ALLIANCE BRIEFS

"Nanki-Poo," "KoKo," "Pitti-Sing," "Katisha," "Poo-Bah" the three little maids, "Yum-Yum," and all the other well known characters are coming to the Imperial theater, Tuesday, Dec. 14., with Ralph Dunbar's masterly production of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Mikado." You who saw the first appearance of the opera years ago, remember these characters and the hitting, tuneful song hits. The revival of "The Mikado" has been carefully handled and is a most wonderful production. Ed Andrews, long a star in comic opera, heads the cast. He sings the role of "Koko."

FAMOUS MUSICAL COMEDY COMING TO THE IMPERIAL

Japan, that beautiful land of mystery, and of cherry blossoms and almond eyed, raven haired beauties, lends color in more respects than one to "The Mikado," a masterly revival which Ralph Dunbar is responsible for. Everybody that knows anything about theatrical matters and people knows Ralph Dunbar and his productions. Dunbar is likened to the operatic world as is the famous David Belasco to the drama.

"The Mikado," by far the best of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, is coming to the Imperial theater, Tuesday, Dec. 14. The production is one of sunshine and flowers, of wonder voices and generous chorus and it is permeated with romantic chivalry, with plenty of innocent fun and with everything that goes to make up a real comic opera.

Under the hypnotic spell of "The Mikado," with its wealth of gorgeous scenery, its Japanese music, its regal costuming, the twanging of samisens and the mystical electrical effects, you are literally carried to the orient, that marvelous land of sunbeams. And there you are entertained as only a royal Japanese guest could be entertained. Always particular and correct in his productions, Mr. Dunbar has left nothing to the imagination of his audience so far as the casting and mounting of this opera is concerned. "The people saw my 'Chocolate Soldier' and 'Robin Hood' last season and liked them immensely," says Mr. Dunbar. "And they will also like 'The Mikado' and my new revival of 'Carmen.'"

One Minute Store Talk

The confidence of our thousands of friends is reflected in this man's remarks:

"You people are too conservative in quoting comparative prices; from my observations in comparing values around town you're justified in saying $80.00 values at $40 in suits and overcoats. Why, your modest claims of an underpriced campaign is in reality the most sensational value-giving sale that is being held by any store anywhere to my knowledge," said an observing customer.

Intelligent comparison gives us supreme-western clothes selling leadership—VALUES speak for themselves always, and in all ways—
