PERSONALS

Perley I. Beach left for Omaha Sunday night.
Mrs. Cliff Kerr is taking an extended trip through the east.
Mrs. Jay Duncan is expecting her mother from Omaha this week.
Charley Pyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Pyle, is having the measles.
Mrs. James Carmody is visiting her brother, Orville Wright, at Bayard.
Mrs. Gus Appleburg of Scottsbluff, is visiting at the Wm. Neiman home.
Harry Thiele returned Saturday from Denver, where he has been on a business trip.
Elmer Willis returned last week from Beardstown, Ill., where he has been visiting.
Miss Glenn Mounts returned Saturday from Kansas City where she has been visiting relatives.
Mrs. Lillian Coyner returned on 44 Sunday after a two weeks' visit with relatives at Interior, S. D.
Mrs. Iora Lewis, underwent a slight operation at the local hospital Monday. She is doing nicely according to latest report.
John Davis returned from a trip to Kansas City Monday where he attended a convention as delegate for one of the railroad unions.
Mrs. Clifford Horner, of Marsland, underwent an operation at the St. Joseph hospital Saturday morning. She is doing as well as could be expected.

The auction sale of 150 head of live-stock held at the local stock yards last Saturday morning brought out a good crowd, and Auctioneer Harry Coursey was able to persuade them to pay good prices for the stuff. The weather was not very favorable, but some fifty buyers turned out. J. A. Hunter was the largest purchaser, taking almost half of the offerings, but other big buyers were Ray Westervelt, Pat Nolan and Fuller of Bridgeport.

Ex-Soldiers Should Apply Now For Victory Medals

The Victory medal department of the army recruiting office in Omaha is still open, and will continue to be kept open for business. There has been a noticeable falling off of applications since recruiting has been closed. Perhaps the boys are of the impression that Victory medal distribution has also been discontinued, but this is not the case. On the contrary, the station now has more time to give to the distribution of Victory medals and buttons.
It is believed that there are yet about 20,000 boys in the state who have not made applications and we want to diminish that number more than 50 per cent in the next month. If the number of applications continue small, the war department will be apt to close up this department and then the boys will have to send their applications to Washington. This would mean a long delay. Ex-service men may apply through the Red Cross service bureau at the court house.

Custer County Chief Has Some Nice Words For Candidate Hayes

Custer County Chief: Fred Hayes, former business man of Broken Bow, and with as many friends here as ever, stands a good show of becoming a member of the board that will rule Alliance for the coming fiscal year. At the recent primary election held in that city, ten of the candidates receiving the highest votes will make the final race on April 4th. Mr. Hayes is among the number and his name stands fourth on the list. When he lived in Broken Bow Fred had the reputation of getting what he went after and the present case will probably prove no exception to the rule. In speaking of this particular candidate the Alliance Herald says: "F. W. Hayes, whose only disadvantage is that he is not so well known in the community as some of the other candidates, showed a tremendous support. Hayes is the candidate shoved forward by the firemen, and they managed to support him pretty solidly."

A union choir rehearsal of the Methodist and Presbyterian choirs has been postponed from Thursday to Saturday at 7:30 at the Methodist church. Hostesses are the Misses Edna Benedict, Rose Merk and Mable Sward. Special music for Bishop Stuntz's visit will be prepared. 35-36p

AT THE CHURCHES

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Quite a number are on the sick list. Let us who are well not forget to visit the sick and minister to the needy. The pastor has bought coal and provisions for several families but our relief fund is getting rather low. A pair of shoes for an eight-year-old girl would be appreciated at present, also clothing for both boys and girls could be placed by the pastor where they would do much good. Let those of us who have employment not forget that there are several hundred men out of work in Alliance, and now that the Salvation Army has been ordered to drop the work here the churches must do at least twice the work they have been doing in the past. Pure religion and undefiled is to feed the hungry, cloth the naked, and visit the sick and look after the widows and orphans, when the churches make their religion practical the community will respond. As long as our services are but occasion to meet for some "Mutual Delight society," the churches miss their end in life.
The pastor will preach at the Army hall Thursday and the boy singer will sing. Let us turn out in large numbers. The most shameful thing that has happened in Alliance is the failure of the community to keep faith with the Salvation Army people. These folks came here by invitation and therefore their leaving because of the non-support of the community that invited them will always be a blot on the community.
Services are coming along nicely, forty-nine have come forward at the regular services the last two months. More have promised to join soon; some are awaiting for their letter. Don't forget the prayer meeting Wednesday.

METHODIST CHURCH

The two weeks' revival meetings closed Sunday night when a full house was present to enjoy the fine music given by the choir with the illuminated cross as the only light in the building. A number of selections of Easter music were given which were highly appreciated by the congregation. Rev. Mr. Butler gave his closing message and took occasion to thank the congregation and especially the choir for their loyal support and spoke of the pleasure it had given him to work among us for the two weeks.
The meetings closed with a good spirit, and we feel that they have been successful in deepening the spiritual life of the church. Twenty-eight members were received during the day; fourteen by letter and fourteen by profession of faith. Those received by letter were: Mrs. Belle Best, Mildred Best, Thomas Deering, Mrs. Thomas Deering, Mrs. Robert Marshall, R. M. Garwood, John Haslow, Mrs. John Haslow, Henry Hopkins, Mrs. Henry Hopkins, Mrs. C. L. Finch, Mrs. Joanna Lester, and Mrs.

Susie Reid.
Those received by profession of faith were: Janet Deering, Edward Fivecoate, Ward Joder, Clifford Lester, Wayne Reid, Maggie Marshall, June Marshall, William Irish, Edwin Miller, Helen Fenning, Beth Moore, Opal Zink, Margaret Hopkins, and Ruth Hopkins.
Next Sunday will be a banner day with us, it being the occasion of the visit of Bishop Homer C. Stuntz, who will be with us both morning and evening. MERLE C. SMITH, Pastor.

Draft Evaders' Names Are to be Published April 1

The final list of draft evaders will be made public about April 1, according to latest reports from Washington, where the final results are now being tabulated by the adjutant general's office. The war department will give the list to newspapers, to city, state and federal police authorities and to the American Legion. Secretary of War Weeks also plans to ask congress for funds to pay a fifty dollar reward to any person who delivers a deserter from the draft.
The list, which was originally reported to contain nearly 490,000 names has been reduced to approximately 150,000. Since many of these names are of men who served during the war but whose records are incomplete for some reason, Adjutant General Harris has asked that any persons who have reason to believe that they will be charged with evading the draft, communicate all the facts of the case to him without delay.

DR. BOWMAN—office in First National Bank Building. 8th

A rumor from Casper, Wyo., was current in Alliance this morning to the effect that Dr. J. A. Jeffrey had again had a run-in with the authorities, the difficulty being another phase of the same old opposition to chiropractors in Wyoming. Maybe the doc will be willing some of these days to follow the suggestion in last Friday's Herald that he return to Alliance to make his home and help make the golf course the best in the west.

Alliance lodge No. 961, B. P. O. E., will hold its annual installation of officers next Friday evening. There will be no special program, aside from the installation ceremonies. The following officers will be installed: Exalted ruler, H. O. Condit; esteemed leading knight, Earl Meyer; esteemed loyal knight, E. O. Strand; esteemed lecturing knight, E. M. Burr; secretary, Percy Cogswell; treasurer, Frank Abegg; treasurer, A. V. Gavin.
