PROTECTION OF STOCK

How to Make Effectual Lightning Arrestor on Fence.

Effective Safety Device May Be Made By Using Ordinary Fence Wire—Place Ground Wires About Ten Rods Apart.

(By J. BRIDGEMAN.)

An astonishing number of stock are killed each season by lightning, and not a few human beings, and in almost every case the dead stock is found near a wire fence. There is no doubt but that a large portion of this stock and human life could be saved by grounding the wires of the fence, but as this calls for a large-sized, rather expensive wire or iron rod, it is seldom done.

An effective safety device may be easily constructed as follows: Any ordinary smooth fence wire may be driven four or five feet deep in the hardest soil—at either depth the wire is sure to be in damp, wet soil at all seasons of the year. Two 1 by 12-inch boards, four or five feet long, are shaped like a flight of steep steps (as shown in the accompanying illustration).

The step-shaped notches should be about six inches in height and one and one-half inches deep; in the top center of each step a small groove is cut (as shown by the darts leading to B). These should be one-fourth inch wide and about one-eighth of an inch deep so that when the two pieces are fastened together each step has a one-fourth-inch hole its entire length.

The grooves should be as smooth and straight as possible, but can be cut with an ordinary pocketknife if no other tool is at hand.

Fasten the lower ends of the boards together with a small bolt (as shown in the left-hand figure); hold the top together with the left hand, set the device where wanted and drop the wire in the top hole; drive down to the wood, lift the device and place the wire in the next hole, and so on until the last hole is reached.

In this manner a very small wire may be driven in the ground without bending, and only six inches of same is above the wood at one time. Splice the ground wire and connect same to each wire of the fence and you will have a first-class lightning arrester.

The distance apart these ground wires should be placed is a question—the writer places them every eight or ten rods.

OVERCOMING GARLIC IN MILK

No Practical Method for Use on Dairy Farms—Keep Cows Off Garlicky Pastures is Best.

What is the best way to remove the garlic taste in milk? This question has been asked.

Though large milk establishments have mechanical processes for taking odors out of milk and cream by means of an air blast, there is no practical method for use on dairy farms. An aerator would perhaps be of some slight advantage, but prevention is the best cure. Keeping the cows off garlicky pastures several hours before milking is the most effective means of overcoming the trouble.

One of the best ways to kill wild garlic in pastures is to turn in sheep. They like the tops, and in a few years the garlic will disappear.

PROTECT FOWLS FROM MITES

Suffering Birds Cannot Do Well When Infected With Vermin—Use Ointment and Powder.

Lice and mites must be kept down, for suffering fowls and chicks cannot do well.

Therefore, use plenty of mite-killing liquid and plenty of lice-killing ointment and powder and in that way protect your fowls and your profit.

INSPECTION OF PEACH TREES

October is Good Month for Getting After Borers—Paint the Wound With White Lead.

October is a good month for worming the peach trees. Go over them carefully and get out the borers, paint the wounds with white lead and draw the dirt away from the roots so the weather may have a chance at the borers that were overlooked.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Some interesting basket ball games have been played this year, the first on Thanksgiving afternoon, in the gymnasium, between the Senior and Junior girls and the Sophomore and Freshman boys. The Senior girls and Sophomore boys were the winners. Another took place Tuesday night of last week between the Sophomore and Freshman girls and Junior boys, the winners this time being the Junior boys and Sophomore girls.

It is considered very fortunate that there are only five suffering from the popular mady in our midst, the following being afflicted, Margurite Briggs, Nellie Cusick, Ray Edwards, Edith Jacks and Madeling Zediker.

It is rumored among the Juniors that there is a possibility of a visit from "Charley's Aunt." She is an interesting lady. If she can make connections, the fact will be announced later, and it will be well worth your while to make her acquaintance.

The Seniors have out one of their number for a couple of weeks, Leon Alter. He will undergo a slight operation at the St. Joseph Hospital will be at home to his friends by Sunday Dec. 15.

Reverend Wright gave an interesting talk in the chapel, last Thursday. It was much enjoyed, and another visit will be appreciated.
