SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

The man who calls attention to the actions of others and endeavors to besmirch the character of others in order to divert attention from his own actions is not uncommon. But the man who endeavors to attack the patriotism of another in order to hide his own lack of patriotism, is in our opinion and in the opinion of all good citizens we believe, the one who deserves the censure of the public. The man who calls another "yellow" because that other man, with perfectly good reasons, asks the district board for a decision on the classification given him by the local board, and who himself, on the quiet pulls every string and puts forth every effort to avoid military service himself, is the man who will suffer from public opinion.

Recently the Box Butte county draft board re-classified the married men without children, placing eighty-two of them in Class 1-A. Seven of these men, including the editor of The Herald, appealed to the district board at Omaha for a decision on the matter. Among those who did not appeal was Bull J. Sallows, editor of The Alliance Times, who immediately proceeded to lambast the seven who had appealed through the columns of his orange tinted sheet, at the same time endeavoring to give the impression that he was just "aching" to go to the training camp and that he would get there by the first train if possible.

The editor of The Herald is a candidate for re-election to the office of state representative at the general election to be held on November 5th. He would have been entitled to a classification in class five had he claimed exemption on this ground, which he refused to do, writing plainly on his questionnaire that he desired no exemption on the ground of being a state officer. He has a clean, progressive record as a member of the legislature and believes that he is entitled to re-election. For that reason he desired to remain at home until after election. He has no desire to shirk military duty or to lay claim to the patriotism of his five brothers, four of whom are now in the army and the other one of whom will go with the contingent next week to Camp Kearney. In order to show where he stands on the subject he published a signed article in The Herald on October 10, pledging himself, if given deferred classification, to voluntarily enlist at the close of the legislative session.

Bull Sallows, in endeavoring to stir up feeling against the seven men who filed appeals to the district board, evidently thought that his carefully laid plans for deferring of his call would slip through unnoticed, but his past record in the county is too well known and it was predicted ten days ago or longer that he would at the last minute endeavor to slip out. Here is his laughable and pitiful "explanation," printed in the Tuesday issue of the Alliance Times:

"The County Chairman, acting on printed instructions from Secretary McAdoo in behalf of the Liberty Loan, has filed an order against calling Ben J. Sallows, until the present loan campaign is closed. Preliminary plans had been made and a successor named to take charge of The Times when this order was filed over the personal request of the registrant to be inducted for this call."

In his column of "innuendo," run under the head of "peep sights" the editor of The Times, in the same issue had the following squib:

"Some fight for exemptions while others have them thrust upon them."

Now, as to the attitude of the aforesaid Bull Sallows on the Fourth Liberty Loan. It is common knowledge that it would be considered unpatriotic and a hindrance to the sale of Liberty Loan bonds to sell other securities during the campaign for the sale of bonds. Several potash companies, recently organized, have deferred the placing on the market of their authorized stock issues until after the close of the Liberty Loan campaign. And the excuse offered by the Times editor for his failure to go with the other boys in the next call is "The Fourth Liberty Loan."

The Herald now has, in its possession, an original signed letter, written by the Times editor under date of October 7th, to the secretary of a western Nebraska potash company—one of those mentioned above. Herald readers will note that October 7th was near the start of the present Liberty Loan campaign. Under date of Friday, October 11th, The Times issued a special "potash" edition. The letter, mentioned above, was written with reference to this edition and explains itself. It reads as follows:

THE ALLIANCE SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES
Alliance, Nebraska

October, 7th, 1918.

Mr. _____

Dear Sir:

The big Potash Issue of The Alliance Times will be published Friday of this week. If you are planning on a stock selling campaign you can reach ten prospective customers in this issue to every one you could reach in the ordinary manner.

We have orders for the paper from all over the country. You will be in time if you get your ad copy up here Wednesday. Give us an outline of what you want and we will shape it up for you.

Very respectfully,

THE ALLIANCE SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES
(Signed) BEN J. SALLOWS
Publisher.

Be it said to the credit of the potash man that his patriotism was above his desire for the sale of stock and he did not take the written request of the editor of The Times to place his stock before the public at the time when the public was being asked to subscribe to the Fourth Liberty Loan. We fail to see where this attitude on the part of the editor of The Times helped the sale of Fourth Liberty Bonds and we fail to understand why it is a legitimate excuse for his evasion of military service at this time.

We presume that the Y. M. C. A. will next need the service of our read Bull, causing another thirty days delay in his departure for the training camp. And then perhaps there will be something else, for a new coat of camouflage must be provided. The Herald has plenty of additional evidence which it will use in future issues to show the actions of Bull J. and his "Hindenburg Line" in not only this case but in others.

The editor of The Herald may be on his way to the training camp before the next issue of this paper reaches our readers. The notice of "embarkment" has been made out and signed by the local draft board and is now awaiting the decision of the district board. If the latter board says go at this time we will go and gladly. Should we be re-elected to the office which we have filled to the best of our ability during the past two years, we will, if in this country when the legislature convenes, endeavor to secure a furlough to attend the same. Members of the legislature were given furloughs to attend the session this spring and it will undoubtedly be done again.

In the meantime we would suggest to the editor of The Times that no one is "sitting on his tail" and he can, if he is as patriotic and anxious to go to the front as he would have us believe, take voluntary induction at any time, as he could have done during the past year or longer.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Stanza Louisa Johnson, was born December 25, 1886, in Boone county, Nebraska. She died at her home in Alliance, on October 15th, 1918. She was only sick for a week, having taken the influenza which later developed into pneumonia, causing her death. The funeral was held October 16th, with an out of door service at the cemetery, Rev. Stephen J. Epler, having charge of the service.

Besides her husband, L. E. Johnson, proprietor of the Silver Grill cafe she leaves one brother, Theodore Stoltz of Minatare and six sisters: Mrs. Minnie Pares, Mrs. Ruth Herman and Mrs. Matthew Hones, who reside at Minatare; Mrs. Lydia Reister and the Misses Edith and Mildred Stoltz, who live in Alliance.

The largest potash reduction plant in the world is located at Antioch, Nebraska. It started up on September 17. Nebraska is now producing right around 700 tons of potash a day. Next to the packing industry the potash industry is Nebraska's largest manufacturing institution. If printing is ranked among the manufacturing industries—and why not?—it is the third largest manufacturing industry in Nebraska. Butter and flour follow in order named.

that are unique in many respects. The society does not own a fair grounds but owns an exhibit building in New York. It charges no entrance fees, has no races, charges no admission fee and pays its premiums in spot cash. The society draws the usual amount from the county treasurer and the York County Commercial Club makes good any deficit.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE

GRANT G. MARTIN

Formerly Attorney General. Ten years devoted to the legal business of the state. Now helping Supreme Court to clear its docket.

The Omaha Examiner says: "Grant G. Martin is a persistent advocate of speedy termination of litigation in order to cut down expense, both to litigants and the state. That's the kind of a judge the people want on the supreme bench."

VOTE FOR

KEITH NEVILLE

NEBRASKA'S WAR GOVERNOR BECAUSE

1. Every pledge made to the people has been fully and faithfully redeemed.
2. He has given whole hearted support to the Federal Government, and his experience is an asset in the prosecution of the war.
3. He has made it possible for Nebraska's heroic sons in the service to exercise the right of franchise, and has protected their property rights in their absence from the State.
4. He will exert every effort to protect the people of Nebraska from organized profiteering.
5. He has vigorously opposed all things calculated to embarrass the Government in the prosecution of the war.
6. His administration has been clean, honest and businesslike, free from graft, favoritism and ostentation.
7. The General Fund levy for 1918 has been reduced to three mills, and the amount raised in taxes for the General Fund, will be the least raised in thirty years.
8. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were saved to the farmers through the embargo placed upon seed corn in 1917. The price per bushel in Nebraska ranged from $3.00 to $5.00, while in Iowa and surrounding states, the prices reaped by seed speculators ranged from $5.00 to $12.00.
9. He appointed a committee of prominent stock feeders to confer with the Federal Food Administration, and a market for heavy beef cattle was created, averting disaster to the stock feeding industry of Nebraska.
10. The State Hail Insurance law has been administered in an efficient and businesslike manner, and all losses sustained by policy holders during the past season will be paid in full. No other State selling hail insurance has ever paid 100 per cent of its losses.
11. The Seed Analysis Branch of the Pure Food Department has, during Governor Neville's administration, made more than 5,000 seed tests, without cost to the farmers of Nebraska.
12. Being advised that there was a shortage of hog cholera serum and virus, and that Nebraska hog raisers were experiencing difficulty in securing prompt delivery of the product, Governor Neville recommended to the Regents of the State University, that the state serum plant be reopened. The Regents acted favorably upon the Governor's recommendation, and immediately directed the reopening of the plant.
13. Prohibition has been energetically enforced throughout the State. There have been 4,527 prosecutions and fines have been assessed aggregating $125,000.00.
14. He was born and reared in Nebraska, and understands the needs of the people.
15. It is unwise to change horses in the middle of a stream.

Nebraska has excelled all other states in many phases of war work endeavor. The re-election of Nebraska's war governor will mean a continuation of effective co-operation in this work.

When the Chiropractor, by scientific adjustment removes the pressure from the nerves and helps Nature to restore Health, the operation seems a simple one. Yet the knowledge is one that is gained only after a great deal of investigation, for Chiropractic is just as much a science and a profession that has to be learned as any other Health-method.

KNOWLEDGE OF SPINE AND NERVES

The Chiropractor must intimately know the body. He must know what nerves feed every organ and just where these nerves branch out from the spine, so that he can place his finger right on the point of pressure that is causing trouble in a certain part of the body.

Because of this expert knowledge of why he adjusts, where and how to do it, the Chiropractor can by examining the spine, tell what is the trouble without a patient telling him anything. The spine is the key. Spinal pressure on a certain nerve leads to weakness and disease in a certain organ. That's why the Chiropractor adjusts a certain part of the spine to relieve headaches and another part of the spine for stomach or abdominal troubles, etc. In no drug or knife are used. If you are not as well as you should be, have your spine adjusted and the cause of your troubles removed, so Nature can make you strong and healthy again. Information given without obligation. Investigate.

CHIROPRACTIC
The Better Way to Health

Nebraska has raised enough sugar beets this year to produce upwards of 120,000,000 pounds of sugar, or practically 90,000,000 pounds surplus—if the food administrator does not increase the amount possible to purchase per capita per month. Looks like the world would soon be looking to Nebraska for beet sugar, just as it is now looking to Nebraska for potash.
