

—We know now, the way the boys and girls in the county are working on the Melick & Redmon tractor contest, that someone is going to pick up some easy money. Be sure you mail your five reasons to Melick & Redmon, Alliance, and mark the reasons.

—The Alliance Shoe Store at last has the niftiest line of Baby soft soles that has ever been shown in the city.

—Mr. "Bud" Darnell left this morning for Hemingford, where he will unload a car of Case tractors for the Rumer Motor company.

—Melick and Redmon report the tractor business at Hemingford going at high speed, and say this is the banner tractor year so far.

—No need to look further to please the baby. The Alliance Shoe Store's showing of soft soles is second to none in the city.

—A Herald reporter found two old timers conversing together in the lobby of the Hotel Alliance one morning the first of the week. A little questioning revealed the fact that "Bill" Johnson arrived first at the site of Alliance, coming in the spring of 1887.

Charley Avery, the other, arrived in the fall of 1887 from Tekamah, Neb., and settled on his homestead in the spring of 1888. "Bill" lived at the Alliance town-site for a time after his arrival and then homesteaded seventeen miles west of the city, where he still lives, in the year 1893.

The railroad had not yet reached Alliance when these western veterans settled down and they have had the pleasure of watching Alliance grow from a bare prairie to a city of 7,000 people. Both of them are much interested in the progress of the Alliance Packing company and believe that the erection and establishment of the business here will be a big thing for the city and the territory adjacent thereto. Both men are possessors of a goodly portion of this world's goods but are hale, hearty and exceedingly active.

—Silk Hose and Silk Kimonos just arrived at the Oriental Store. Come —L. E. Schwabe of Chadron was in the city Monday on business. He made a trip to Mitchell that afternoon and returned the same evening. He reports a good automobile business with the Chandler and Hupmobile lines, for which Schwabe Brothers are western distributors.

—FOR SALE—814 acres four and one-half to five miles from Bridgeport. 40 acres irrigable, under government canal extension; 200 to 500 acres tillable; balance grazing. Small set of improvements; two wells and windmills. A good small ranch proposition. Price for immediate sale $20.00 per acre, about one-half cash. Address P. O. Box 747, Bridgeport, Nebraska. 25

METHODIST CHURCH

Our Christian service flag was unveiled last Sunday morning. On this flag is to be placed a star for every person who enlists for Christ, and promises to join the church between now and Easter. Decisions may be made at any time, and the star placed on the flag, but they will not be publicly received into the church until Palm Sunday, March 27. All children above the primary department are eligible to membership in the church, but in the case of children below the intermediate department, they must have the consent of their parents before becoming members. Parents are asked to co-operate with Sunday school teachers and the pastor, in winning their children to the Christian life and definite membership in the church. One star was placed on the flag last Sunday, for a member of the women's Bible class.
We were given a happy surprise last Sunday night when several patrols of the Boy Scout troop in uniform marched into the church, with their assistant scoutmaster, Mr. Simpson, and sat in a body near the front of the building. The occasion was the anniversary of their organization. A finer looking or more gentlemanly lot of boys would be hard to find. By invitation, they gave their yells, scout oath and scout law, and during the evening, gave most reverent and courteous attention to the services. All of which goes to show that no finer boys can be found than those enlisted in the Boy Scouts of America.
Let the members of our congregation remember that next Sunday night will be observed as "Valentine's Night" in the church, and that each person is asked to do some special deed of kindness to someone this week, and on Sunday night, a few moments will be given for people to tell how someone made them glad during the week.

GOLD MINING COMPANY AT BROADWATER

A regular gold scare, something like the order of the days of '49, has been running through the country around Broadwater and extending, with all its exciting details, to several cities in the state. The Platte Valley Daily News, published at Scottsbluff, gave a thrilling account of the scare a few days ago, and told of a mythical "tented city" that had sprung up near Broadwater and which was developing into a full-fledged mining camp. Truthful citizens also told of hearing the thunder of dynamite blasts in the hills near Broadwater, where an army of men were tearing into the bowels of the earth in a mad search for the precious gold.
Well, the tented city does not exist, neither are people rushing to the newly found gold fields, but a number of very substantial citizens have incorporated for the purpose of developing the prospects for gold that have been found on privately owned property near Broadwater. George Haxby has been working on gold prospects on his ranch for some years and lately has had in his employ an experienced prospector who has undoubtedly found gold. This gold has been found on the Haxby ranch and also on land recently purchased by Reuben Lisco of Lisco, Neb., and Asa Ramsberg of Broadwater, from Rex Tolle. The land was bought by Lisco and Ramsberg for ranching purposes, but since they purchased it the prospector in the employ of Haxby has gathered some specimens from it that unquestionably hold gold.

The value of the prospector's findings depend on what further developments may bring about and on assays that are being made. The gold is there, but it is yet to be determined whether or not it can be brought out in paying quantities. The proprietors of the real estate on which the gold has been found are very confident that they can develop the metal in paying quantities, and have organized a stock company with a preliminary capital of $10,000, the articles of incorporation of which were filed on Monday. The incorporators are George Haxby, Reuben Lisco, Asa Ramsberg, Walter Canada and John F. Rowland, the latter being the prospector referred to. The name of the company is "Haxby Mines, Incorporated." It is said that no stock is for sale at any price.
An Alliance mining company is said to be also prospecting in the same neighborhood, but what that company has found is not known.—Bridgeport News-Blade.

ASSURED OF SUCCESS FROM THE BEGINNING

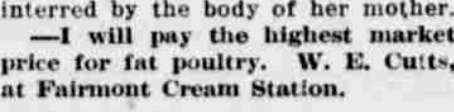

Records show that the independent packing concerns of the United States, of a type similar to the Alliance Packing company, have been almost universally successful, and that the occasional exceptions have been due to no other cause than poor business management. Incompetent management foredooms any enterprise to failure, of course, whether it be packing house, bank or mercantile concern. The Alliance Packing company is guarding against this possibility. Active management of its business will be vested in practical men who know the ins and outs of the industry from a to z.
This means that, with correct management added to such other features as a wealth of raw material, absence of shrinkage, short hauls, Alliance's unexcelled location geographically and as to railroad facilities, etc., there would seem to be not the slightest cause in the world to doubt that the Alliance Packing company will be a success from the beginning, and that it will soon assume a proud position as the leading industry of western Nebraska.
The enthusiastic reception which is being consistently accorded representatives of the company indicates that the people throughout this entire section are accepting this viewpoint as absolutely the correct one.
