W. D. Fisher, former secretary of the Alliance Community Club, but now employed in a like capacity by the Sheridan, Wyoming club, has just emerged from a membership and budget campaign with great honors. The drive netted many memberships and about $20,000 in money for the financing of the activities of the organization for the ensuing year.

The police force, assisted by Special Agent Smith grabbed three "bums" as they emerged from their hiding places on 42 Saturday night and gave them "leave town" orders in jig time. Not only did they see to it that they left town, but they forced them to buy tickets and to also pay fare from Crawford, the point where they claimed to have come from to Alliance.

L. E. Schwabe, of the Chandler-Hugmobile Agency, Alliance, and Chadron, arrived Tuesday afternoon from Omaha where he had been on business for a few days. Mr. Schwabe drove home a new model Chandler touring car and reports the roads good with the exception of a few miles near Kearney, where recently graded roads and lots of mud were encountered. The new model Chandler carries several improvements that greatly appealed to local automobile enthusiasts.

An Alliance professional man recently had occasion to dine several times on a Burlington diner while taking an extended trip. The professional man was off the meat diet and as he is fond of beans he ordered baked pork and beans for dinner. He saw string beans listed on the menu and ordered them. Then the item of lima beans caught his eye and he ordered them. The anxious waiter could hold in no longer and as he brought the last and third order of beans he burst out, "Say, boss, you sure do like beans."

Miss Della Abbott, former Alliance school teacher, who spent last fall and winter as a war worker in Washington, spent Tuesday and Wednesday visiting friends in Alliance. Miss Abbott has been teaching school the past few months at Lusk, Wyoming, and has just been appointed county superintendent of which Lusk is the county seat. Miss Abbott has a homestead near Lusk, where she will make her home while she attends to her new duties. Her many friends in Alliance are pleased to learn of her appointment to the responsible position of superintendent of a large and prosperous Wyoming county.

The "fishing boat" invented by Roy Beckwith which was mentioned in these columns some time ago has attracted much attention. It looks like a monster doughnut, made from galvanized iron, with a strap across the center on which there is a saddle. Another Alliance business man noted the apparent comfort with which Roy donned his waders, straddled the saddle and calmly floated away over the best fishing spots at the Kilpatrick dam lake. The other A. B. M. had a "boat" made and followed suit. Things started off nicely until he hooked a big one. Then calamity followed. The big fish pulled on the line so hard that the A. B. M. turned turtle, with his head under the water and his wader clad feet sticking straight in the air. Nearby friends helped him to right himself. He now fished with an anchor tied to one foot and twenty pounds of lead attached to the other.

Ecuador produces the jaboncillo or soap-berry tree. Its skin and pulp are so saponaceous as to be used by the natives instead of soap.

Concrete is being used almost exclusively for gate structures of irrigation canals in this country, displacing wood for the purpose, despite the greater cost of the concrete.
