WEATHERLY ISSUES CALL FOR MEN GOOD AND TRUE

Secretary of Committee of One Hundred Calls Attention of Citizens to Need of Selecting Honest Men.

Arthur L. Weatherly, secretary of the Committee of One Hundred, has issued the following statement regarding the nomination and election of men to the constitutional convention:

"The people of Nebraska have on hand the important business of selecting this fall, members of a Constitutional Convention. This is a matter of highest importance to the people of this state."

"The Committee represents no one class in the state, and has but one aim, and that is, the securing and election of members to the Constitutional Convention who will truly represent the best interests of the people of the state."

"It is highly important that the new constitution of Nebraska should be brief, and should leave to the legislature purely legislative matters, so that the people can from time to time meet the new problem."

DRYS NOW FIGHT POSSESSION OF BOOZE IN HOMES

REGARDLESS OF WHEN BOUGHT LIQUOR MUST BE DESTROYED.

Conservative Prohibition Supporters Say Move Will Cause Split in Ranks.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The "bone dry" members of the House, jubilant over their victory over the "liberal" element the fort part of the week, today served notice that they would attempt to amend the Volstead enforcement resolution making it even more drastic than it now is.

The reiterated charges that many members of congress and wealthy citizens have stored up in their cellars large quantities of wines, whisky and beer, the "bone dry" advocates declare, make it necessary to insert in the enforcement legislation a prohibition against the possession of liquors regardless of when purchased.

The proponents of this provision declare they will have sufficient strength to put it through but the less radical "drys" indicated that such an attempt would result in a split in the "dry" ranks.

The elimination of the provision permitting the possession of liquors laid in before July 1, it is pointed out, will necessitate the inclusion of a supplemental amendment granting the right of search and seizure of liquors in private homes.

The meeting of the committee was held Tuesday for the purpose of agreeing on amendments to liberalize the bill to permit the manufacture and sale of legitimate commodities such as flavoring extracts, patent medicines, toilet articles, etc.

Wets Determined to Keep up Fight. Despite the slaughter of all attempts to modify the bill Monday, the "wets" announced Tuesday that they are still determined to push their fight against the drastic provision of the measure.

DEMOCRATS WILL RALLY AT OMAHA THIS MONTH

Chairman Cummings Coming to Nebraska for Conference with Party Leaders.

Reports from over the state indicate a lively interest in the rally of Nebraska democrats, to be held in Omaha July 24, in connection with the visit in Omaha of Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the national democratic committee, and Mrs. Elizabeth Basso, chairman of the woman's bureau of the democratic national committee.

Mr. Cummings is making a tour of the country, being now on the Pacific coast. He expects, while in Omaha, to meet members of the state committee, officers of the county committees, officers of the woman's organization and party workers generally.

Mrs. Bass has been a leader in woman's affairs of the county for a number of years. Nebraskans who heard her speak at the recent meeting of the democratic national committee in Chicago and who watched her preside over sessions of the woman's committee, were greatly impressed by her ability as a public speaker and by her wide acquaintance with public affairs.

There will be a conference in the afternoon and a luncheon in the evening, the latter for both men and women. Reservations for the luncheon may be made with W. W. Boye, secretary 1036 First National Bank building, at $1.50 per person.

Burlington fireman A. N. (Gus) Whitley, was able to leave the city past week Monday after a very severe attack of small pox. Gus is feeling very good considering the seige he underwent and will return to work soon.

CAFE MAN AND CASHIER STILL AMONG MISSING

JOE C. HARVEY HAS NOT YET RETURNED FROM TRIP TO DENVER.

Creditors Will Probably Lose Couple of Thousand—Others Hold Checks.

Friends, creditors and curious ones are still speculating as to the whereabouts of Joe C. Harvey, erstwhile owner and proprietor of the Silver Grill Cafe, who on July 6th left Alliance ostensibly for Denver, but from whom nothing has been heard since.

Mr. Harvey came to Alliance about a year ago and was employed for several months as passenger brakeman by the Burlington lines on this division. In December last year he purchased the cafe business which he successfully operated until about two weeks ago when he sold the same to Messrs. Johnson and Garvin, giving as his reason for selling his intention of engaging in a larger business enterprise.

Following the completion of the sale negotiations Mr. Harvey left for Denver to make arrangements for the purchase of a large western Nebraska hotel business, according to the statement he is said to have made to Mrs. Harvey and to close friends.

Rumors have been rife as to the probable amount of cash possessed by Harvey at the time of his departure and of the amounts owing to business houses here, but it now appears that creditors are holding accounts in the aggregate of about $2,000 and that certain others are holding checks for which there are no funds on deposit to pay to the amount of about $500.

Mrs. Harvey, to whom he was married in August last year at Hot Springs, South Dakota, is unable to explain her husband's actions and this week told a representative of The Herald that she can not understand the cause of his silence and absence. She has made such investigation as is possible but without avail and has now, it is claimed, employed persons to look into the matter.

OLD "JOHN B" WILL NOT ATTEND FRONTIER DAYS

Nebraska Women Will Visit Premier Wild West Show for First Time This Year.

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Cause and effect frequent involve interesting and unexpected angles. For example—because Wyoming went "dry" July 1st hundreds of women and children in the Wyoming-Colorado-Nebraska region adjacent to Cheyenne this year for the first time will have an opportunity to gratify their longing to attend a Frontier Days celebration here—the super-Frontier Days festival which is to be held July 23-26.

Always heretofore Cheyenne during Frontier Days has been a wide open town. Early closing law to the contrary notwithstanding, saloons kept open twenty-four hours a day, with double shifts of bartenders, and the cowboy carnival for thousands of visitors was the occasion for a rip-roaring debauch—a regular old-fashioned helluva a time.

But this year the situation is changed. Cheyenne is as "dry" as the proverbial bone and conduct during Frontier Days will be correspondingly decorous. The wild west sports will be as wild as ever—the celebration in every way better, more interesting, more thrilling than in the past—but one heretofore always riotously assertive character, the late, unlamented Mr. Barleycorn, will be conspicuous by his absence. Directly in reflection of this fact the hundreds of families of erstwhile revelers at Jawn's numerous local shrines will be brought to Cheyenne to take in the show because there is this year no reason why they should not come.

The Wilson rooming house was searched by the officers last Friday evening for intoxicating liquors but none were found. Acting upon a tip the officers then proceeded to the home of Joe Pries and there located eighteen pints of recently bonded whiskey, cached in the outbuildings of the place. A hearing is scheduled for the first of the week and at such the officers hope to be able to establish the ownership of the contraband goods.

GERMANS SAY AMERICANS WANT POTASH

Say that American Potash Importers Telegraph for Delivery of Potash to This Country.

THE HAGUE, Holland—The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of Berlin announces, with considerable joy that American potash importers have addressed a telegraphic demand to the German potash syndicate for the delivery of potash. The paper concludes from this that America does not intend to participate in an economic war and will not confine her buying to the Alsace potash deposits.

(Note.)—This is evidently some more of the "propaganda" being issued by the eastern fertilizer interests who have been apparently to put a "crimp" in Nebraska potash. However, the Huns are going to be deeply disappointed, according to the latest advices from Washington, which indicate that favorable potash legislation will not be long in coming through.

ALLIANCE BOY WAS PUTTING THEM OVER

Chas. Wykoff Wrote from France that the Boys had to Move 360 Troop Trains Over the Road in 23 Days

Chas. Wykoff, 6th Company, A. P. O. 718, 14th Guard Division, in France, wrote a short time ago to the Herald that he and the other railroad men of his division in France were having their hands full keeping the troop trains going, carrying the boys towards home.

Charley said in his letter, "Just a few lines to let you know that I am in the best of health and hope you and the boys are also. We are putting out a lot of work these days—that is, we S. O. L. railroad men, as you can see by the enclosed copy of a bugger's trouble with a Baldwin locomotive. We have to get 350 troop trains over our road in 23 days. Oh, boy, they are going home now, believe me. Expect we are the last to leave and think it will be July 20th. That is what our base section calls for."

The poem enclosed by Charley reads as follows: "The engineer's work report on engine No. 2000. Wash out the boiler, and bore out the flues. Seams are all squirting, caulk all the leaks. Right back driving box so dry that it squeaks. Take down left main rod, reduce the brass. And don't fail to put in a water glass. All the flues leaking, pack throttle well. Right main pin out, runs hotter than H—1. The air pump jerks in the upward stroke. Examine and see if the valve ain't broke. Raise the front end, an inch or more. And fix the catch on the fire box door. I think from the way she burns her fire. The petticoat ought to be a little higher. Grind in the gauge cocks, repair all the grates. Fix the old mill up, we're off for the States. Tho' the speed limit's slow, and the checker boards thick. Believe me, BO, we're going there quick. —A Hogger in The Tran. Service."
