

ALLIANCE WINS FROM HAVELOCK CITY LEAGUERS

The Havelock team, champions of Lincoln, proved to be easy pickings for the "Q" men Sunday, the score being 11 to 14 in favor of Alliance. The home team started off with their usual pep, scoring one in the first inning. Black fled out to left. Griffin fanned and Butler singled to right center. Black, running for Butler, stole second and came home on McNulty's two bagger. Havelock got their first run and the only earned score in the third.

The "Q" men chalked up two more in the third and one in the fourth. Two hits and three errors in the sixth gave Havelock three more runs, tying the score. In the seventh Alliance knocked Davis out of the box and Franklin was sent in to relieve him, but failed to stop the railroaders. A total of four hits were grabbed in this frame. Stein, who was sent in to hit for Daly, hit for two bases. In the eighth the boys scored four more, putting the game on ice.

Hudkins' catch of Butler's throw in from third was the fielding feature of the game. Stub Fenning starred with the bat getting three two buggars out of five times to the plate. His work on the mound was excellent. He struck out twelve men, and allowed but one walk. The gate receipts for yesterday's game amounted to $250, a few dollars short of clearing expenses.

The score:

OBITUARY

MRS. ELIAS MILLER

Harriet Ann Wright was born at Cresona, Penn., Feb. 15, 1849, and died at Sheridan, Wyo., Aug. 10, 1920, aged 71 years, 5 months and 15 days.

She was married to Elias Miller in Pennsylvania, June, 1867. After over fifty years of married life Mr. Miller preceded his wife in death, in 1918. Soon after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Miller came to Burlington, Ia. After a residence there of nine years they came to Nebraska. For forty years they lived in this state, the last fourteen in Alliance.

To Mr. and Mrs. Miller were born three sons and two daughters, Robert E. of Gentry, Ark.; Mrs. Elizabeth White of Council Bluffs, Ia.; Mrs. Jessie Steele of Sheridan, Wyo.; Guy A. of Alliance, and Roy W. of Alliance. She is survived by her children, seven grand children and five great grand children. She was a member of the Eastern Star and a believer in Christ. She had been in failing health for several years and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Steele in Sheridan.

Funeral services were conducted at the home on Sweetwater avenue on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Elder Stephen J. Epler of the Christian church in the presence of all the children and many friends.

URBAN ZEDIKER IS BOUND OVER

(Continued from page one.) party, and that if the unnamed party didn't redeem it within four or five days from Gray, Zediker would do so.

Gray's testimony was corroborated by Earl Anderson, who testified that Zediker had been to see him on the same proposition. He had tried to secure a loan from Anderson of $75 on the pin shortly before pawning it with Gray. Mr. Anderson said that he was no judge of diamonds and didn't care to take a chance on it.

This completed the case for the state, and Attorney Eugene Burton immediately moved that the defendant be discharged for the reason that the state had not produced sufficient evidence to connect the defendant with the crime charged. Mr. Burton made a strong plea, but was overruled by the court. He then asked for a delay of five minutes, which was granted, and then announced that the defense would call witnesses to prove an alibi.

The defense argued that while the crime might have taken place at any time within the hours of 7:30 p. m. on July 30 to noon of July 31, the presumption was that it took place within the night time, or within the hours from 7:30 p. m. to 6 a. m. It was even more probable that the crime had taken place between 6:30 and 9:30, while the Isaacs were away from home. Witnesses testified as to Urban Zediker's whereabouts on the night of the crime, and he was accounted for until midnight.

W. G. Zediker, father of the accused, testified that he is employed in the Everett Cook pool hall. Urban's mail comes to his box, and there is but one key, and that in the father's possession. On the evening of July 30, Urban, who was accustomed to stop for his mail, did stop. Mr. Zediker fixed the day because it was Friday, the publication of The Herald, and he mentioned the fact that Urban was anxious to get his copy of The Herald. A man unknown to him had just asked him to play a game of pool, but he was busy, and Urban played with him. This was about 6 o'clock. Urban played for at least half an hour and then showed his opponent some fancy shots. S. R. Burkholder corroborated this testimony.

Wayne Zediker and John Shay testified that they had seen Urban Zediker on the evening of July 30 at 7 p. m. on the Alliance National bank corner. There is a clock just across the street from this corner. A hand was playing and Wayne Zediker mentioned the fact that he had seen Judge Tash in the crowd. Urban stayed with them until 7:30.

Earl Anderson next testified that about 7:30 that evening, he had played pool with Zediker at Joe Smith's billiard parlor. He estimated that they were there an hour and ten minutes by the charge. He lost the game and was compelled to pay for the tables, the cost being 70 cents. As the charge is 60 cents per hour, he figured that they played an hour and ten minutes.

Joe Smith corroborated this testimony in part. He said that the charge was correct. As to Zediker's presence on the evening of July 30, he could not say. Zediker was a frequent visitor at his pool hall, coming there practically every night he was in the city, but he could not say whether he had been in there on the evening of July 30, or how long he had stayed.

Anderson then testified that he and Urban Zediker had gone to the room of Tom Gray at 111 Cheyenne. Anderson stayed until 9 o'clock. There were only the three of them there and the witness did not say what they were doing.

Tom Gray testified that Zediker had remained in his room until about midnight.

The defense argued that in the first place, Zediker had an alibi during the probable hours when the crime was committed, and second, that he was no fool, and that if he had stolen the stickpin, he wouldn't be chump enough to dispose of it semi-publicly so short a time after it was stolen. The prosecution pointed out that Zediker did not take the stand and the defense offered no testimony or proof as to where, of whom, at what time or under what circumstances the diamond tie pin came into his possession.

The court found, first, that the crime of burglary and grand larceny was committed, as charged in the complaint, and second, that there were sufficient grounds and probable cause for believing the defendant, Urban R. Zediker, guilty of the crime as charged in the complaint and information.
