Precautions in Storing Much Coal
In These Times it is Imperative That You Use Every Precaution in Storing Coal

Large quantities of soft coal are being stored by mercantile establishments and industries because of the fear of a fuel shortage during the winter. The danger of spontaneous combustion in this causes a serious fire hazard, and unusual care should be exercised by the owners of such properties. The hazard can be reduced by proper selection of the grades and sizes of soft coal, and the exercise of proper precautions in its handling and storage.
Where large quantities of soft coal are stored in the open it should be in separate piles, so that a fire starting will not spread through the entire supply, and the affected pile can be extinguished or moved. Where the coal is stored in basements the Fuel Administration suggests the following precautions:

1. Coal the size of a walnut or larger is well adapted for storing. Mine run, slack or screenings, on account of fine coal and dust, are not suited for storage in a basement.
2. Never place coal near a hot pipe, against a hot furnace or any other hot surface.
3. Do not mix ashes with the coal, as there may be live coals in the ashes.
4. If coal must be wet down, wet only the portion that is to be used immediately.
5. It is very important that pieces of waste, oily rags, sticks, paper and other rubbish should not be mixed, or allowed to come in contact with the coal.

6. Special attention should be paid to the proper cleaning of stoves and chimneys regularly.
During the past ninety days the Department of Publicity has sent out more than 3,000 copies of "Nebraska Facts" to residents of eastern states who are turning their eyes towards the new and prospering west. And the director of the department has answered more than 1,500 letters from recipients of the booklet who wanted to know something more about school and church facilities in Nebraska cities named in their letters. During the year the department has sent out more than 2,500 bulletins on the potash industry of Nebraska, many of them to Great Britain, Hawaiian Islands, and the provinces of Canada.

The Telephone Bill
Is a Small Item in the Family Expense

According to statistics, the average family income is expended about like this:

Food	35 per cent
Rent	20 per cent
Clothing	16 per cent
Fuel and Light	6 per cent
Insurance, Savings, etc.	7 per cent
House Furnishings	4 per cent
Education and Amusements	4 per cent
Sickness	3 per cent
TELEPHONE	2 per cent
Incidentals	3 per cent

Almost the smallest item in the family budget is the monthly telephone bill. Yet the service the telephone renders is very great.
