Every Man is a Wise Man

Because every man has something to teach; the thing life through experience has taught him to do.

Nature but reproduces: man's experience taking the world where Nature stops builds it better; whether he makes an iron plow to improve the crooked stick—

Or turns mere rubber and cotton into pneumatic tires.

Experience is that unseen thing in tires, the quality of which turns them out good or bad.

It vouches for Goodrich experience that Goodrich made the first American pneumatic tire, and ever since has fathered the improvement of automobile tires.

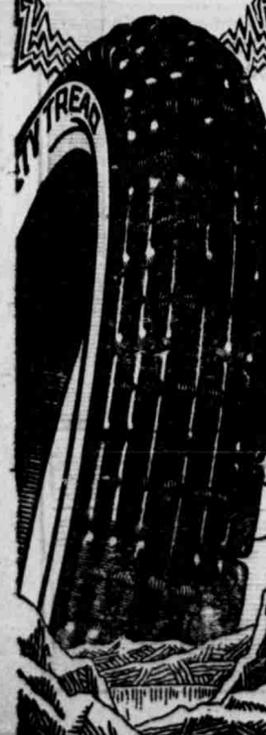

It shows in burly, full-rounded bodies, and thicker BLACK SAFETY TREADS, extra wide, fortifying the sidewall against rut scraping.

It returns value for your money in service value on your car on the road.

Paid for Listening.
For 123 years a sermon has been preached in Hendon (Eng.) parish church on the text, "Human life is a bubble." Richard Johnson, who died in 1795, left the masters and wardens of the Stationers' company trustees of his estate, and out of the interest the vicar of Hendon was to receive one guinea for preaching this sermon, and two wardens of the company a guinea each for listening to it.

Wealth of Africa.
The wealth of the resources of Africa is thought equal to any two of the other continents of the world. For instance, she has 300,000 square miles of coal fields, 95,000,000 acres of fertile farmlands, iron ore equal to five times the output of North America, 90 per cent of the world's diamonds, $10,000,000 worth of rubber each year, and uncounted millions in ivory, nuts and oil, copper and gold.

If you contemplate using a gas engine you should see the Cushman Light Weight before placing your order. It is built to fill the farmer's need. We will be glad to show you what it will do for you and to assist you in selecting the one best fitted to the work you have. They are very reasonably priced.—The Dierks Lumber Company. 786511

Smallest National Park.
The smallest of our national parks contains just thirty-eight acres and is on Prince of Wales Island, Southeastern Alaska. It was created but a year or so ago by presidential proclamation. The park is an abandoned Indian village, chiefly interesting for its totem poles. There are, also, some buildings, which are the best known examples of Hainas Indian architecture.

"President Maker."
Thurlow Weed, an old-time political leader of New York, was called "the president maker." He was prominent in procuring the nomination of General W. H. Harrison in 1840, of General Taylor in 1848 and of General Scott in 1852, though the last named was not elected. In 1860 he supported Lincoln, though he had favored the nomination of William H. Seward of New York. He never held any public office.

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sticky complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

How Was His Appoggiato and Inamorato?
In his Sarasate selection, "Gypsy Airs," Seidel employed every device of the violinist, each with consummate skill. With remarkable bowing, with splendid legato, spiccato, saltato, pizzicato and martellato, he left one astounded and gasping. —Richmond Times-Dispatch.

From the Paris edition of the New York Herald:
Constantinople, Monday. — There arrived here yesterday 241 American relief workers. As the city is crowded, they were divided, a local paper says, by sex and formed into three groups.

A colored veteran just back from the other side when questioned about the iron cross he was wearing explained: Boss, it was an extra decoration. De kaiser himself sent it to me by a special messenger what dropped daid jus' befo' he gave it to me.

The man in the next flat was pounding on the wall. "Look here," he cried, "I can't sleep with your kid yelling like that. If you don't make him stop I will." "Come in, sir—come in," said the kid's father. "You'll be as welcome as the flowers in spring."

The editor of the Japan Times says the telephone service in Japan is utterly bad. He wonders "what Job would have done had he lived in Tokio and wanted to telephone to the specialist on boils." He concludes with the following incident: "A lady in Karuiwaza called up her house in Tokio, left by the next train, got the call and talked to herself in Karuiwaza six hours after she arrived in Tokyo. That's not a joke. It's the solemn truth."

Mrs. Clark came running hurriedly into her husband's office one morning. "Oh, Dick," she cried, as she gasped for breath. "I dropped my diamond ring off my finger and I can't find it anywhere." "It's all right, Bess," replied Mr. Clark. "I came across it in my trousers pocket."

Private McGuire, lying on his cot at the army hospital, was peevish and obstinate. He positively refused to take a second dose of medicine, which happened to be unusually nasty. Several smiling nurses bent over him, and tried to coax him to be good. "Come," pleaded one, "drink this and you'll get well." "And rosy, too," chimed in a second. Private McGuire brightened visibly and sat up in bed. After surveying the pretty group he inquired eagerly: "And will yez be after tellin' me which one of yez is Rosey?"

The soldier whose specialty had been sewer trenches for some months past was found leaning on his shovel. "What are you dreaming about now?" the non-com asked. "I was just thinking," responded the shovel wielder, "that if these ditches were straight, up and down instead of lengthwise, I'd have dug my way back home long before this."

After the third addition to the family it became necessary to secure the services of a permanent nurse. "Now, my husband is very particular whom I engage as a nurse," said the mistress to a girl who had applied for the position. "He wishes me to go into the most minute details about your qualifications. Do you know how to prepare food? Can you sew and mend? Do you mind sitting up late at night? Are you faithful and devoted, and have you a kind, loving disposition? Will you—?" "Excuse me, ma'am; am I to take care of the baby or your husband?" replied the girl.

The lesson for the afternoon had been with regard to the second commandment, and the pretty Sunday school teacher was very pleased with the manner in which her discourse had been listened to. "Now, Johnny Smith, tell me if we have any idols in this country," she asked one of the brightest of her class. "Oh, yes, teacher," came the quick reply. "Our dad's been idle ever since armistice day, and our uncle was idle for a long time before that."

An attorney was defending one party to an auto collision and was cross-examining a lady witness who was undeniably pretty. "Have you any idea what caused this accident?" thundered the attorney. "I think so," said the fair witness sweetly. "Then tell the court how it happened." "Must I tell the truth?" "You have sworn to do so." "Well, sir, I was standing on the corner, and that gentleman turned to look at something and ran into the other machine." "Ah," divined the astute lawyer. "He turned to look at you. That makes you an accessory before the fact, madam." "I—I think it was the accessories he was looking at," murmured the witness. —San Francisco Argonaut.

With War Savings Stamps an absolutely solid and attractive investment, and as the most effective mechanism for saving small sums regularly, the United States Treasury Department recommends this form of intelligent saving.

Financially speaking, the war is still on. The Government still requires money, both for the purpose of bringing our boys home, paying what is due them, turning them back into civilian life, schooling the crippled ones into suitable vocations, and paying for the large contracts for material and equipment that would have been needed later if the war continued through the winter and into this year. The task now is to "Finish the job," and the American people are going to do it by putting over the Victory Liberty Loan.

NOTICE TO HOME GUARDS

To members of the Box Butte Home Guards:
By order of the adjutant general of the state of Nebraska, all Home Guards having guns or other equipment other than uniforms, the property of the organization or of the county, are hereby instructed to deliver the same without further delay into the custody of the officers of the organization. In my absence from the city, the guns may be left with Lloyd C. Thomas, at the office of the Thomas-Bald Investment Company, in Alliance. Mr. Thomas has been instructed to receive said guns and to receipt for them for me.
ROY C. STRONG, Captain.
Alliance, Nebraska, April 9, 1919.

Oldest Timber.
What is described as the oldest timber in the world which has been used by man is found in an ancient temple of Egypt. This timber is used in connection with stone work, which is known to be more than 4,000 years old. This wood—and the only wood employed in the construction of the temple—is in the form of ties which hold the end of one stone to another. The ties appear to be tamarisk, of which the ark was constructed.

RED CROWN GASOLINE

Reels Off the Miles

No mistaking Red Crown Gasoline. It shows its colors in the get-a-way and on the road. The rhythmic tune of the exhaust—mistakenly slipping to the rear—tell of gingery, powerful gas.

Red Crown Gasoline is all gas. That's why each gallon gives most mileage. Contains no foreign matter—no sediment—to foul spark plugs and cylinders.

The Red Crown you buy at the corner garage or service station is identical with that you get a hundred miles from home. Feed your engine a steady diet of Red Crown Gasoline—procurable everywhere. Look for the sign.

Use Polarine for perfect lubrication—to keep cylinders clean and power at par.
