

Back Home to Serve

Salvation Army Campaign September 21 to 27th

After having done the "bit" overseas the Salvation Army is back to a real task here at home

Purposes of the Campaign

1. To provide adequate funds for all Salvation Army activities in the United States for one year, including the erection of such buildings as are immediately necessary.
2. To do away with all soliciting by officers of the Salvation Army during the year (except for the annual "Self-Denial" Appeal for Foreign Missions)—thus enabling them to devote all their time to Service Work proper.
3. The Home Service Work of the Salvation Army has suffered greatly during the war. This special effort is necessary to reinstate the Army in sound financial condition to undertake all the Home Service obligations for one year. The income of the Salvation Army in past years has not been nearly adequate to meet all its Home Service needs. In addition there have been tremendously increasing calls arising from the popular and effective work of the Army in the War.

Salvation Army Home Service Fund

A Drive in Nebraska for $512,000, of Which the County of Box Butte is Asked to Give $4,000.00

Approximately $450,000 will be used in the erection and equipping of State Buildings to be located in the City of Omaha. The State Central Headquarters Building will include a Young Woman's Boarding Home having accommodations for 125 women.

There will also be erected a State Rescue Home and Maternity Hospital with accommodations for 150 women and children.

The Biggest and Best Relief Organization in the World

The Salvation Army has been so modest that the average man or woman has no conception of the scope, economy and efficiency of its work.

Incidentally it is a big publisher. Every time it goes to press it publishes 72 periodicals with a circulation of one and a quarter million newspapers.

It is a world organization, the only sixty years old, operating in sixty-three countries, speaking forty different languages but all with the same sweet, sympathetic spirit of unselfishness.

Its annual turn-over if fifty millions spent for others. Its 11,070 officers serve "stripped to the bone" in sacrifice. This campaign will not add one penny to their remuneration.

Every year in the United States it is rescuing over 1,200 children—waifs and strays—from way down deep in the holes of vice and poverty in our big cities, training them for substantial citizenship.

Every year it reaches out the hand of help to nearly 2,000 women and girls, shunned and cast out and restores them to society.

Every day in our land it's officers are visiting a thousand poor families, giving temporary relief to 18,000 people, furnishing 11,000 needed night shelter.

Every year it has kept from the poor-house more than 17,000 maimed and decrepit working men to whom it gives opportunity for earning a self-respecting living—men whom the business world does not want because they can not do a full days work.

Every year it finds jobs for over 77,000 men willing and able to work but out of employment.

Before the sun goes down each day the Missing Friends Bureau has found some one separated from loved ones, and stopped the heart ache. A daily occurrence somewhere in the Salvation Army World.

Daily it cares for families of prisoners and helps prisoners get a new start in life upon release from prison.
