AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

To show non-members of the American Legion just what the legion is for, the preamble of the constitution is printed herewith: "For God and country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law order, to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the great war; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

Let every legionnaire remember that the great work for us for 1920 is to build up our organization. Every ex-service man should be in the legion. In addition, Americanization work is of vital importance—helping to get conditions settled and our country back to a firm peace footing. The third great work of the legion for this year is helping ex-service men to get their rights and helping them to re-establish themselves. If you are an ex-service man, we need your help and you need ours. Let's get together—join the American Legion now. The dues at the Alliance post are $2 a year. This includes local, state and national dues and a subscription to the American Legion Weekly, the best magazine for ex-service men published.

All disabled men who cannot take advantage of vocational training offered by the government are advised that they will be granted free scholarships by the International Correspondence Schools. If this concerns you and you are interested, write to the Service Department, American Legion, 314 Richards Block, Lincoln, Neb. There is no expense in any way. You are also included if you are waiting for the government to act on your application for vocational training.

Congress now has no reason to be puzzled as to just what former service men believe to be a just compensation. The national executive committee of the legion has submitted a bill to the lawmakers that embodies a four-fold optional plan of beneficial legislation, as follows:

1. Land settlement, whereby former service men and women receive $1.50 for each day of service, to apply on the purchase of land and government projects, or loans for buying equipment.
2. Home aid, with $2.00 for each day of service, to apply on the purchase of a home or farm.
3. Vocational training, with $1.50 for each day of service to be paid as long as the recipients are obtaining education from the government.
4. Cash compensation, of $1.50 for each day of service, to be paid within a year after the approval of the bill.

It used to be, "Kill a hun for me, boys"; now it's, "Do you want to bankrupt the nation?"

"You may want us back again" is the theme of a poem by the adjutant of the department of Ohio.

Already one hundred legion members in Nebraska have received free scholarships from the International Correspondence Schools. That's one kind of compensation.

One of our members has figured that his service in the A. E. F. has shortened his life twenty years, and he wasn't wounded, either. He says he could easily make $3,000 a year if in good health. That's $60,000 all shot that his wife and children won't get. At any rate, he is keeping up his government insurance. Every little helps.

Resolutions were adopted by the national executive committee at Washington March 22 to 24, that teachers receive a sufficient wage, that a convention of state adjutants be held; that posts be urged to get all their members to vote; that the bill for increased army and navy pay be indorsed; that posts raise funds to decorate graves in France on Memorial day; that a committee be named to work in close liaison with the Red Cross; that the Elks be thanked officially for their aid in vocational training; that a committee be named to co-operate with government amnesty board to investigate cases of 356,000 slackers; that only those persons who have honorably served in some war be appointed to positions in national soldiers' homes; that the executive committee recommend to state departments that posts adopt French war orphans at a cost of $75 a year each; that bills aiding families and dependents of the dead and the bill providing for disabled reserve officers be indorsed; that a committee be named to work with the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. in holding a final drive to find every man who is entitled to anything from the government; that the women's auxiliary of the American Legion be strictly an auxiliary; that it have no other units except those connected with legion posts; that its national convention be postponed and that applications for charters go through the same channels as in the case of legion posts, and that a new committee be named to consider the formation of the women's auxiliary.

Details of How the Herald's Campaign Will Close April 24---

Next week, the final one of the campaign, no subscriptions whatever will be accepted through the campaign department of The Herald; but, instead, candidates themselves will deposit their final collections in a sealed ballot box, located at The First State Bank.

Monday morning the ballot box, locked and sealed will be placed in the vaults of The First State Bank, where it will remain until 8 o'clock P. M. Saturday. At that time seals will be broken, the box unlocked, and immediately thereafter, the final count will take place.

The winners will be determined by merely adding the published vote totals, as they will appear in Tuesday's issue, to the reserve votes and subscriptions contained in the sealed box. There will be no waiting, no complicated count, but simply a matter of adding the vote totals and announcing the winners.

All contestants should be sure to get their final collections in the ballot box before 8 p. m., because the campaign will close promptly at that time—not one minute before nor one minute later.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Put only cash, drafts or certified checks in the sealed ballot box. Personal checks up to $10.00 acceptable, providing no two are signed by the same party. This ruling is made in fairness to all contestants, and will be strictly adhered to.

THE JUDGES

It shall be the privilege of each of the leading contestants, and it is the desire of this newspaper, that they avail themselves of this invitation, to select someone—be he father, brother, husband or friend—to represent them on the last night; to sit with the judges, and to assist in the final count.

Members of the Advisory Board, selected at the beginning of the campaign, will be asked to act as judges; to canvass the findings in the box, and to award the prizes. The personnel of this board is as follows:

Mayor A. D. Rodgers.

Glen Miller, President Chamber of Commerce.

Lee Basye, County Attorney.

W. R. Harper, of W. R. Harper's Department Store.

Charles Brittan, Cashier First State Bank.
