

Sense and Nonsense

Gleaned from Our Weekly Study in the Gentle Art of Gossip

And now comes the pious parson anxiously inquiring as to the whereabouts of the popular roof garden and begging for but a slant at the likeness of the "perfect woman" that set us wild. Nothin' doin', parson, but for your further satisfaction we'll reiterate our former statement, "she's surely SOME girl." Oh! boy, we would like to let you in on this, but it just can't be done.

All that is needed by this newly discovered Annette Kellerman of Alliance is a competent press agent. Blessed with a figure of the type that costs many a perfectly good wife her "daddy," then bestowed with all the advantages of a wonderful roof garden, this young specimen of the "woman perfect" certainly lacks nothing but the proper publicity to give her world renown and a leading role in the movies.

It's back to the simple life for the species with pockets in their trousers, it seems, regardless of the personal desires of those concerned. And, you can take it from us that ere we give up all the liberties heretofore allowed we are going to do quite some kickin' unless our fair would-be-masters too give up a portion of their favorite pleasurable pastimes. Here and now we serve due notice that if we are to forego our after-dinner cigar, as we have been forced to abandon our little drink and relegate the same to but the memories of the dear past, there is going to be a counter in the way of an attack on rouge, face powder, gaudy camouses, peek-a-boo wights and a helluva lot of other things that cause people more grief, do me more harm in a minute than a peaceful pull at a clear Havana, when the desire presents itself, will do in a lifetime.

It just strikes us that if the paving is to be done NOW and we are to escape the lost motion that nearly always creeps into a public improvement project it is high time that some action be taken that will insure the accomplishing of the many preliminary details that must be taken care of before the real work can be begun. Some effective organization and some hard work will bring all this about. It must be done sooner or later, why not now?

The installation of lead service, the removal of the light and telephone wires from the alleys, the putting in of the curbs and a lot of other things that must necessarily be done before the laying of the pavement begins will not be done until some decided action has been taken, until some effective work has been done by those interested in the welfare of the surfacing proposition. The job will be easier accomplished now, while the sentiment is for the paving, than later after the enthusiasm has abated. NOW is a good time for the proper committees to start something—and stay with it until success has crowned their efforts.

Alliance, it seems, will in the near future give the city manager proposition a fair tryout. We believe it is a move in the right direction, but the success of the move lies entirely in the ability and adaptability of the man selected. The right man will accomplish much.

With an efficient management, paved streets and many new homes building Alliance will command the attention of the entire state. Without these improvements some other western Nebraska town will at least divide this attention.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

er, said a mouthful when he uttered the following:

"Has an officer of the law a right to forcibly search a grip without a search warrant?" is a question one hears very often these days. I don't think so, because I am just old-fashioned enough to believe that even a state "booze hound" is amendable to the constitution and bill of rights. But, of course, the constitution and the bill of rights don't amount to a tinker's damn in the estimation of reformers who are bent on enforcing their views regardless of the rights of others. Some of these days an officious "booze hound" is going to run up against the wrong man when he tries to enter and search that man's home without a warrant, and as a result there will be a vacancy on the "booze hound" force and a nice new mound in the cemetery, and being an old-fashioned as I am, I'd hang a jury from Alpha to Omaha, and from helandgone to breakfast, before I'd allow a verdict of guilty to be brought in against the man who defended his castle against unwarranted invasion.

To Be Friends Again. One of the best ways of healing a quarrel is to ask a favor. If we attempt to do a kindness to a friend who is alienated, she will probably suspect our motive and reject it. But if we ask a service of her, the barrier of misunderstanding will melt like snowflakes in the sun, and the way will be opened for us to be friends again.

CARROLL SAYS HE DID NOT PROVOKE ASSAULT

Driver of Auto Livery Says Attack Was Made on Him Without Reasonable Provocation

J. W. Carroll, who was attacked by John Weaver Tuesday night, following previous differences, says there was no attempt by him to injure Weaver either in a business way, financially or physically. Carroll carries a badly damaged left eye and Weaver a swollen right hand as a result of the encounter.

Carroll made the following statement regarding the affair this morning: "Weaver had done some repair work on my Reo car which I use for livery purposes, for which he charged me $51. I did not kick on the cost of the work, but he left a bolt out of the main bearing, causing the car to lose cylinder oil and I had to have it fixed by another man, costing me $4.50 additional.

"A week ago Monday night I met Weaver at the Dew Drop Inn and asked him why he left the bolt out of the bearing. He denied having done so.

"Auto livery drivers have to pay the government eight per cent of their receipts as the war tax. I pay mine and feel that others who do a livery business should do so. The government man went to see Weaver regarding his tax and Weaver denied having done any livery business. I went to the county treasurer to see whether or not Weaver had a license for livery work and found that he had no 1919 auto license at all. Then I went to the county attorney and made out the complaint against Weaver for which he was fined one dollar and costs by the county judge.

"On Monday Weaver made the statement to a number of parties around town that he was going to whip me when he had a chance to do so. I did not believe he would attack me as he threatened to do. Monday evening I was out on a trip and after getting back, rather late, went in search of George Stafford, city marshal. In going through the pool halls I saw Weaver at Smith's, but said nothing to him. I went out the side door and Weaver followed me out, accompanied by two other men.

"Weaver called to me to stop, but I did not do so and went east. That's a hell of a trick you done me this morning," said Weaver to me. I told him to let me alone. Weaver replied, "D—n you, I'll kill you." He caught me in front of the City Mission and struck me, the result of which you can see."

On Monday morning Weaver was fined one dollar and costs by Judge Tash on conviction of running an auto without a 1919 license. On Tuesday morning Weaver was fined $50 and costs by the judge on the charge of assault and battery, preferred by Carroll. Weaver says "no more" fighting for him. Carroll says he's satisfied.

HITCHCOCK WILL SPEAK ON THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Washington, D. C.—A series of addresses will soon be made by Senator Hitchcock on the league of nations covenant in an itinerary which is partially outlined as follows:

March 26—Chicago, before the association of commerce.

March 28—Philadelphia, chamber of commerce.

April 3—Boston, City club.

April 8—Newark, N. J.

The senator has been in Georgia for the past ten days on a vacation, most of which has been devoted to playing golf. Part of the time former President Taft has been his companion on the links, and it is stated at the senator's office that the two men have freely discussed the league of nations and that the resulting interchange of views will be reflected in the senator's speeches. He is to accept dates also at Albany, New York, before the legislature and chamber of commerce, and may engage in a joint debate with Senator Knox of Pennsylvania in New York city.

Congressman Kinkaid is preparing to spend a few weeks in Nebraska and will leave for there before April 1.

"Your Nose Knows"

All smoking tobaccos use some flavoring. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco, "... on the Continent and in America certain 'sauces' are employed ... the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavour and burning qualities of the leaves."

Tuxedo uses chocolate—the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings! Everybody likes chocolate—we all know that chocolate added to anything as a flavoring always makes that thing still more enjoyable. That is why a dash of chocolate, added to the most carefully selected and properly aged burley tobacco, makes Tuxedo more enjoyable—

Why Telephone Bills are paid in advance

Suppose we charged your account this month with 10 cents more than your regular telephone rent.

Then, when you asked about it we told you it was a part of the telephone bill Jones or Smith or Brown did not pay.

That might seem unfair, but it is practically what we would have to do if we did not require prompt payment of telephone rent.

If we did not collect telephone rent in advance some people never would pay. Thus we would lose the rental and the cost of installing and removing the telephones.

And, in addition to losing money on those who did not pay at all, if we did not require advance payment, we would have the expense of carrying "slow" accounts on our books.

In order that one subscriber will not have to pay indirectly a part of the telephone bill of another, we long ago adopted the policy of requiring payment in advance for telephone rent.
