Many subscribers have increased their subscriptions and there are a good number of new subscribers.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rodger W. Babson, the most eminent statistician in this country, has written an article entitled, "Business and the Church", which should be read by every person in the country that is interested in the welfare of the people. The unrest of the present time is challenging every institution that exists, and the church has always had a message of stability and assurance for every time of need. The church must sound that same note to the people of the present day. This church endeavors to voice just such a note of confidence to everyone who will take part in its ministry of service. Will you not attend some religious service somewhere in the city next Sunday? Every church will be glad to administer to your need.

Sunday School begins at 10:00 o'clock. Church service at 11:00. Sermon subject, "The Commission of the Church". Junior and B. Y. P. U. at 6:45 p. m. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Remember the picnic and wiener roast to be held tonight at 5:30 at Overman's, 694 Platte Avenue.

The Continent, the National Presbyterian weekly was placed in a number of homes this week so that sixty homes will receive the Continent this year. The pastor will gladly send in anyone's subscription. Be an informed Presbyterian.

The sacrament of baptism was quite recently administered to the following children, Edith Elaine Knight, Donald Chancellor Jaqua, Helen May Jaqua, Edward McKean Knight, and Lloyd Burdette Estes. Christian believers particularly should not permit anything to deny to their children the heritage of this Covenant of Grace and fulfill the Lord's desire when He said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." Call the Pastor if you would like to arrange for this service.

Sunday School, 9:45 to 10:45. Morning Worship, 11 a. m., with sermon by the pastor. Christian Endeavor, 6:30 p. m. Evening service will be a Union Service at the Baptist church at 8 o'clock, at which Dr. C. E. Swift, of the Anti-Saloon League will speak.

HOLD TIGER IN HIGH HONOR

Natives of the East Carry Their Reverence for Monarch of the Jungle to Extremes.

Of all the animals deified in the East none is regarded with more awe than My Lord Tiger. Especially throughout Siam and Indo-China, the tiger is king. Shrines are built and sacrifices made to him; he is as sacred from the attack of the natives as is the white elephant of Siam.

If there are fewer tigers in this part of the East today it is due largely to the efforts of western sportsmen, who occasionally can persuade, bribe or threaten a few natives to aid them in a hunt. Any such lack of respect on the part of the natives is, however, looked upon frowningly by their neighbors, who seem to fear that the tiger will forget the exact individual who attacked him and remember only the community.

Native reverence goes so far as to allow a tiger to prowl undisturbed about a village night after night, attacking and sometimes killing those so unfortunate as to cross his path. In the day the sacred beast retires to his mountain domain, where he stays entirely hidden until nightfall.

It is obvious that the royal tiger rules entirely by fear. Awe-inspiring he is himself, and his supremacy is helped along by the attitude of the natives. To the tiger are attributed all manner of supernatural powers. It is held that he always knows and tracks down those who offend him; it is believed he can even turn himself into a human being, the better to seek out his enemies.

Oldtime Use of Tobacco.

Not essentially new are any of the modern forms of tobacco using. The leaves wrapped about with corn husk roughly correspond to our civilized cigarette, the leaves rolled without wrapping of another material, to our cigar. The dark-skinned Americans knew the delights of quid, as proved by the testimony of Oviedo that when the Spaniards landed in Paraguay in 1503 the hostile natives came forth "beating drums, throwing water, chewing herbs and spurning the juice toward them."

PROOF POSITIVE

"Are you sure," demanded the lieutenant, "that there was only one girl there when the shell hit the Y hut?"

"Absolutely, sir," replied the corporal. "I counted her over several times."

HELP!

"Gosh, no! How did it happen?"

JOE RYAN

Joe Ryan felt that he just had to be a villain to keep up the natural fitness of things. He was born at the foot of Devil's Tower, in Crook county, Wyo., and he just naturally had to play he was a bad man. That he succeeded is evidenced by the hisses he receives in nearly every city and town in this broad land. But away from Vitagraph's thrilling serials, he is one of the most quiet and likable men in the motion picture world. And to prove it he is being co-starred with Jean Paige in a serial.
