ITALIAN TROUBLES

Excavation work on the big sewer had reached a low, mucky place and the Italian laborers were having their troubles with the soft mud. Suddenly there arose a shout: "C'mear queek! Bringa da shov! Bringa da peck! Pietro's stuck in da mud up to hees knees!" "Tell him to wade out," shouted the foreman. "He canna no wade—he wronga end up."

SHE WAS DOUBTFUL

Henry, who married in New York, brought his wife home to his father's farm. It was her first experience of country life. The first evening of her visit she looked on with interest while the cows were being milked.

"Would you like to try it?" she was asked.

The bride was doubtful. "I think I could start the milk, but I—I'm afraid I couldn't stop it."

NOT WITH PRAYER

"What are you doing in the kitchen, Thomas?" inquired the inquisitive wife.

"I'm opening a can of tomatoes if you particularly wish to know," he impatiently rejoined.

"And what're you opening it with?"

"Why, with a can opener. Did you think I was using my teeth?" he added savagely.

"Oh, no dear," she sweetly replied, "I know you are not opening it with prayer."
