DEHORNING OF CATTLE URGED

Use of Caustic, Clippers and Saw to Prevent Growth and Remove Horns is Favored.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Dehorning makes an animal more easily handled.

It renders the animal less dangerous to attendants.

It prevents the going of other cattle in the feeding lot or in transit to market.

It adds uniformity to the appearance of cattle and thereby adds to their value.

Methods of dehorning cattle have been the subject of unusually interesting demonstrations held by cattle specialists of the United States department of agriculture co-operating with other extension forces. The demonstrators showed how to remove horns with clippers and saws, and with the use of caustic soda and caustic potash to prevent the growth of horns on calves. Dehorning clippers, for holding cattle while being dehorned, were also constructed by the demonstrators, who emphasized the importance of using them instead of resorting to such practices as throwing the animals with ropes, tying them to fences or similar methods which are unsatisfactory. In a number of cases farmers were permitted to dehorn one or two animals to become familiar with the operation.

The method of dehorning depends in each case upon the age of the cattle, specialists of the department say. Demonstrations with young calves showed how the growth of horns can be prevented by properly applying caustic soda or caustic potash. Older calves and other cattle were dehorned either with the saw or clippers. While clippers remove the horn more quickly and with less pain to the animal, the saw has the advantage of not crushing the horn, especially in the case of old animals whose horns are hard and brittle. Neither does the saw cause as much bleeding, since by severing the blood vessels it causes a clot of blood to form quickly.

NO PLACE FOR SCRUB STOCK
 Animal is Wasteful of Feed and Owner's Labor—Pure-Breds Are Worth More to Keep.
 (Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
 Scrub live stock is no longer fit for perpetuation in the United States. A scrub is wasteful of feed and wasteful of its owner's labor. The scrub animal has served its purpose as a connecting link between the old obsolete method of farming and new progressive methods. Thousands of farmers in this country already have discarded scrub stock and are better off because of that decision. Pure-breds are worth more to keep and are worth more to sell. The scrub animal has been useful as a connecting link, but our aim from now on should be to make the scrub extinct and to make it the missing link so far as live stock is concerned. That cannot be done immediately, but it is the goal toward which we should work.

Pure Drinking Water Important.
 You should be extremely careful that the water you drink is pure. Typhoid germs are particularly likely to harbor in water that stands and to get into water which is in the sluice of some drain. Boiling will kill the germs and the peculiar flat taste which it then has can be easily overcome by shaking it up thoroughly and subjecting a dash of carbonated water.

True Aristocracy.
 Mere democracy cannot solve the social question. An element of aristocracy must be introduced into our life. I do not mean the aristocracy of birth, or of the purse, or even the aristocracy of intellect. I mean the aristocracy of character, of will, of mind. That only can free us.—Ibsen.

Life Wisdom.
 The wisdom of the wise and the experience of ages may be preserved by quotation.—Benjamin Disraeli.

FEEDING SILAGE TO HORSES
 Limited Quantity May Be Given if Care Is Exercised—Cannot Consume Large Amount.

Silage may be fed to horses in limited quantity if care is exercised, but a horse cannot consume the large quantities of roughage used by the steer or cow, and the amount of silage given to horses on full feed must be very limited.

LIVE STOCK NOTES
 More beef cattle might be raised profitably on many farms.
 Heavy feeding does not always produce proportionate gains.
 Cornmeal, boiled potatoes and buttermilk make a splendid ration for the growing pigs.

The first requisites in raising stock is a good feeder, let us say, a judicious feeder, and a well-born calf.

What Betty Likes Best.

Seemed Suspicious.
 "I fear your father does not favor our marriage."
 "Why do you say that?"
 "I have saved some money for the happy event."
 "Well?"
 "And he wants me to put it into a scheme."

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Time's Changes.
 Caesar used to wait days to hear from the outposts of his empire, but today the descendants of his legions who plow the sunny fields near Hammond, La., get daily market news on their strawberries from places thousands of miles away. This news comes over wires and is issued in Italian, as well as in English, by the local office of the bureau of markets of the United States department of agriculture.
