

High School Notes

Semester exams are now a thing of the past, and we have started on our new semester. Prior to the examinations, the student body constantly had in mind this prayer: "Oh Lord of Hosts be with us yet—lest we forget—lest we forget."

Now a few disappointed ones are thinking: "The Lord of Hosts was with us not, for we forgot—for we forgot!"

Marie Kibbie is unable to be with us this week on account of illness.

The advanced Shorthand class attended court Wednesday to take dictation.

A few unsolvable (?) mysteries have developed this week, one of which is this: why is it that the young ladies, who formerly lingered in the cloak hall to converse, were so eager to get us to the assembly room Monday? Whatever be the reason, may it last.

Wanda Adams gave a stag party last week several young ladies attending in disguise.

When one of the teachers finds Russel Mann scanning his or her countenance, and making hasty marks on a paper, it would be advisable to assume an expression of amiability mingled with intelligence and alertness, and strike a graceful pose, for Russel has been appointed Spud cartoonist.

Roy Trabert returned to school Tuesday afternoon. We are not only glad to have Roy in classes with us, but also glad to have him on the basketball team again.

Beatrice Pate was absent Tuesday on account of illness.

Last Friday night the most exciting game of the season was played at the high school gymnasium, Alliance playing against Kimball. For a time it seemed, as though neither team would be able to break through the opponent's guard sufficiently to make a basket. So evenly were they matched that when time was called at the end of the last half the score stood 8 to 8. It was decided to play it out, and with players and audience at the highest tension, the boys threw themselves into the game for a final struggle. When Kimball made a basket just before time was called, every true heart of Alliance went down with a thud. It is a bitter disappointment for us to be defeated, but we are proud that our boys can take defeat in the right spirit, and, since we did lose, it was to a team who can play a good, clean game in a thoroughly sportsmanlike way.

"Unto Us"

Mr. Messersmith arrived Monday morning in a happy and absent-minded state, and regardless of what question was put to him, answered proudly, "It's a boy!" He says the young man is still minus a first name, it being a hard task to find one good enough. When "Archibald" was suggested to him, he said the child was somewhat bald, but not that bald. On being cross-questioned, he confessed it had bawled some, but not enough to have that name wished on him. All suggestions will be gratefully received by Mr. M.

The Latin Club met at the Grassman home Saturday night, and those who attended report a very pleasant evening.

Ed Morrow underwent an operation for appendicitis at Omaha, but complications set in and he is not getting along as well as was expected.

The new high school principal has arrived—in truth, a Prince—in khaki, at that. Mr. Prince addressed the high school Monday morning, and, from his remarks we judge him to be a basketball enthusiast. Now look out, Kimball!

After school, nights, a mysterious thumping sound issues regularly from the gym. This indicates that the basketball boys are working hard to improve their game. They feel confident that with the aid of their new coach, in addition to the splendid training they have already received, they will be able to wipe the earth with Kimball in the return game.

When work is resumed on the Gering-Fort Laramie irrigation project in Nebraska, the huge shovels used in excavating will be electrically operated, the power being generated by water in the completed portion of the canal. This project is to be completed in time to furnish water for the 1920 crop and will irrigate 80,000 acres in Nebraska.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

The minister appreciates the many who contributed to our welfare in helping us move and were present at the house warming. We are now domiciled in our new home at 116 East Ninth.

Frank Woten, a former minister of this church, will preach next Lord's Day. He will occupy the pulpit during the absence of the minister, who will conduct a series of meetings at Gering.

On our return about the last of February we are expecting to hear of great things which have transpired under Brother Woten's preaching. Give him the glad hand and your presence at every service. Come to the church with a message and a welcome.

STEPHEN J. EPLER, Minister.

METHODIST CHURCH

The deep snow drifts cut down the attendance at Sunday School and church last Sunday. Let us all rally next Sunday to both services, and to Sunday School. We can easily "go over the top" in attendance at both Sunday School and church if each pupil and member will be faithful. The army used that ugly word "slacker" for those who would not be faithful. What word can be coined which will properly express the condemnation of King Immanuel of a Christian soldier who willfully, and persistently, refuses to "carry on" the work of the kingdom? Think it over, Methodists, and let us rally as never before!

The sermon subject for the morning hour will be "The Indifference That Kills." This is another entrancing Bible story which will carry deep interest. Come to this service.

Epworth League at 6:30 p. m. There is a welcome for you.

At 7:30 p. m. the pastor will have for his sermon subject, "The Reciprocity of Love." Come to these services, and let us get acquainted with one another. We very much wish to have your co-operation and friendship.

WORTH MORE THAN ALL MONEY ON EARTH

Mrs. Raspberry Able to Do Household Work First Time in Four Years—Gains 35 Pounds

"I had rather see my wife well and happy like she is since taking Tanlac than to have all the money in the world," declared Henry Raspberry of 1812 Campbell St., Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Raspberry, who has recently been employed as a foreman by the Armour Packing Company, was formerly in the service of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad.

"Before my wife took Tanlac," continued Mr. Raspberry, "she had rheumatism in her limbs so bad she couldn't even dress herself. I would have to help her out of bed in the mornings and put her clothes on for her. Her stomach was in such a bad condition that she could hardly digest anything. The gas on her stomach would cause intense pains in her side and such awful spells of palpitation of the heart that she could hardly stand it. She was extremely nervous, her breath was short and very offensive, and she had fallen off in weight until she was hardly more than a frame."

"At the time she began taking Tanlac she only weighed eighty-seven pounds and had not been able to do any of her housework in four years. But she now weighs one hundred and twenty-two pounds—has actually gained thirty-five pounds in weight, and is as healthy and active as she was thirty years ago. The rheumatic pains have all left her and she can do all her work and look after the family without the least trouble. She can eat meats, pickles, all kinds of vegetables and anything else she wants and never have a sign of indigestion. She is not the least nervous any more, sleeps like a child every night and is as well as she ever was. I can't find words to express my thankfulness for what Tanlac has done for her. It is nothing short of wonderful."

Tanlac is sold in Alliance by F. E. Holsten and in Hemingford by the Olds Drug Company.
