

TO BASTION PEACE

Peace itself, the peace of the world, is delayed until ratification comes. And any amendment postpones peace. Germany and England alone of the principal powers have ratified. The other principals necessarily await our action, influential and powerful as we are today in the world's affairs. The ravages of war on more than a score of fighting fronts are continued by any needless delay. Let the senate give the world peace by ratification without amendment.

Even the amendment for which most can be said, the provision in regard to Shantung, will secure nothing which cannot be gained if China, backed by the powerful advocacy of the United States, addresses itself to the machinery for righting international wrongs and meeting just claims created by the league between nations. China, after eighty years of oppressive treaties and despoiled rights, by which all the great powers have profited directly or indirectly, has for the first time, in this covenant and treaty, the means and method to secure justice and the removal of the oppressive economic interference of stronger nations whose citizens are within her gates, protected by a long succession of international agreements. Moreover, it should be remembered that the clause regarding Shantung was made upon the statement by Japan that she will return the territory to China and, therefore, upon that condition, compliance with which promise the league can require.

The peace of the present and the righteousness of the future can be best secured by the ratification of the covenant and treaty without amendment. Let the senate take no action that will give any party to the treaty, and especially Germany, ground for maintaining that the ratification of the United States is not complete and that changes requiring a resumption of conference and negotiations have been made in it.

- It's All Wrong.
 It is very difficult to practice what one preaches, to make the sauce for the other fellow's goose serve for our own gander, or for any doctor to take his own pill. It is like a physician who administers to himself a carefully sugarcoated remedy while he administers to the palate of his patient a dose of raw quinine. Of course one can swallow raw quinine if it is necessary and he has the nerve, but here is where the world goes awry, in giving one man the raw quinine and his neighbor a carefully sugarcoated pill which does the same work and avoids all the suffering of taking the bitter dose.—Los Angeles Times.

To Improve Paint Work.
 To put a varnish-like gloss on doors, get half a pound of glue, put it into a saucepan with about a quart of water, and boil till dissolved. When the doors are washed, take a clean cloth, dip it in the size, and rub all one way, being sure to go over the floor to insure a smooth surface.

Right Road to Happiness.
 The unselfish are the happiest—those who work to make others happy and forget themselves. The dissatisfied are those who are seeking happiness for themselves.
