure for France. The mother was located thru the Red Cross.

Taking Care of the Delinquents.
All of the men mentally deficient those who can not read and write, the foreigner who cannot speak English, those in poor physical condition because they do not know how to take care of themselves and in fact all of the human driftwood that has been gathered into the army from the operations of the selective draft have been formed into classes, placed in proper grades and are being educated by men delegated for that purpose from among the soldiers. This work is under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A., headed by Prof. Harry L. Ellis, a member of the faculty of the State teachers college at Cedar Falls. These fellows meet an hour in the forenoon and an hour in the afternoon at the various Y. M. C. A. buildings. The instructors from the army are school men of experience. Something like 3,000 men will be in the various classes. Among the negroes colored teachers are available. The value of a bath, the use of the toothbrush, pride in cleanliness of clothing and person, are being instilled in connection with the recitations. It is amazing how many young men in this country can neither read nor write. The army is finding them. Mr. Ellis has made a very clear statement of conditions to the commissioner of education in Washington with a view of setting the wheels in motion that will obviate this serious condition in the future.

Food Specialists on Duty.
Food specialists, to be known as nutrition officers, are to be stationed at Camp Dodge to personally supervise the rations to be issued to soldiers of the 19th United States army division, according to word received from the surgeon general's office recently. It will be the duty of these men to see to it that Uncle Sam's fighting men receive a balanced ration. Much of the benefit to be derived from the services of these food specialists also will be the saving in food stuffs desired for shipment overseas. Officers say that there is no question but that an immense quantity of such materials can be saved thru the proper preparation and selection of various substitutes. The nutrition officers will work in conjunction with officers in charge of supplies, and with those directing the preparation of the food to be served.

Desertion Proved, 3-Year Sentence.
Private John A. Bach, a member of the 349th infantry, Camp Dodge, has been found guilty of desertion by general court martial and sentenced to three years' hard labor at the disciplinary barracks at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas.

German Sailor Located at Camp Dodge.
It requires constant watching by the best experts in the country to make sure that no enemy finds a place in the camp. On several occasions suspicious characters have been located and in every case an assumed name served to hide the identity of the suspect. The latest arrest was that of a fellow giving his name as John Bastie Gruber. The draft caught him at Carroll, Iowa. Investigation shows that he has been going under other names, such as John Lange and John Schmidt. He was a sailor on the German steamship Vaterland, interned at an eastern seaport in 1916. His strong German accent and the fact he admitted Munich, Germany as his birth place, resulted in his actions being carefully watched.

When officers reported Gruber to the department of justice a comparison of data showed him to be the much wanted sailor from the crew of the Vaterland. Investigation of Gruber's action also showed him to be on intimate terms with Otto Greenburg, another member of the crew of the same boat who was arrested in Des Moines and later interned for the duration of the war.

The Goddess of Liberty.
At each of the cantonments by the use of soldiers patriotic emblems have been formed and these have been photographed and are used on postcards and various other illustrations sent out from the different camps.

A living goddess of liberty is to be formed at Camp Dodge some day this month.

Between 30,000 and 50,000 soldiers will be massed to represent a replica of the famous statue which stands at the entrance to the New York harbor.

Officials are planning to outline the figure on the ground and then mass the men so as to bring out the gigantic figure.

A tower will be erected so that photographs may be taken of this wonderful picture.

Similar demonstrations have been given at the Great Lakes training station and at Camp Dix when the flag and the Liberty bell were represented.

Camp Dodge hopes to make this presentation eclipse anything else ever attempted anywhere.

Women Must Be Careful.

At the time of the assault upon a young woman which resulted in the hanging of three negroes an order was issued to the effect that women either with escorts or alone were not to be found in any of the side streets or along the highways or in unfrequented places after 9 o'clock at night. That meant after dark. Col. William Newman, in command at the cantonment, has issued a supplementary order that women may not enter the barracks at any time without special permission from detachment commanders. The order further provides that women either with escorts or alone will not be permitted walking about the encampment at any time of the day except along the main traveled streets or highways.

The orders put a restriction on the accessibility of the cantonment to civilians which has not existed before since its construction. In fact it is known that Camp Dodge in comparison with other cantonments could almost be considered a public picnic ground, officers say.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SWEDES ARE BUILDING LINK

Railroad Will Connect Scandinavia With Russian Territory—Bridge Is Mile Long.

A bridge nearly a mile long is being built by the Russian and Swedish governments over the River Tornea, which separates Sweden and Finland at the apex of the Gulf of Bothnia. The Swedish government is doing the actual work, having better access to material. By this bridge the railway systems of the two countries will be united, and one may then be able to travel from Stockholm to Vladivostok without alighting from the railway coach.

Already an elevated cable communication over the Tornea is nearing completion. It is intended to carry mails and parcels, of which enormous quantities pass through the towns of Tornea and Haperanda. The lighters which have been used heretofore, overloaded with parcels, were useless in the spring or autumn, and in winter horses and sledges were slow and expensive.

On account of the weight and shape of locomotive driving springs, it is difficult to handle them, especially in removing them from the stockhouse. The rack shown in the illustration will simplify the problem of storing. Old car sills and scrap-rails were used in the construction. This rack can be used to facilitate handling any kind of bulky or unwieldy material of a similar nature.—J. R. Minter, in Popular Science Monthly.

Little Consolation.
It is little consolation for the man whose pockets have been picked or home robbed to reflect that the money taken is not worth as much as it used to be.—Indianapolis News.

"Keep canning, sugar or no sugar" says the United States department of agriculture. If you can't get enough sugar for home canning put up your fruit without it. The products will keep perfectly until a time when more sugar is available or until a sugar substitute program has been worked out. Fruits put up in this way are excellent for pie filling and salads and may be used in desserts, puddings, ices and punches. In canning fruit without sugar, can the product the day it is picked.

To Save Leftover Paint.
After housecleaning, if one has partly used cans of paint or varnish left over, which would soon dry up and become useless, try putting them into small cans and cover with melted paraffin. They will keep indefinitely and can be used as needed.
