INCOME TAX INFORMATION

Net Incomes of $1,000.00 or Over if Single and $2,000.00 or Over if Married Must be Reported

Single persons, though required to file a return if their net income for 1920 was $1,000 or more, are, if they are the heads of families, granted a special exemption under the revenue laws. Such a person is defined by treasury regulations as "a person who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation." Such persons are allowed the exemption of $2,000 granted a married person. In addition, they are allowed a credit of $200 for each dependent under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

A married person living with husband and wife can not claim an additional $2,000 exemption as the head of a family. His or her exemption is based upon the marital status, irrespective of the support of others living in the same household. The additional $200 credit for dependents does not apply to the husband or wife of a taxpayer. For example, if a married man supports a father who is incapable of self-support, he is entitled to the $200 credit for such person. If through force of circumstances he supports his wife away from home he is entitled to the $2,000 exemption allowed a married person, but not to a $200 credit for a dependent.

A son who has left home but who sends his mother more than one-half the sum required for her support is entitled to the $200 credit, provided the mother can not support herself. Otherwise, the amount must be considered as a gift, and, therefore, the credit is not allowed. A son living at home and supporting his father, mother, or other relative may claim the $2,000 exemption allowed the head of a family, but not the $200 credit unless such relative is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support.

GLYCERINE MIXTURE PREVENTS APPENDICITIS

Simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, removes all foul, accumulated poisonous matter from BOTH upper and lower bowel and prevents appendicitis. Relieves ANY CASE gas on stomach or constipation. The INSTANT pleasant action of Adler-i-ka surprises both doctors and patients. A business man reports great benefit in a long standing case of indigestion and sour stomach. Harry Thiele, druggist.

AT THE MOVIES

J. Warren Kerrigan, that handsome devil, is the star in tonight's feature at the Imperial, in "The Joyous Liar."

Alice Joyce in "The Sporting Duchess" is the Wednesday attraction. The story deals with the famous Derby race. Douglas, Duke of Desborough, owns Clipstone, the favorite of the hour. He also possesses a charming wife in Muriel. Mostyn, an admirer of the duchess, is owner of The King of Trumps, a second favorite. He succeeds in involving the duke in gambling debts to the extent that Clipstone is auctioned. He also succeeds in estranging the duke and duchess, and the latter, through no fault of her, is divorced. Her heart is broken at the separation from her child, Muriel, with the aid of Streatfield, purchases Clipstone at the auction and enters him at the Derby under Streatfield's colors. Mostyn has placed his entire fortune on The King of Trumps and has no intention of losing. He schemes and cheats in order to throw Clipstone out of the running. Puzzle the rest of it out yourself.

The Thursday bill, "Go and Get It," is the feature of the week, and it's some picture. When a mysterious crime has been committed and the entire city is on its toes for the solution—when riots and bloodshed are raging—when great strikes are pending—it is then that the reporter is called to the city editor's desk and told to "go get it." And—the chances are one hundred to one—he'll get it. He may be the worse for wear upon his return but he'll have the story. And such is the case in the new Neilan picture—Kirk Connelly is told of a series of most mysterious crimes and told to get the story. After a lot of the most fascinating and exciting adventures Connelly not only returns with the story, but he gets the beautiful mystery girl as well.

By special arrangement with the Imperial, any child under sixteen years of age will be admitted to "Go and Get It" at the low admission of 10 cents, provided the dime is accompanied by the coupon clipped from the first page of this newspaper. Without the coupon the price to children will be 15 cents. Clip it out, and use it. If some kid friend of yours doesn't have one, send him around to us and we'll see what can be done.

A community oyster supper and house warming was held at the W. E. Powell home Wednesday night. A very large crowd attended and the evening was enjoyed by all. Card games furnished the chief entertainment for the evening. A delicious lunch was served, consisting of oyster soup, sandwiches, pickles, cake, doughnuts and coffee. The crowd departed at a late hour hoping the ladies of the community club would remember to entertain the families again.

The many friends of Miss Elma Sturevant, our former home demonstrator, will be shocked to hear of the narrow escape she had from a serious accident at her parents' home in Gering, Neb. While washing some clothing in gasoline, on the porch, the gasoline ignited in some mysterious manner through an open door into the house, the flames spreading rapidly. The fire was under control before the house had been damaged much and Miss Sturevant's burns were not serious except her hair which was burned quite badly.

You will enjoy an evening full of hearty laughs and jolly music, when you see "The Minister's Wife's New Bonnet," at the M. E. church, Thursday evening, January 20, at 8 o'clock. 14-15

The Man Who Borrows

The man who borrows gets the habit. And it's a bad habit. The chronic borrower is shunned by his friends, and soon becomes his own worst enemy. The best way to keep from borrowing is to have a savings account at the bank. Then, if you need money, draw it and you are under obligations to no one.

Most men and women make a fizzle of saving, because they put a great deal of thought into earning of money and none at all into the saving of it.
